Short Weight Bread Reports 'No Concern'

Reports of short weight bread in Oregon markets should not cause undue concern, J. F. Short, director of the state agricultural department, said here Friday.

"The bakery law is very specific," Short said, "and is being complied quite generally throughout the state." He added that the law is being enforced by his department.

Short said the current law, requested by the bakery industry and enacted by the 1953 legislature, protects the consumer against short weights and the industry against unfair economic competition. He explained that the law permits a range between 15 and 17 ounces for the standard loaf and between 22½ and 25½ ounces for the large loaf—without provision for tolerance or average.

Luncheon Honors State Employe

Miss Mabel Lindquist, state employe since 1922, was honored Friday by her fellow workers in the State Industrial Accident Commission with a luncheon and a gift prior to her retirement.

Miss Lindquist came to the Salem area from Wisconsin in 1913 and has resided here since that time.

She plans to pursue her hobby of gardening and will take several brief trips.

Promoted

Col. Frederick L. Wiegand, Portland, whose promotion to brigadier general in the Oregon National Guard was announced Friday by Gov. Paul Patterson. Gen. Wiegand is slated to become assistant commander of the 41st division on July 31.

New General Joins Rank of State Guard

Col. Frederick L. Wiegand, Portland, has been promoted to the rank of brigadier general in the Oregon National Guard, it was announced Friday by Gov. Paul Patterson.

Gen. Wiegand, chief of staff of the famed 41st Infantry Division, is slated to become assistant division commander upon the retirement of the present commander, Major Gen. Harold G. Maison, Salem, on July 31.

The shift in command is occasioned by an agreement between the states of Oregon and Washington which rotates the command of the division between the two states every four years. Gen. Maison, commander of the division since 1951, will be replaced by Brig. Gen. George S. Cook, Seattle, the present assistant commander.

Oregon's new one-star general has military service spanning more than 40 years in the Oregon National Guard. Gen. Wiegand is a veteran of the Mexican Border Campaign and both World Wars. During World War II, he was a lieutenant colonel overseas with the 41st and participated in the rugged jungle and island campaigns.

In civilian life, Wiegand is an employe of the State Department of Veterans Affairs.

Condemnation Suit Settled

A condemnation suit brough by the State Highway Department against Roy M. and Salome A. Smith and Addie A. Park was decided in favor of the state late Friday afternoon by a Marion County Circuit Court jury.

The jury awarded the defendants $3,000 plus interest since January 11 on property south of Salem in the Sunnyside-Illahe area. The department had offered $2,356, but the Smiths had requested $12,500.

The case was heard for three days before Judge Val D. Sloper.

Salem, State To Entertain Travel Editors

Travel editors of three major U. S. newspapers will be feted Monday by city and state officials at a luncheon at the Marion Hotel at 12:15 p.m.

The luncheon will be among features of a schedule that will take the visitors on a whirlwind tour of the state under direction of Carl Jordan, director of the State Highway Department Travel Bureau. The luncheon will be staged by the Salem Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the travel bureau.

Guest travel editors will be Miss Joy Swift, Denver Post; Mrs. Jean Simmons, Dallas (Texas) News; and H. W. Kusserow, San Francisco News. A fourth editor slated to take part in the tour, Robert Houston, Omaha World Herald, wired Jordan Friday that he would be unable to participate.

The tour, arranged by the Pacific Northwest Travel Association, is designed to show the visitors the best Oregon has to offer in scenic attractions.

Hosts for the luncheon will include the Chamber of Commerce executive committee; Chamber President Elton Thompson; William Healy, assistant secretary of state; City Manager J. L. Franzen; and Jordan and assistant travel director Eric Bergman. Members of press and radio have been invited.

The guest editors will be conducted on a tour of the Capitol building prior to the luncheon. During their tour of the state, they will see such attractions as Crater Lake, the Oregon Caves, the Ashland Shakespearean Festival, Mt. Hood, the Oregon coast and the Columbia River highway.

Mary Fox, Former Salem Woman, Dies

Mrs. Mary A. Fox, 69, Salem-area resident in her girlhood and in later years, died Thursday in Portland where she had been living since 1942.

She was the widow of the late Dr. Merle C. Fox, a graduate of Willamette University medical school and a medical practitioner in Lakeview, Portland and Coos Bay where he died in 1936.

Mrs. Fox was born Sept. 3, 1885 in Lima, Ohio, to Mr. and Mrs. Louie P. Lardon who shortly thereafter moved to the Pratum area on Salem Route 6. She became a graduate nurse at Salem General Hospital, later married Dr. Fox and left here for Lakeview and later Portland.

Upon the doctor's death she returned to live with her father until his 1942 death and since then had lived in Jennings Lodge with her daughter, Mrs. Barry Lindquist.

Besides the daughter she leaves a son, Milton M. Fox, Brightwood; a sister, Mrs. O. T. Beutler, Pratum; two brothers, Paul A. Lardon, Salem, and Noah Lardon, Los Angeles; five grandchildren.

Services will be 2 p.m. Monday at the Clough-Barrick chapel, where the Rev. F. Durdle of Oak Grove will officiate. Burial will be at Pratum.

'Wrong Way' Traffic Baffles Salem Youth on French Trip

(Bob Wilder, son of Mrs. Thelma Wilder of Salem, is the Statesman's designated correspondent while he is on a tour to Europe with other Northwest YMCA members. The boys, including three from Salem, are to attend a worldwide YMCA conference in Paris, Aug. 12 to 26. They are traveling on board the British liner, the Orsova).

By BOB WILDER

HEIDELBERG, Germany — A new World unfolded on July 12 to the Pacific Northwest YMCA delegation. Mixed emotion flooded the "Orsova" as she sailed into Cherburg, France. After 22 days at sea the delegators were more than happy to set foot on soil again. Also to the delegation it meant the beginning of a new link in their travels.

One of the first strange feelings was the sight of cars running down the wrong side of the road and the second was the sight of ruins of buildings left from the last war. We learned later that Cherburg was one of Hitler's biggest submarine bases.

Famous Sights

After the trip through the English Channel the delegation came to the end of their cruise at Tilbury, England. An education met us as soon as we stepped off the ship into the customs. The delegation went through customs without any trouble, but not all were as fortunate. Our trip from Tilbury to London by train was spent looking at many famous sights as they unfolded in front of us. Ruins of buildings met us again but this time in London. We were all surprised at the rubble that still is left from the famous "London Blitz." After a short night sleep at the Croyden YMCA, we started our three day tour of London. The first day was spent looking at Old Baily, Buckingham Palace, St. Paul's Cathedral, Trafalgar square, Piccadilly circus and a tour of the city.

Shakespeare Land

The second day we traveled out through Shakespeare's country. Our first stop was at Oxford where we looked over the famous university. Then we went on to Stratford-on-Avon where Shakespeare was born. The biggest shock of the day for all of us was that we learned that it is believed that Shakespeare did not do the writing. A professor at Oxford U. has been studying up on the idea for fourteen years and the theory is that Marlo who was exiled did the writing and sent his stories to Shakespeare for publication and Shakespeare took the glory.

Royal Jewels

On Saturday the third day of our tour we saw the royal jewels "at the London Tower" and the changing of the guard. The highlight of the day was the tour at Westminister Abbey, we saw the place and the throne where Queen Elizabeth was crowned.

The tomb of George Williams, the founder of the YMCA was viewed in the crypt at St. Pauls. Beneath his statue was inscribed his words "My last legacy, and it is a precious one, is the Young Mens Christian Association. I leave it to you beloved young men of many countries to carry on and to extend." He was given many thanks from all of us, because of him we are on this trip of a life time.

The majority of the delegation decided that England was colorless and very drab.

Youth Prowls WAC Rooms In California

A 14-year-old Salem boy, apprehended while prowling WAC personnel quarters at the Presidio near San Francisco, was turned over to Marion County juvenile authorities Friday.

He was returned by a deputy U. S. marshal from the California city. The boy, a ward of the county, was sent to stay with a sister in San Francisco after he was involved in several break-ins at North Salem High School and at a downtown cutlery store.

A WAC officer, who discovered him in their quarters, reported to police that the boy had searched desks and dresser drawers, rearranged clothing in a closet and placed several ash trays in the wash basin in rooms he entered. Nothing was taken.

The boy is being held in county juvenile detention quarters pending a hearing next week before Circuit Judge Joseph B. Felton.
