Flood Invades Texas Oilfields

DALLAS, Tex., April 30 (AP)—The upper Sabine River, choked with flood waters at record-breaking depth, left its banks at Gladewater in the east Texas oil field tonight.

Eleven families were evacuated from their homes. Oil companies stopped pumping from wells.

The Sabine River was at 29.8 feet, 13.8 feet above flood stage and rising half an inch per hour. The river is expected to crest Thursday or Friday at 41 feet, a foot above the highest depth ever recorded at Gladewater.

Two small tornadoes and numerous thunderstorms were spawned by a squall line stretching from Tyler south to Beaumont on the gulf of Mexico, adding water to swollen streams in the area.

One tornado unroofed a store at Pittsburg, a small town six miles south of Gilmer in northeast Texas. The other, near Woodville, did no damage.

Into Towns and Cities

Meanwhile, weary men patrolled river levees and stacked sandbags as swollen streams spread over croplands and into towns and cities.

Torrent waters on the Sabine held the damage to minor flooding in most places. But residents of downstream towns remained alert, ready to flee the threatening river.

Aside from the Gladewater area, it appeared to be on the lower reaches of the Sabine, Trinity, Brazos, Colorado, Nueces and Guadalupe and on four bayous around Houston.

Potential Danger Spots

Reading from west to east, these were the potential danger spots: Three Rivers on the Colorado, Freeport and the Navasota area on the Brazos, Liberty on the Trinity and Deweyville on the Sabine.

The floods, which began with heavy downpours April 18, brought strange contrasts after seven searing years of drought.

In lowland areas, farmers helplessly watched as their crops were ruined for the eighth year—this time by floods. Their cattle drowned and floated downriver. Little children and their parents huddled in flood relief shelters.

In upland areas or sections not touched by damaging floods, farmers and ranchers rejoiced at greening fields and pastures.

Men controlling the gates on Texas lakes had these choices:

Keep the lake gates closed and flood upstream areas and possibly damage their dams.

Open the lakes and add more misery to the plight of downstream dwellers.

10,000 Leukemia Cases Blamed on Atom Bomb Tests

CHICAGO, April 30 (AP)—A Nobel Prize-winning scientist estimated today that 10,000 persons are dead or dying of leukemia around the world because of the atomic or hydrogen bomb tests carried out to date.

Dr. Linus Pauling, a chemist at the California Institute of Technology, said if Great Britain carries out her scheduled H-bomb tests on Christmas Island in the Pacific, another 1,000 will die of leukemia. He asked all testing stop.

Pauling said however that the damage caused by radioactive fallout of tests to date is only about 1 per cent of that caused by cosmic rays which bombard the earth from outer space.

The truck sheared off the utility pole and overturned.

Hussein Says Crisis Over

AMMAN, Jordan, April 30 (AP)—King Hussein announced today "The crisis in Jordan is ended."

The 21-year-old monarch apparently feeling himself in firm control after three weeks of touch-and-go tension which threatened the peace of the whole Middle East, rejected a Soviet complaint that the United States was interfering in Jordan affairs.

He told a crowded news conference Jordan is not interested in the Eisenhower Doctrine, which aims to defend the Middle East from Communist aggression.

But if it is a matter of combating communism, this we are doing," he said.

The danger was not over, despite the surface calm. Military law remained in effect in this nervous kingdom, target for heavy propaganda attacks from Egypt, Syria and the Soviet Union.

Fifty other ships, including the super carrier Forrestal, which were sent to the eastern Mediterranean to exert a calming influence in the Middle East, conducted air defense maneuvers just over the horizon. Jet pilots flying at high altitude could easily see Jordan, though they did not cross over King Hussein's realm.

The Marines and sailors went ashore just after payday. The Lebanese population, smiling and friendly, gave them a warm welcome.

The visit had been cleared by the U. S. State Department with Lebanon's government.
