TODAY'S RECIPES

By SISTER MARY

RADISHES tempt the housewife every time she goes to market these days. And in order to take advantage of a seeming "three-bunches-for-" bargain, she frequently finds herself with more on hand that can be used merely as a relish and faces the possibility of waste. The waste can be averted however, by serving cooked radishes in the following meal, and they are sure to be liked.

Although radishes have little food value in a muscle-building way, they do have a distinct place among the mineral and ballast foods. The ash constituents are much the same as the yellow turnip and beet.

The high content of indigestible structure with its water-holding properties gives the relish a peculiar laxative effect.

As a relish, radishes are most popular. They come early in the spring and do much to whet indifferent appetites. The small round, red radishes—often called "breakfast" radishes—are delicately flavored and delightfully colorful, while the long white varieties have a bite-y taste and decided brittleness that many people like. The long red varieties are prone to woodiness. There is a round white radish that tastes much like the round red one but is less liable to pithiness.

Radish sandwiches are excellent to serve with fish salads. The white varieties can be used for these.

When an attractive garnish is wanted, the red button radishes should be chosen. They must be scrubbed immaculately clean before using. Let stand in ice water until crisp and serve immediately on removing from water.

If children under ten years of age are allowed to eat radishes they should be warned to "chew them fine."

Creamed radishes are a very good dish and many women in the country who face a fresh vegetable shortage just at this season of the year will find the recipe worth keeping in mind.

Creamed Radishes

Three cups round red radishes, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 3-4 cup milk, 1-4 cup water radishes were cooked in, ½ teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons grated cheese, 4 tablespoons buttered bread crumbs.

Wash radishes carefully and cut off root and stem. Cook in boiling salted water for 15 minutes. Drain from water, saving 4 tablespoons for sauce. Put radishes into a buttered baking dish and cover with sauce made with butter and flour cooked together with milk and radish water added. Sprinkle top with crumbs and grated cheese and put in a moderately hot oven for 15 minutes to melt the cheese and brown the top. Serve from baking dish.

Cotton broadcloth, in a gay new Algerian striped design, makes one of the cutest of the new runabout sports dresses, equally good on the home porch serving iced tea of an afternoon or on the links teeing off.

Fortnightly Club

New officers of the Eugene Fortnightly club took over their work at the regular meeting of the group on Thursday afternoon at the Eugene hotel. Mrs. Dan Clark gave a paper on Influence of Spanish Culture in the United States. Reports were given by the auditing, social, and new program committees. The program committee made suggestions for next year's study. The social committee, of which Mrs. Lettie Mowrey is chairman, said the final party would be given on Thursday, May 21, as the last event of the year for the club.

A. A. U. W. Group

The Junior group of the American Association of University Women held its last meeting of the year Thursday evening at the home of Miss Rose Robinson. A one-act play was read. The group will continue meetings in the fall. Miss Kathryn Fry is chairman for the organization.

Altar Society Has Social Thursday Afternoon

Ten tables of cards were in play for the social given by the Altar society of St. Mary's Catholic church on Thursday afternoon at St. Joseph's hall.

Mrs. S. B. Finegan, Mrs. Clarence Iddings, Mrs. Lee W. Clasks, Mrs. August Grendler were the committee in charge.

The society has its regular meeting on June 4.

Lodge Items

LADIES of the G. A. R. will have their semi-monthly meeting and social afternoon Saturday at two o'clock in the post room of the armory.

Officers and colors of the Spanish American War Veterans' auxiliary will hold a special practice Saturday evening at seven-thirty o'clock in the post room of the armory in preparation for the annual inspection night of the auxiliary which will come Monday evening. The department president and three of her staff are to be present for inspection. Mrs. Judd Stauffer is captain of the team.

Second nomination of officers was read at the regular meeting of the Eugene Rebekah lodge Wednesday evening at the I. O. O. F. temple. Mrs. Eunice Denney is candidate for the office of noble grand and Mrs. Grace Cooper is candidate for vice grand. Election will be held at the next meeting May 20. The men of the lodge were in charge of the entertainment which followed the business session and B. B. McKinney was chairman. The program included the following numbers: Selection by Rebekah orchestra; several readings by Mrs. Ida Adams of Springfield; Negro minstrels by Mrs. Cora Barklow, Miss Opal Barklow, Mrs. Stella Deveraill, Dewey McAlpin and Charles Goodman. Silas and Maria Jane, known as Mrs. S. W. Minturn and C. V. Addison, gave a polka dance. Refreshments and dancing followed.

Masonic Dinner Is Attended By Many

Two hundred attended the covered dish dinner sponsored by the McKenzie River lodge, A. F. and A. M. on Thursday evening for members and their wives. It was the largest dinner given by the lodge this season. For the dinner program, the city fire department first aid team gave a demonstration and William Kidwell sang.

After the dinner, the men held their lodge session and the women played cards, Mrs. Lee Ragan and Mrs. Fred Price winning the honors at bridge.

Guests for the evening were members of Temenid club, organization of Eastern Star members on the university campus, and Craftsmen club members who are Masonic students.

MILK SHOULD BE ADDED TO WAFFLE BATTER GRADUALLY

This Method Insures a Smooth, Light, Lumpless Batter

Every cook knows that it is risky to pour all the milk at once into the flour when making waffles. In spite of vigorous stirring the batter will invariably contain lumps.

Coffee roasted in bulk also involves risk. Even the most skilled operator cannot prevent variation in the roast because the quantity is too large to handle. As a result, some of the coffee berries are overdone and some underdone. Such variation in the roast causes variation in flavor.

Realizing this, Hills Bros., in San Francisco, perfected and patented a process that roasts every coffee berry evenly. By automatic control, only a few pounds at a time pass through the roasters in which heat is also automatically controlled. When the coffee finally leaves the roasters, it is perfectly uniform in color and roast and gives a delicious flavor in the cup that no other coffee can equal.

No matter when or where you buy Hills Bros. Coffee, it is as fresh and complete in its exclusive flavor and aroma as when it came from the roasters. This is because Hills Bros. Coffee is packed in vacuum—a process that takes air, which destroys coffee flavor, from the can. The ordinary air-tight can does not keep coffee fresh. Hills Bros. Coffee is sold everywhere. Ask for it by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can.
