It's Home Stretch for Valley's Prep Basketball Circuits

In the homestretch and in some cases all but at the end of regular schedules, valley prep leagues swing into another round of play tonight.

Only action in the Big Six loop sees Salem at Corvallis, where the Viks will be out to keep their circuit mark untarnished.

In the hot Willamette Valley league race the Mt. Angel Preps, who grabbed a hair-line 31-30 decision over Dallas Friday, remain atop the standings with eight wins and one setback. They'll travel to Canby tonight where they should get by a club which has but one win. Second-place Molalla, 1½ games back of the Preps, plays at Silverton, third-place Dallas is at Sandy and Woodburn (three wins, five losses) journeys to meet Estacada's fourth-place Rangers.

In the Marion-Polk loop the top-spot Sacred Heart Academy Cardinals, who suffered their initial league loss to Salem Bible Friday, play host to the Independence Hopsters who have a 3-3 mark. Salem Bible travels to meet Stayton's Eagles while Monmouth hosts Valsetz in a non-leaguer.

In the weather-jumbled Marion County B loops the Gervais Lions can clinch the Northern division title tonight if they top Jefferson on the Gervais floor. Other Northern division tilts put St. Paul at Chemawa and Deaf School against the Salem high Sophs on the Salem boards.

In the mixed-up Southern division whose regular sched is completed, three teams — Mill City, Aumsville and Sublimity are tied at the top. If the three-way knot continues to exist after several makeup games this week a playoff will be necessary. Mill City plays a makeup at Detroit tonight.

Hauk Quintet After 7th Loop Win in Row

Salem high's hoop Vikings, boasting a hot season's record and an absolutely sizzling one in Big Six league competition, go after their seventh straight loop victory tonight at Corvallis.

Following tonight's tilt the Harold Hauk gang has three Big Six games left on the sched plus a couple of non-league encounters before the district tourney The locals boast 16 wins in 19 outings thus far.

Corvallis currently reposes in third place in the league standings with four wins and three setbacks. The Viks earlier decisioned 'em, 35-29, on the SHS floor.

Jim Rock and Doug Rogers, the demon backboard boys, will again hold forth at the front positions and Captain Daryl Girod and little Larry Chamberlain will be at the guard spots.

The Spartans will open with Jim Babcock and Don Taylor in front, Larry Strand at center and Von Summers and Don Newton at the guards.

The school's JV teams will clash in the prelim.

He had served in a similar capacity at Harvard the past two seasons. Official announcement of Valpey's appointment was made this afternoon by President Albert N. Jorgensen.

Trout-Calvert Deal Said Near

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 –(AP)– Completion of a trade which would bring Pitcher Paul (Dizzy) Trout to the Washington Senators in exchange for Hurler Paul Calvert awaited only the approval of Detroit Manager Red Rolfe late today. Vice Presihent Calvin Griffith of the Senators told a reporter that the Senators had offered to trade and that General Manager Billy Evans of the Tigers has approved the deal.

They'll Show on 'Dimes' Card

In addition to ten action-promising bouts, one of the stellar attractions on Wednesday night's armory amateur ring "March of Dimes" benefit will be the appearance of the widely popular Portland PAL club acrobatic act (above) under directorship of Mickey Pease. Shown, left to right, are Pease, Gene Dunn, Blondie Stanley, Johnny Rokstad and Charles White. The troupe will feature trampoline acts this time. Wednesday eve's card, starting at 8:30, is under sponsorship of the American Legion. Tickets at four-bits per can be obtained at Maples or Barb's sports stores.

Grapplers After Title Shot, Tourney Tonight

A torrid time is in store for mat fans tonight at the armory as Matchmaker Elton Owen stages an eight-man elimination tourney in which six eager and talented grapplers will be out to win the big prize — a crack at Al Szasz and his Coast junior heavyweight crown.

AL SZASZ

The six particular participants — all of 'em — have been pleading with Owen for a title chance so the opportunity comes tonight. The victor will have thoroughly earned a shot at Szasz.

Seven matches are on tap with drawings to be held at 8:30 to determine pairings. Each match will go one f'll or 15 minutes. Three judges will be picked from among the fans to render a decision where no falls are gained.

The Great Atlas, one of the most vociferous in demanding a crack at Szasz, will be raring to win the chance. And there'll be Frank Stojack, the ex-Coast champ, with a fierce desire to regain the belt. Other title-minded muscle-manglers set for tourney action are Leo Wallick, George Dusette, Tough Tony Ross (in top trim after his recent fracas with the bear), and Lee Grable (the gent with a flair for roughing it). They are the grapplers who'll be in the running for a title match. Filling out the cast of the show will be a couple of youngsters out to up their prestige. One is Arnie Skalland, Norwegian scientific mat-maneuverer and the other is Dale Kiser who's getting better at the trade every time out.

Owen has also set up a handsome trophy for the tourney winner.

There will be no raise in admission for the card.

Seven Quints After Title

District AAU Hoop Meet Opens Tonight

Seven independent quints, eyes on a possible berth in the coming State AAU meet, launch district 6 action on the Leslie boards tonight. The tourney, under the direction of Vern Gilmore, district AAU commissioner, is a single elimination go. After tonight's first-rounder there will be second-round frays this Thursday eve followed by the finals mix next Tuesday night.

The Page Woolens, big favorites to walk off with the district crown, open proceedings tonight as they collide with the Capitol Posts at 7 o'clock. Both clubs are in the City league's American division and the Wools, endowed with fresh talent this year including the heralded Johnson brothers of Willamette fame, will be favored to win.

At 8:15 the West Salem Merchants meet the Page Karakul Karpet quint, a brother team of the Wools. At 9:30 tonight it'll be Burroughs Inn against the Naval Reserves, first-half champs of the City league's National division and figured as the club which may give the Wools the most trouble. The Aumsville Fire Department team draws a first-round bye.

The tourney is admission-free, being a part of the City Recreational program.

WU Hoopsters Want Revenge

Wolves Stopped 'Em Earlier in Season

Johnny Lewis' Willamette Bearcats, sitting on top of the Northwest Conference standings by a comfortable game-and-a-half margin, tonight play host to Bob Knox' OCE Wolves in a non-league encounter set for 8 o'clock.

The 'Cats had a close squeak in getting over the second-place Pacific Badgers at Forest Grove Saturday night after building an early and huge lead.

Added attraction at tonight's Willamette-OCE game will be a half time badminton exhibition for the WU faculty title. On one team will be Dr. George B. Martin and Maurice Brennen. They will oppose Dr. Egbert Oliver and Dr. Chester Luther.

The 'Cats will have a revenge motive tonight. The OCE's knocked 'em over early this season.

The Wolves tonight will be seeing their first action in more than a week. Bad weather postponed the pair of games they had scheduled with SOCE's Oregon Collegiate Conference-leading at Ashland over the weekend. The Knox gang currently holds a record of seven wins, seven losses for the campaign.

Lewis will likely start tonight with Ted Loder and Dick Brouwer at the forwards, Doug Logue at center, and Lou Scrivens and Jack Evans or Hugh Bellinger at the back-court spots.

OCE's main scoring threat is Forward Herrall Smith. He'll team with Marv Hiebert at the forwards. Hal Pitcher will be at center and Chet Hogan and Chuck Humble will hold down the guard spots.

A clash between the two schools' Jayvee clubs will preceed the varsity mix.

The WU gang's next conference fray is at Linfield Friday night.

Eriksson Nabs Marathon Run

Sweden Team Leader, Finns 2nd, US 3rd

By Harold Claassen

RUMFORD, Me., Feb. 6 –(AP)– Gunnar Eriksson, never a champion in his native Sweden, became the World Ski Marathon titleholder today.

The dark haired Swede, who stopped six times for a drink of warm water and honey, raced through the 50 kilometers (31 miles) in an unofficial time of 2 hours, 59 minutes and five seconds as he and his countrymen swept the first four places.

The marathon, raced in 10 degree temperature over a hard course, completed the Nordic phase of the World championships sponsored by the Federation Internationale de Ski.

The Alpine events, downhill and slalom racing, will be decided at Aspen, Colo., starting a week from today.

Only individual titles are determined in FIS meets, but if a team title were decided on a 10-6-4-3-2-1 basis for the first six places the unofficial laurels would go to the Swedes, 57 to Norway's 42½. Finland would be third with 23.

In eight years of trying prior to today the best Eriksson ever had done in the 50 kilometer was a second. But he had finished third in the 1948 Olympic 18 kilometer (11 mile race) and also had helped Sweden win the Olympic relay.

He kept out of the World Relay race, which Sweden won yesterday, to be fresh for his individual assault today.

In the unofficial team standings the United States followed Finland with three and a half points. France came next with three and Canada completed the scoring with one. Yugoslavia, Switzerland, Denmark and Austria were shut out.

Champ Willie Tops Andrews

BOSTON, Feb. 6–(AP)–Featherweight Champion Willie Pep of Hartford, Conn., scored a knockdown with each hand while outpointing aggressive Roy Andrews of Lowell, in their 10-round nontitle boxing bout tonight before a 7,259 crowd at the Boston Garden.

The stylish Hartford veteran, who coasted during most of the second half of the battling, first dropped Andrews for a nine-count with a straight left to the face early in the second session.

And just as that round closed, Pep followed two lefts and a right with a bone-crushing right upper cut that made Andrews topple over backwards.

Cardinals Host Hopster Five

Sacred Heart Academy's Cardinals, leading the Marion-Polk league race with three wins and one loss, play host tonight to the Independence Hopsters. The tilt is set for the St. Joseph's floor at 8 o'clock. A 7 o'clock prelim will feature the schools' JV clubs.

Starting lineup for the Cards will be Rich Staudinger and Clark Ecker at forwards, Jim Colleran at center, and Jerry Weger and Terry Cooney in the guard spots.

Sacred Heart earlier topped Independence, 45-34.

Senators Buy Third-Sacker

Another step in the building of the 1950 Salem Senator club was made Monday when Business Manager George Emigh announced purchase of Bob Haddock, 24-year-old hard-hitting third-baseman from the Pittsburgh club of the Far West league.

Haddock, a hight-handed hitter, swatted .281 for the Pitts last season and had a snappy 104 runs batted in. He rapped 31 doubles, four triples and 11 homers.

Ronzani Gets Packer Berth

GREEN BAY, Wis., Feb. 6–(AP)– The first new coach in 31 years signed a three-year contract today with the Green Bay Packers.

He's Gene (Tuffy) Ronzani, one-time Marquette university and Chicago Bears backfield star, who replaces Earl L. (Curly) Lambeau, the only coach the Packers' ever had until his resignation six days ago to become vice-president and head coach of the Chicago Cardinals.

Ronzani has been quarterback coach of the Bears for three years and in the Bears' organization since 1933, when he was graduated as a nine letterman from Marquette. His only previous head coaching experience was with Bears' farm teams at Newark, N. J., and Akron, O.

ART FLETCHER
Heart Attack Fatal

Fletcher, Yank Figure, Dies

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 6–(AP)–Art Fletcher, 65, third base coach of the New York Yankees during the Babe Ruth-Lou Gehrig era, fell dead on the street here tonight. Doctors at Emergency hospital said he suffered a heart attack. Fletcher broke into major league ball in 1908 and played shortstop under the late John McGraw before the Giants and 10 as a coach fore becoming a Yankee coach. He retired in 1945.

Fletcher participated in 14 world series—four as a shortstop for the Yankees. In 1927, he joined the Yankee coaching staff under the leadership of the late Miller Huggins. He was regarded as one of the sharpest wits ever to enter a coaching box.

Cougars' Loop Lead Jumped

Webfoots Blow Early Margin; 2nd Tonight

PULLMAN, Wash., Feb. 6 –(AP)– The Washington State Cougars rallied for seven points in the last two minutes of a basketball game tonight to nip the Oregon Ducks 52 to 51.

The teams play again tomorrow night.

Coach John Warren's Ducks held a comfortable margin over the Cougars until the final minutes of the game. They were ahead 51 to 45 with 2½ minutes to go. Then the Washington Staters let loose with a furious barrage of shots. They tried 'em all — short shots and fielders from way out, push shots, hooks, lay-ins — and they couldn't miss.

When they had racked up the final score of 52 to 51, one minute of the game remained.

The first half of the game was comparatively slow, with the WSC men sinking only four field goals. The halftime whistle saw Oregon leading 26 to 17.

The two teams matched baskets for a while after the start of the second half, but then Jack Friel's Cougars, paced by Ed Gayda, got hot. They whittled the lead to 36 to 32 after 8½ minutes.

The referees called 41 fouls tonight — 22 on WSC, 10 on Oregon. Forward Ed Gayda potted 16 to lead all scorers. He made all his counters during the second half. Mel Krause, Oregon guard, notched 14 to lead the Ducks.
