PORTLAND MARKET NOT VERY ACTIVE

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 15.—(U.P.) Trade in the butter market appears dull for scores below the extras, and applies to practically all markets in the Pacific slope. The much advertised San Francisco demand for butter appears subsiding.

The weakness of the eastern price creditable to more or less sluggishness in the east coast trade although strictly home trade continues of fully steady character. California also reports a weak tone.

There was no change in the price of chickens by cash buyers here despite the fact that practically all interests last week advanced their resale prices on dressed broilers due to alleged scarcity.

A market for tomatoes shows a very weak tone here with continued liberal offerings from The Dalles and California with some increase in home grown lots. All prices are lower for the week.

Very limited trading is reported in the market for peaches with some slight increase in the volume available for northwest points. Yakima Elberta stock is being pushed by the shippers.

A cut in the price on cabbage is generally shown here as a result of increased home supplies. Quality continues to gain. Most sales to retailers around 1½ cents lb.

While there is no change suggested in general prices on country killed stock for the day, trading is fairly active and active for lambs, and for hogs. Hogs are a trifle easy.

Crabs are in better supply.

Sweet potatoes are just about steady, yams are weak.

Filbert trading is still neglected with prices held low.

Beans and peas are held at the recent low marks.

Apricots are showing a rather fair movement but generally no higher than 25c box.

Demand for apples is gaining and especially for quality.

Movement of northwest cantaloupes better.

Small oranges are down.

Runaway Is Stopped By Daring Motorist

COTTAGE GROVE, Aug. 15.—(Special). — A nineteenth century thrill, with a spice of twentieth century speed, was experienced in this city one day last week.

The incident started when a team belonging to Ed Ashby and driven by Darwin Bolton, hitched to a hay rack, broke loose and ran away and was stopped when a man in an automobile raced up alongside, stepped from his car to the runaway wagon and stopped the horses. Bolton had tied the team to a post near the Spriggs' brothers blacksmith shop. When they broke loose, they ran out to the Pacific highway through a group of playing children, but no one was hurt. An unknown motorist pursued the team and catching up with it near the Workman place, stepped from the running board to the wagon and stopped the team.

Junction Resident Loses Two Calves

G. B. Bamford of route 1, Junction City, came to the sheriff's office Monday and reported the theft of two calves from his corral.

The animals were stolen sometime after 2 a. m. Monday, Mr. Bamford said. He inspected the road for hoof prints and found none. He believes the calves were taken away in a truck. Sheriff's men investigated the case.
