WHOSE DUTY IS IT?

Mr. McKay Still Hot for Sunday Closing.

HE WRITES ANOTHER LETTER

But the City and State Authorities Disagree as to the Law and the Powers and Duties of Law Officers.

A question of disputed jurisdiction has come up between the city authorities on one hand and District Attorney Chamberlain on the other. Grant McKay, a former, is trying to get warrants out reformer, is trying to get more for the arrest of business houses keeping open on Sunday. Mr. Chamberlain says this lies with the city; Mayor Williams retorts that it lies in Mr. Chamberlain's hands, and is moreover not a matter of chilestics unon hoice, but a matter of obligation upon he District Attorney. "Mr. McKay feels injured by Mr. Chamberiain's position and has sent the fol-lowing communication:

Portland, Sept. 25 .- (To the Editor.)-In Mr.

Portiand, Sept. 25.—(To the Editor.)—In Mr. Chamberiain's reply to my article of September 20, he seems to have left an impression on the readers that my motive for trying to enforce the Sunday law was a personal grudge against Woodard, Clarke & Co. I ask you to publish this letter to vindicate myself.

I have never had any dealings with Woodard, Clarke & Co.; in fact, I would not be able to recognize any one of the firm, should I meet him. I have just as much respect for Woodard, Clarke & Co. as any other persons who are willfully violating a known law, and I have no personal grudge against them.

Mr. Chamberiain said in his reply that he weeld not issue a warrant for Woodard, Clarke & Co., as he did not believe in marking out one firm to proceed against. When a number of business men are violating a law it is not customary to arrest the entire lot, but to proceed against one party, and if a conviction is secured, the others will immediately comply with the requirements of the law or take the consequences. Because, as Mr. Chamberiain says, he did not consider it justice to arrest the above firm on the evidence that I had in my possession, is a mild excuse. People as a rule do not like to be mixed up in court affairs; therefore I went to Woodard, Clarke & Co. on Sunday and mixed up in court affairs; therefore I went to Woodard, Clarke & Co. on Sunday and purchased a small article, to be used as evipurchased a small article, to be used as evidence against them, and even if I did invite a violation of the law, it is no excuse for the viciators. I believed it was my duty to do so. I do not understand why Mr. Chamberlain says I did not ask for a warrant to arrest Mr. A. Erickson, as we had quite a long discussion of the matter, and, after repeated requests for a warrant, he positively refused to give me aid, knowing full well that the Sunday law was being ignored by these men. Although I am refused aid from those whose duty it is to help me in this noble cause. I will not give up, and intend to see if there is no remedy for the willful descration of the Sabbath.

Next Monday morning, at 10 o'clock, I will

It seems to me that not only is this im-mense power for the lawless, which in itself is perilous, but it is wielded without the slight-est reference to policy or principle of govern-ment; solely in the interests of a business or for personal ends.

District Attorney Chamberlain, when shown this communication, said: "Mr. McKay had better understand that there is only one way to attain his object. Let him get the Chief of Police to notify all houses that keep open on Sunday to close under pain of arrest and he will immediately shut up every place that he objects to. That is the only way and it rests with city authorities."

When asked if he would issue the war-rants to Mr. McKay next Monday morn-ing, Mr. Chamberiain remarked: "It will be time enough to cross the stream when we get to it." Let District Attorney Act.

Mayor Williams somewhat disagrees with the District Attorney. The Mayor stated that the case lay outside of the province of the municipal government. "This case of Sunday observance comes under section 830 of the code," he said.

"The state law provides a fine of not less than $5 and not more than $50 for each offense on conviction. That is the state law, and it is the duty of the District Attorney to enforce the convenient of the code o Attorney to enforce the laws of the state if he wishes to do it. If he does, all right: if he don't, why, that's all right, That's the whole trouble with these people; they want to put everything off on the city government, and we have more than we can attend to as it is. Further, I know of no ordinance on Sun-That matter is state law, and, if Mr. Chamberlain cares to do so, he can most certainly prosecute the offenders. Of course, the Chief of Police has the right to arrest the guilty parties, but the primary duty is on the District Attorney.

JEWISH NEW YEAR. Celebration Is to Begin Next Wednesday Evening. The orthodox among the Hebrews will begin the celebration of the New Year in three synagogues of the city next Wednesday avening. The Jewish holl-days are ulways celebrated on the even-ting relies to the company of the coming prior to the actual day, owing to the fact that in Oriental lands it is believed that the day begins in the evening hours. The new year, whose advent will be soon celebrated, is the year 5855, according to the Jewish cal-endar, which has been kept intact through so many centuries. The new year's day which will be so solemnly observed in the various places of wor-ship, ushers in a month of sacred days cludes the great fast day, or day of atonement, October 11, and also the festival of tabernacies. The most quain and interesting ceremony connected with and interesting ceremony connected with the celebration is the use of the shophar, or ram's horn. It is believed that this usage is based upon the Biblical story of the sucrifice of Isaac, and has been in-corporated into the ceremony of the new-year celebration by the descendants of Abraham and handed down to the present generation.

The three synagogues which will be at-tended by the Jews next Wednesday and Thursday are the Temple Beth Israel, of which Dr. Stephen S. Wise is rabbi; the Synagogue Ahavi Sholom, Rev. R. Abrahamson, rabbi, and the Synagogue Nowah Zedeck Talmud Torah, of which Rev. M. Mosessohn is rabbi.

Preparations are being made to lay the corner-stone of the Neustader Brothers factory building on East Taylor, be-tween Grand avenue and East Sixth street, A half-block was purchased here several weeks ago from the Haw-thornes and plans are being prepared to cover it with a two-story brick building of modern design to cost $30,000. It is understood that these plans are about ready, and the work will start soon. At the last meeting of the East Side Improvement Association, the president was authorized to appoint a committee to make the necessary arrangements for the laying of the corner-stone. Council-man Sharkey was appointed chairman, but the other members of the committee have not yet been named.

LANSING STOUT NEW CASHIER OF HIBERNIA BANK

At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the Hibernia: Savings Bank, of this city, Lansing Stout was elected cashier of the bank, the vacancy having been caused by the death of Bernard S. Next Monday morning, at 10 o'clock, I will again so to George E. Chamberlain's office and ask for warrants to arrest Woodard, Clarke & Co and A. Erickson for violating the Sun day law in keeping their houses of business open on the Lord's day.

If moral and religious influences are peculiarly weak at the point where our social explosives are gathered, what kind of a city government have we? Are its strength and purity so exceptional as to insure the effective control of these dangerous elements? In the light of notorious, facts, the question sounds satirical, and it is commonly suid and sometimes acknowledged that our city government is a falliure. There is a ruling class in Portland, and they are men of power whose favor the ambitious must court and whose vengeance they must avoid. Who are these men? Are they the good men who have carned the confidence of their fellow-citizons by their problets in public trusts, their deep study of the problem of city government?

No. They are gamblers, salconkeepers, pugillists, men who openly violate our laws with immunity: men who make a trade of controlling votes, and of buying and selling offices and official acts, and I believe it has come to this, that holding a municipal office in Portland almost impeaches a man's character, as it seems they give constant aid and comfort to gamblers, salconkeepers, thieves and all the worst elements of society.

There is, perhaps, no better index of general morality than Sabbath observance, and everybody knows there has been a great increase of Sabbath descration in the city of Portland.

It seems to me that not only is this immense power for the lawless, which in itself is perlicus, but it is wielded without the slight-set reference in onlice of without the slight-set reference in onlice of the first parameters of the four great religious orders, who were all Spaniards, should leave the islands in two years after the rest of the secretary is not provided to the controlled to the co should leave the islands in two years after the first payment was made for the lands, and that only secular priests or non-Spanish members of the regular clergy should act as parish priests.

"The Vatican agreed to sign such a contract, excepting the last covenant, which he declined to sign; first, because it related to the administration of religious mat-ters, not the proper subject of a commer-cial contract; second, because of signing a covenant that would give just offense to Spain, whose subjects the friars were, and as such were entitled to remain in the islands under the treaty of Paris, and be-cause the Vatican did not wish to give countenance to what are regarded as exaggerated charges.

"Instead of this, however, the pope said through Cardinal Rampolla that he intended to reorganize the church in the islands; to recall the friars now in the telands from realities." islands from political intermeddling to the institutes of their order; to provide ec-clesiastical education to the natives so that the priesthood ultimately should be entirely native, and to introduce priests of other nationalities than Spanish, chiefly from the United States, into the islands. He said the money for the land would go to the church, for the benefit of the church in the Philippines, and not to the order, and he finally reiterated what had been said earlier in the correspondence. that no priests would be sent to any par ish in the islands whom a majority of the Catholics of the parish did not wish to receive. "In view of the unwillingness of the Vat ican to enter a contract for the definite removal of the Spanish friars, the Secretary of War was unwilling to enter into a contract obligation, the Philippine Government and the American Government to rental question, and to agree upon the question of charitable and educational trusts. This basis was agreed to, and negotiations are to be continued here-

"All the data is to be submitted with the approval of the church. It will thus be seen that negotiations upon many issues are only just begun, though the sale of the lands has been approved, and that on the question of the return of the friars to the parishes, the matter is compietely in the hands of the people of each parish for a settlement by a quiet, penceable and lawful expression of their desire to receive or not receive any priest."

MONTAVILLA FREE DELIVERY. Carrier Starts Work-Postal Station Created-Numbering Houses.

The mailcarrier in the Montavilla free delivery district has been making de-liveries for the past three days, and has been doing very well under the circumstances. He covers as much of the territory as possible, but the inspector has not yet settled the boundaries. It is expected that this will be done within a short time, when he will know what he has to cover.

In the district, according to the last census, there were 1200 people, but this number is probably considerably ex-ceeded by this time. The territory is borth and south of the Base Line road, and is altogether more than the carrier can cover on foot. It is considered probable that the inspector will recomon foot. It is considered mend the use of a horse and cart.

This will greatly facilitate the work of the carrier and enable him to give the people much better service. The station is not a substation, as some seem to think, but a full-fledged postal station, the same as are maintained at Mount Tabor. Sunnyside and Sellwood, and under the jurisdiction of the Portland postoffice. Money orders will be issued, stamps sold, and mail re-ceived for distribution.

GULCH BRIDGE REPAIRED. Union Avenue Structure Is Given Au-

other Lense of Life.

Repairs to the Union avenue bridge across Sulivan's guich have been prac-tically completed, although a little more work remains to be done. It was a difficult job to repair this bridge while elec-tric cars were passing and heavy wagons were constantly crossing, but it was done without interruption of travel. From the middle of the bridge to the south end all the caps on the bents had to be replaced with new timbers. It was found that the caps were rotten. These had to be taken out and new ones put in with traffic passing.

The bridge now has a new lease of life. It ought, perhaps, to stand two or three years more before it will be necessary to replace it with a new structure. By that time, probably, such provision will be made that the bridge can be rebuilt by district, as sewers are built. It is certain that neither the Grand avenue (now closed) nor the Union avenue bridge will ever be rebuilt by the property-owners. The new charter provides for assessment districts, and hence the East Side is in-terested in seeing it passed by the next Legislature, as the only means of getting dilapidated roadways and bridges rebuilt.

Shepherd of Third Presbyterian. Rev. Andrew J. Montgomery, formerly pastor of the Oregon City Presbyterian Church, was officially installed as pastor of the new Third Presbyterian Church, East Pine and East Thirteenth streets, last night. He has been acting as the regular pastor since the departure of Rev. Robert McLean, former pastor, and is now thoroughly familiar with his new field. The members express themselves as pleased with his work so far, both in the pulpit and elsewhere. At the installation Rev. ff. S. Templeton presided. Rev. E. P. Hill delivered the usual sermon appropriate to the event. Rev. E. M. Sharp delivered the charge to the pastor, and Rev. D. M. McClelland charged the people. At the conclusion of the services, Mr. Montgomery was warmly congratulated and wishes were expressed that he might have a long and successful pastorate at the Third Church

MRS. OUINTON'S LECTURE She Tells What Has Been Done for the American Indian.

Amelia S. Quinton, president of the National Indian Association, spoke to a number of those interested in the wards of Uncle Sam last eevning in the chapel of the First Presbytcrian Church, She briefly told how the association was founded by a few Christian women of Philadelphia in 1879, the main object then being an amelioration in the condition of Indian women and children. The work increased in scope, however, and an ap-peal was made to the churches to raise funds for training and education, and finally the Government, seeing the long petitions presented year after year, took steps toward the establishment of better schools and missions, "Christian men," said Mrs. Quinton, "told us that it was no use; that the Indians were rapidly dying out, but the fact that there are 17,000 more Indians now alive than when we formed the association shows the fal-lacy of that prophecy. It may surprise you to learn that there are 70,000 Indians that may be classed as American citi-zens, and of these 10,000 are taxpayers, Of the 34,000 children of school age, 27,000 are being educated. The Indians appreci-ate the fact that they must aid themselves. A bright Indian girl once said to me: 'Others may help us, but we must do the climbing ourselves.' Education no the climbing ourselves.' Education has done marvelous things for the Indians. I know of skillful artists, physicians, and even college professors among them, and they readily embrace Chris-tianity. I know of one old Sloux woman who was converted after she was 50 years old, and, though she was a poor reader, she took her Bible and went among her people, interesting even Sitting Bull in the wonderful story.

"Forty-nine agencies are now scattered among our 267,000 Indians. When our as-sociation was organized there were sixty agencies, and our prayer today is that the agencies may in time be abolished, for politics mingles too largely in the control of Indian affairs. The agents usually gain their positions by political pull, and have no particular fitness for their important stations. I will say, how ever, that a few of the agents are warm friends of the red men, and work for their benefit. Of the $10,000,900 which goes to the support of the Indians yearly, the greater part is controlled by political influence. Many of the Indians are now asking that their money be paid them in cattle, household goods and other things which make for civilization, "The work has come to stay, and the Indian question, which is really the white man's question, must be solved so that the Indian may soon take his place as a worthy member of the general popula-

WORKING ON TREATIES. Legislation Cuba Will Ask at Hands of United States Next Congress.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—With the expectation of being ready to present to Congress, at the opening of its next seasion, a fabric of treaties between the United States and Cuba, negotiations are pending between Mr. Quesada, the Cuban Minister, and the State Department, with regard to a commercial treaty, an extradition treaty, and a treaty to adjust the title to the Isle of Pines.

It is the purpose of Minister Quesada, it is stated, to draw up the commercial treaty on reciprocity lines. The fate of such a treaty will depend naturally on Congressional action on the subject of Cuban reciprocity. An extradition treaty between the United States and Cuba al-ready has been drafted. The provision for the establishment of civil government in Cuba omitted the Isle of Pines from the constitutional boundaries of Cuba, and left its title to future definition by treaty. The United States has decided to leave the island under the jurisdiction of the Cuban Government, until such a con-vention can be consummated.
