Scottish Boy Pulls Plug On Reservoir

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, Aug. 22 (AP)—Thrifty Scots received with mixed emotions today the story of a 12-year-old lad who accidentally pulled a plug and drained 150,000 gallons of water from a public reservoir.

They chuckled at his exploit but clucked at the waste of the public's water supply.

The boy charged with malicious mischief told Magistrate Miss J. L. Moir that he had gone tadpole fishing in the nearby Ribbon Field Reservoir. On the outside, near the base of the reservoir he saw an interesting plug.

"I pulled it," said the boy.

"What happened?" asked the magistrate.

"Water, gallons of it," said the tadpole hunter.

It was a foolish and dangerous thing to do," said the magistrate—and dismissed the case.

Portland Woman In Vice Probe Admits Burglary

PORTLAND, Aug. 22 (AP) — Mrs. Lucille Weeks, a figure in Portland's vice investigation, pleaded guilty today to a charge of burglary and was placed on probation for two years.

Mrs. Weeks and Mary Childress were indicted on a charge of burglary at the home of Raymond Clark, an employe of Portland gambler James B. Elkins.

Mrs. Weeks previously pleaded not guilty.

Cat Leading Dog's Life In Hospital

PORTLAND, Aug. 22 (AP) — A Greek cat named Adam is leading a dog's life these days lounging around an animal hospital waiting for someone to pay his $350 bill.

Several months ago Adam was purchased by a college student from the animal pound here for $1. Shortly afterward, the cat broke a leg when he fell from the fourth floor of a building.

The cat was taken to the hospital. The bills started to mount. When they reached $86 the cat's owner said he would have to wait a few days to make up his mind.

Then he said that if he paid the bill, he couldn't afford to go back to college. He picked college.

The bill now has mounted to $350. The animal hospital said no one so far has offered to buy the cat. The hospital said it was willing to cut the bill sharply.

Illinois Entry Victor in Moose Drill Competition

SPOKANE, Aug. 22 (AP) — The Mattoon, Ill., lodge was named winner today of the national Moose drill team competition at the order's 69th annual convention here.

The Spokane entry was second, Loon Lake, Wash., third. Bowness-Montgomery of Alberta, Canada, fourth and Kokomo, Ind., fifth. Mattoon also won last year.

Lloyd Sparks of Mattoon won the top individual award in the ritual competition.

The Women of Moose presented a $50,000 check raised to benefit Mooseheart, Ill., the lodge's "child city." The convention ends tonight.

Mrs. John Glasheen of Whiting, Ind., was elected grand regent today to head the Women of Moose.

Man Rescues Wrong Cat

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 22 (AP)—A cat belonging to Peter Nicholas, warden of the St. Louis Workhouse, was missing, and he appealed to the Humane Society of Missouri for help.

Field Officer Lonzo J. Roberts of the society really tried.

He was lowered 300 feet by a rope into the workhouse rock quarry yesterday.

Poking around a ledge while hanging in the air, Roberts hit a bees' nest. He was stung four times.

Finally he saw a cat on the other side of the quarry. Roberts stripped to his shorts, swam 150 feet across a flooded section of the quarry, and floated the animal to safety on a log.

But it wasn't the warden's cat.

Gambler's Body Found In Car Trunk

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 21 (AP) — Nick Miller, 46-year-old Wheeling, W. Va., cafe operator and ex-convict was found dead in the trunk of his $6,000 convertible today.

The auto was parked on a quiet residential street in suburban Wilkinsburg.

Coroner William D. McClelland announced late tonight about seven hours after the body was found, that it had been identified as that of Miller. He at one time went under the name of Nick Vosovick.

Badly Decomposed

The body was badly decomposed and the cause of death could not be determined. McClelland ordered an autopsy to determine if Miller had been shot.

McClelland said it was possible that Miller had been dead since last Sunday.

Miller had a long string of arrests and had served terms in Ohio and West Virginia penal institutions. He had been missing since last Saturday.

A mailman, who had seen the luxurious 1957 Lincoln convertible notified police after he saw swarms of flies in the car. Miller was wearing only a pair of shorts.

Near Pittsburgh

It was found by Robert Frederick, 34, on a tree-shaded lane in the 700 block of Coal St., Wilkinsburg—a city of churches—about 10 miles east of Pittsburgh.

Frederick said, "I knew the car had been parked there for three or four days but didn't pay any attention. But something struck me funny today. There must have been at least a thousand flies all over the inside of the windshield.

There was a terrible smell. I opened the door and knew something was dead."

Boy Saved From Canada Mine, Companion Sought

TIMMINS, Ont., Aug. 22 (AP) — Workers tonight freed a 14-year-old boy from a ledge at the 200-foot level of an abandoned gold mine. Then they turned their efforts to seeking his companion who was feared to have plunged to the bottom of the 1400-foot shaft.

The two boys tumbled into the shaft while playing at the old mine site.

Brought To Surface

Ronnie Blakemore was brought to the surface by a mine rescue crew. He had been visible from the mouth of the shaft.

His companion, Bonar Scholes, 18, could not be seen from the surface at the old Vipond mine and it was believed he had fallen to a much lower level. The mine is halfway between Timmins and nearby Schumacher.

Blakemore was buried up to his waist in dirt that followed him down the shaft when part of its planking cover gave way under the boys' weight.

Lowered By Rope

A rope was passed around Blakemore's body to prevent a further fall as rescue workers labored gingerly on the ledge trying to free him from the dirt. Dr. W. G. Bissonnette of Timmins was lowered by rope to administer a sedative to the youngster to ease his pain.

What happened to Scholes was not known. But it was feared he might have plunged to the bottom along with some of the stones the boys were dropping into the shaft when the cover broke.

A mine rescue crew was on the scene within 30 minutes of the accident. By midnight about 60 men were working under portable lighting equipment. They began shoring up the sides of the shaft to prevent possible cave-ins.

Timmins is about 175 miles north of Lake Huron.

British Jet Would Melt At Top Speed

LEAVESDEN, England, Friday, Aug. 23 (AP)—Britain today unveiled details of a new rocket and jet-powered fighter that would just melt away if it flew at top speed.

M. J. Brenna, chief designer of the SR53 rocket and jet interceptor manufactured by the Saunders-Roe Co. said the plane is powered to fly at more than three times the speed of sound—about 2,000 m.p.h.

But before it reached maximum speed its frame would soften in the heat caused by air friction, Brenna said. It thus could not be flown at much beyond 1,500 m.p.h.

Britain's air force has placed an order for the SR53 and the German air force is also understood to be a possible customer.

Harvest Forecast In Umatilla County Sees New Record

PENDLETON, Ore., Aug. 22 (AP) — Umatilla County's grain harvest will be one of the best in its history, James Beamer, agricultural stabilization and conservation committee office manager, said yesterday.

He estimated yields would average 35 bushels per acre, but others have placed estimates as high as 40 bushels, a figure never reached before.

Top yields was 70 bushels to the acre by one wheat grower in the Athena area. Beamer said the total county production would be about seven million bushels.

About 40 per cent of the wheat has been sold for $2.02 to $2.07 a bushel, 20 to 25 cents above the government loan value.

Tot, 4, Camps on Neighbor's Lawn; Search Launched

MILWAUKIE, Ore., Aug. 22 (AP) — Four-year-old Michael Schaeffer, who was the object of an all night search, said this morning he had only been camping in a neighbor's yard.

He was found there about 5:30 a.m. by his 13-year-old brother, Tony, curled up asleep under a blanket and guarded by his dog.

Michael had borrowed the blanket from a playmate and set up camp in the yard less than two blocks from his home.

His seven brothers and sisters missed him about 7 p.m. State police joined the search with bloodhounds. At one point the hounds had passed within 50 feet of the sleeping boy.

Lumber Mills Reach Pact

ROSEBURG, Aug. 22 (AP)—Three more small lumber mills in the Roseburg area today reached short term agreements with the Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union for a 2½-cent an hour pay increase.

The agreement extends from Aug. 1 to Oct. 1 and calls for mills to meet any industry settlement in that time. The three are Cook Creek Lumber Co., Western Handle Co. and Webco Veneer Co.

Yesterday the Round Prairie Lumber Co., Mt. Bette Lumber Co. and Paul B. Hult Lumber Co. agreed to the same terms.

Meantime, some 1,500 workers remained on strike against the Roseburg Lumber Co. in a demand for a 5-cent hourly increase. The Douglas Veneer Co., owned by the same firm, also was closed as a result of the strike.

Waste Uranium Recovered At Hanford's 'Tank Farms'

RICHLAND, Wash., Aug. 22 (AP) — Completion of a salvage job that has provided many tons of uranium to the nation's atomic program was announced today by General Electric Co., operator of the Atomic Energy Commission's Hanford plant.

The uranium was recovered from the "tank farms" at Hanford where large volumes of uranium mixed with radioactive materials have been stored. At the direction of the AEC tons of uranium compounds were recovered from the underground waste storage tanks by General Electric engineers.

Some of the materials had been in the tanks since the World War II period when scientists were concentrating on production of plutonium for the war effort and the recovery of unused uranium was deferred.

Uranium left over from the production of plutonium and mixed with highly radioactive fission products was stored in underground tanks.

Salvage of the stored material started in 1952. A large percentage of the uranium in the "tank farms" has now been recovered, J. J. Courtney, metal recovery manager in GE's chemical processing department at Hanford, said.

Operational problems made this one of the most difficult salvage programs ever conducted at Hanford, Courtney said. The uranium compounds had settled as a sluge to the bottom of the tanks. Some had the consistency of putty and some had become as hard as concrete.

The compounds were flushed out by a hydrolic mining system through the use of streams of water from high pressure hoses and hydrolic pumps. During the entire operation radiation from the tanks and poor visibility hampered the workers, but the task was carried out without injury to the men employed.

Rigid standards of safety were maintained to protect the workers from radiation.
