Eggs Start Up Price Ladder At Portland

By Lillie L. Madsen
Farm Editor, The Statesman

Oregon, with the market centered at Portland, was the first major coast market to start the seasonal upward trend in egg prices the USDA reported Friday. Here prices have advanced steadily since mid-May. At the jobbing level both medium and large eggs have advanced 3 to 5 cents a dozen. At other coast markets large eggs have advanced, but medium and small eggs are unchanged to lower during the past month. During this week, grade double A large eggs have been 48 cents a dozen to retailers at Portland and Seattle. At the wholesale markets on the west coast Portland has advanced 3 cents a dozen on grade A large eggs.

Eastward egg markets were reported firm Friday. Prices have fluctuated a little during the past month but the trend, reports of the USDA showed Friday, is upward.

On the other hand, live poultry prices at Portland have dipped to lower levels compared to a month ago. Heavy fryers, roasters and heavy hens have all dropped around 3 to 4 cents a pound.

The Oregon farm price for eggs and poultry continued to drop to mid-May while turkeys strengthened during this same period, although commodities are all under a year ago.

Egg prices to Oregon farmers dropped sharply during the past year. At mid-May, producers received less than any time since July 1944. The May price was 12 cents a dozen under a year ago.

Chicken prices to Oregon producers have been declining each month since March but in mid-May were still a cent above the low time this past year during December and January. However, compared to a year ago at mid-May, chickens averaged six cents a pound less.

Eggs, chickens and turkeys in Oregon continue to be the farm commodities which have dropped more than any other of the major farm commodities during the 10 year average. Turkeys continue less than the previous 10 year average, eggs average about the same as the previous 10 year average, and chickens have declined to where the average price to Oregon growers is just 10 per cent above the past 10 year average. Meat animals average from 55 to 111 per cent above the previous 10 year average price in Oregon, and grains are still up from 28 to 79 per cent above the average.

State Prepares Flood Crisis Proclamations

Proclamations covering any flood emergency that may occur in Oregon, due to cresting of the Columbia river in the Portland-Vancouver area, were prepared by Gov. Douglas McKay before he left for the governor's convention in Virginia recently, Thomas Lawson McCall, administrative officer for the executive department announced Friday.

These will be signed and implemented by Acting Governor William Walsh of Coos Bay, McCall said, should the need arise. Walsh is serving as governor during the absence of Governor McKay from the state.

Louis E. Starr, Portland, state director of civil defense, advised the governor's office Friday that the Columbia river would crest at not more than 23.6 feet. Starr added that his organization was ready to act on short notice in event its services were required.

Stock Market Trading Drops

NEW YORK, June 16 —(AP)— Stock traders didn't do much more than go through the motions today.

Trading volume dropped to one of the lowest figures for the year. The great majority of price changes were fractional and gains and losses were almost evenly matched.

At no time during the day was price action decisive. Investors and speculators, in short, saw nothing in the news or the market to get excited about.

Some traders had corporation taxes on their minds, others the weekend, and some the market's sharp drop of Tuesday and Wednesday.

Sales fell off to only 1,180,000 shares from 1,530,000 Thursday and were the smallest since May 29.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks remained at 78.6 A gain in the industrial group was offset by small declines in the rail and utilities divisions.

Grain Market Wheat Strong

CHICAGO, June 16—(AP)—Small but steady buyng of wheat sent that grain up for gains of a couple of cents today. The rest of the market could not match wheat's strength.

Wheat finished 1¾-2⅞ higher, corn 1¼ lower to ⅛ higher, oats ¾-1¼ higher, soybeans ¾-1½ higher and lard 10 to 18 cents a hundred pounds higher.
