Soviet Remains Adamant On A-Tests Suspension

By MILTON BESSER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Sept. 30 (AP)—The United States today challenged the Soviet Union to make concessions so that suspension of nuclear tests would be "the first thing to happen" on the road to world disarmament.

But the Soviet Union, charging that the Western Powers were ignoring demands of "millions of people throughout the world," remained adamant on unconditional suspension of tests, as well as other Soviet disarmament proposals.

The exchange came at a meeting of the 12-nation U.N. Disarmament Commission. It was the first debate on disarmament at this Assembly session, and there appeared to be no change in positions of the East or West since the London talks of the commission's subcommittee ended in deadlock.

Top of the Iceberg

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge called the issue of suspending nuclear tests "the top of the iceberg that bears testimony to the dangerous mass below. To stop tests but to continue production of weapons would make no contribution to the solution of the real issues that confront us."

He added: "To stop nuclear tests alone would not meet the real danger which comes from ever-increasing stockpiles of nuclear weapons in a number of countries."

Lodge reiterated the Western offer for suspending tests provided that the Soviet Union agree on establishing an effective inspection system, stopping production of fissionable materials for weapons purposes and reducing existing stocks, starting control of outer space missiles and reducing the numbers of men under arms.

"We do not insist that all these things be done at once," Lodge declared. "An agreement that they should be done in acceptable stages is enough to get this program under way, and suspension of testing would be the first thing to happen."

Military Domination

He declared that Soviet unwillingness to accept the Western proposals could only mean that Soviet conduct is explained "by its determination to impose military domination on the world.

"If that be the case, then we and peace-loving humanity everywhere have no alternative but to concentrate all our efforts on meeting that danger. All else fades into insignificance. It is for the Soviet Union to speak and tell us what we must contemplate."

Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev accused the Western Powers of wrecking all attempts to reach agreement on suspension of nuclear tests. He said the West adopted "frustrating" methods by tying in all kinds of proposals, both military and political, with the issue.

Sobolev made plain the Soviet Union intended to take advantage of the U.N. forum to drum up world support for Soviet arms reduction proposals.

He supported an Indian proposal to enlarge the present commission and its subcommitee, in order to give other states an opportunity to take part in the disarmament deliberations.

Little Rock Case Judge To Move

HURON, S.D., Sept. 30 (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge Ronald Davies, who ruled in the Little Rock, Ark., school integration case, will be relieved in a day or two at his own request.

Chief Judge Archibald J. Gardner of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals said Davies would be replaced by U.S. Judge Roy W. Harper of St. Louis.

Judge Gardner termed the shift in judges routine and said it has "no significance."

Judge Gardner said Judge Davies could be relieved within the next few days. He said the judge who ruled in the explosive Little Rock racial integration case had requested to be replaced because of other duties.

Pretty Tough Time

"Besides, he's had a pretty tough time, you know," the 90-year-old immediate superior to Judge Davies said.

"I assure you there is no significance to the new assignment," Judge Gardner told a reporter.

"All the judges have calenders of their own and we can't keep them away from them too long."

Judge Davies was assigned to Arkansas on a temporary basis from North Dakota where he usually presides.

Judge Gardner said Judge Harper's assignment also was temporary.

Judge Gardner was asked if Judge Harper would handle any integration cases.

Can Try Anything

"So far as I know, he won't have to," he responded. "However, he can try anything that comes up."

Judge Gardner said it was possible Judge Davies would go back to Little Rock at a later date.

The clerk of Federal Court at Fargo, N.D., said a number of cases are pending in court there, but that none had been definitely scheduled for Davies to handle because of his duties at Little Rock.
