Highway West Of Salem Will Be Considered

SILVERTON, Jan. 30-(Special) Revival of the Cascade highway projects of the 1920s was discussed at the Silverton Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday.

Mayor George Christenson read a letter from the Springfield chamber suggesting the revival and that a meeting of representatives of interested towns be held at a central location, possibly Lebanon.

The highway, as planned some years ago, leads from Oregon City on the Mulino road, passes through Marquam, Silverton, Sublimity, Stayton, Scio, Lebanon, joining Oregon highway 58 at Springfield.

While no definite action was taken, approval was expressed and the matter will be discussed with action in mind at the next meeting of the group.

A committee has been named to prepare new Silverton leaflets, and $1000 is available to cover the expense of these, it was announced.

Membership cards will be revived, these to indicate members will not support solicitors unless endorsed by the chamber.

R. A. Fish, president, outlined the year's work and emphasized that the group wishes to cooperate with the city council in every possible way.

Marshall Dana was the speaker. The women of the First Christian church served the dinner.
