MERGER IS BEATEN

Irrigation Congress Will Retain Its Identity.

FIERCE PARLIAMENTARY FIGHT

James M. Moore, of Oregon, Present Minority Report, Which Is Adopted, Against Amalgamation With Other Organization.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Oct. 8.— The National Irrigation Congress will re-tain its identity as an independent organization, at least for a time. This was decided by a vote of 133 to 91 at 10 o'clock tonight by those delegates to the con-gress who weathered one of the fiercest parliamentary storms ever seen in Colorado Springs. No political convention that has been held in this city for years has witnessed a more interesting or harder fought contest that that waged among the delegates at the congress this afternoon and tonight over the report of the committee on permanent organization. committee on permanent organization, which consisted in a recommendation by it out of 64 members of the committee that the National Irrigation Congress merge with the Trans-Mississippi Congress, the former to constitute one of the brunches of the constitute one of the brunches of the constitution to be the branches of the organization to be created by the proposed merger. The minority report was read by James M.

Moore, of Oregon.

All speech-making of the day and to-night was of very great interest. George Maxwell, of Chicago, president of the Na-tional Irrigation Association, supported by nearly all the old-time irrigation workers, sought to bring about the merger, feeling that the work of the Irrigation Congress as an agent for the agitation of a National irrigation law had accomof a National irrigation law dad accom-plished its work. F. J. Kelsel, of Og-den, Utah, supported at the start by only a part of his own delegation, suc-ceeded in working up a sentiment in the congress that it would be better to decongress that it would be better to de-fer action on the proposed merger until the next annual congress, and a motion to that effect made by ex-Senator Carey, of Wyoming, finally disposed of the ques-tion so far as the present congress is Ogden Likely to Get Next Meeting. Mr. Kelsel came here with the intention of taking the next congress to Ogden, if possible, and the indications now are that he will have no opposition.

After the merger was disposed of to-night, F. R. Newell, Chief Hydrographer of the Government, and Elwood Meade, of Wyoming, head of the Irrigation De-partment of Agriculture, addressed the congress.

The congress this morning was ad-dressed by Representatives Tawney, Morris and Stevens, of Minnesota, all of whom took the irrigation legislation and its history and possibilities for a theme. Mr. Tawney, especially, made a strong address, and was enthusiastically received by the delegates, who regard him as more responsible than any one else as more responsible than any one else for the overcoming of opposition in the House of Representatives in the consideration of the irrigation act. Ex-Senator Carey, of Wyoming; Hon. R. W. Boynge, of Colorado; Professor L. G. Carpenter, of the Colorado State Agricultural College; Westley A. Stuart, of South Dakota; Professor Thomas Shaw, of the Minnesota Agricultural College, and Thomas Holland, representing Commander Rooth. Holland, representing Commander Booth-Tucker, of the Salvation Army, also speke during the morning session.

The afternoon session was opened with reports of the progress of irrigation in the entire irrigation belt, given by the state engineers or other prominent dele-gates from the different states.

Merger Fight Comes Up.

The fight over the proposition to merge the Irrigation and Trans-Mississippi Congresses into one organization came up by special order at 4 o'clock. E. R. Moses, of Kansas, chairman of the committee on permanent organization, fead the re-port which favored the merger. A minority report was read by James W. Moore, of Oregon. Then followed a stirring and vigorous debate.

Mr. Moses made a strong appeal for ger. "The inclination of the said, "is toward combination of the merger. ort in all directions. This combination will be not one of dollars, however, but for doing things, a combination whose resolutions upon any subject Congress would be bound to place great weight upon." Mr. Moore said his objection was the general one that the Irrigation Congress should continue its own work in the cause. The debate that followed brought most of the irrigation states into the discussion, and the audience of fully 600 people remained in the hall until nearly 7 o'clock, when adjournment for supper was taken.

Daniel Lawler, the golden-tongued ora-tor of the Minnesota bar, favored the merger in a notable speech. Given, of New Mexico, chairman of the executive committee of the Trans-Mississippi Congress, spoke in favor of the merger, as also did D. L. Fairchild, of California, and others. The opposition to the merger was led by Major R. W. Young, of Salt Lake, of the famous Utah Battery of volunteer service in the Philippinos. He was supported by State Fractions. was supported by State Engineer Mc Cune, of Colorado; State Engineer Wells, of Idaho; E. R. Moses, of Kansas; W. B. of Montana; C. W. Gavin Sands, of Montana; C. W. Gavin, of New Mexico; A. King Wilson, of Oregon; A. B. Crane, of South Dakota; C. M. Hall, of North Dakota; A. F. Doremus, of Utah; E. H. Libbey, of Washington, and Henry A. Coffeen, of Wyoming, these gentlemen being followed by C. M. Hobbs, purchasing agent of the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad, and Frank Trumbull, president of the Colo-Frank Trumbull, president of the Colorado & Southern.

President Maxwell, of the National Irrigation Association, favored the pro-posed merger in a speech of more than an hour. John Henry Smith, president of the Trans-Mississippi Congress, made a strong argument to the same end. Re-cess until 8 o'clock was then taken. On reconvention a motion by ex-Senator Carey, of Wyoming, to postpone the mat-ter until the next session of the congress was carried.

PAPER BY BOOTH-TUCKER. Irrigation Law Means a Full Dinner

Pail All the Time. COLORADO SPRINGS, Oct. 8 .- Colonel Thomas Holland, National colonization secretary of the Salvation Army, rend the paper prepared by Commander Booth-Tucker. After referring to the success of the efforts of the Salvation Army in removing worthy but poor families, fur-nishing them with the necessary capital and settling them as homeowners upon the land, the commander said: "The fact that the present irrigation congress has included in its deliberations great question of colonization, and has set its imprimatur upon its possibil-ity-nay, necessity-will undoubtedly place subject in an entirely new light before the country, and will give to colonization an impetus, the influence of which will teave its mark upon the generations to come. Taus colonization, as the hand-maid of irrigation, will bring within the reach of the latter new confidence and opposibilities, and irrigation will prepare colonization new realms of possibility while these combined sciences will open before the working classes of this coun-'ry new vistas of help and hope; will becreate that bulwark of National proscerity, the small farmer, and will provide

of our population to be and do good and to fulfill the obligations of citizenship and the dictates of God and conscience.

the dictates of God and conscience.

"Thus we may well hope that the bulwarks of National prosperity may, with the blessing of God, be strengthened and maintained, the dangers of discord be minimized, and the harmonizing influences of religion be extended. And, what is more, the political party which will assist by legislation the twin brothers, irrigation and colonization will surely intrench and colonization, will surely intrench itself deeply in the affections of the people to whom it would prove itself to be a true benefactor. It would not only be a 'full dinner pail' today, but tomorrow and the day after. Such policy, it seems to me, breathes the very essence of Chris-

TO TIE UP FRENCH MINES

FEDERATION DECLARES A GENE-RAL STRIKE FOR TODAY.

Operators Refuse to Discuss Claims of Men-Employes Number 162,000 -60,000 Belong to Union.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—The National committee of the French Miners' Federation has decided to declare a general strike, to begin tomorrow. It is estimated that 42,000 men have already struck in the northern coal fields, and that 5000 men have struck around St. Etienne, The committee has issued a manifesto. idressed to the miners in the United States, England, Germany, Belgium and Austria, which declares in part:

"The cause we are defending is commo to all. We are pushed to the last extremity in fighting to obtain a slight improve ment in our miserable condition, more equitable remuneration with regard to our work for the present and legislation sheltering us against the needs of old age, We are sure you understand your duty. We leave to you the initiative in such matters which are most convenient to you in assisting us in this struggle." In conclusion, the manifesto says: "Long I the miners of the International Union.

The manifesto then appeals to troops mobilized against the miners to remember the conduct of Colonel St. Remeny in refusing to obey orders during the Britanny school troubles, which were contrary to his conscience.

The decision of the National committee of the Miners' Federation to declare a general strike throws the responsibility upon the mineowners, because the latter have declined to discuss the claims of the miners. The mineowners took this attitude on the ground that the questions of the regulation of work and old-age pen-sions were now before the Parliament committee, and the strike had already motives.

The Temps calculates that the French miners number 162,000 men, of whom only (9),(00) belong to the federation. The prob-ability of a rise in the price of domestic and factory coal is beginning to be seriously discussed. The secretary of the mineowning committee in an interview predicts dear coal in Paris this Winter.

PARLIAMENT IN A TUMULT.

Hungarians Wax Hot Over Negotiations With Austria.

BUDAPEST, Oct. 8.—The lower house of the Hungarian Parliament reassembled today, with a repetition of the tumultuous scenes which marked the last session. Vice-President Barabas, a Kossuthist, declared that the recent negotiations looking to the further renewal of the agreement fixing the proportionate cost of the administration of the common affairs of Austria-Hungary had been un-availing, and asserted that Austria was trying to despoil and ruin Hungary with the connivance of the Emperor-King. Amid a tremendous uproar which his remarks created, Herr Barabas shouted that while he bowed respectfully before he King, he must adhere to his opinion regarding the Emperor. Barabas was thereupon informed that if he used such expressions he would not be allowed to

"It has been insinuated that it is His Majesty's intention to ruin the destiny of Hungary. This statement I most solemnly and categorically repel. I as-sure you His Majesty has always pre-

The Premier explained that while recognizing the undying merits of Kossuth, the latter had placed himself at variance with the whole nation in maintaining that the Emperor of Austria could never be King of Hungary, hence it was impossible for the government to attend the festivities in Kossuth's honor.
