Halsey News

HALSEY, Aug. 17—(Special)—About 45 women and children members of the local Methodist Episcopal church gathered at the J. H. Vannice home Saturday afternoon in response to invitations given out by Mrs. J. H. Vannice and Mrs. Omer Lee and other members of the local church to help Mrs. Merwin L. Vannice celebrate the anniversary of her birthday. The afternoon was spent in playing games and sewing and social conversation. At a late hour the gifts were presented in a novel manner and refreshments served by Mrs. Vannice assisted by several other young ladies.

Miss Evelyn Gallager, new Red Cross executive for Linn county, came up from Albany last Tuesday and held a called meeting of the women of the town, representative of the various organizations of the city for the purpose of discussing and planning the local relief program for the winter. The first call made for school clothing for many children of the local school who will need them. They are to be taken to the home of Mrs. Carl Hill on North and H streets as she is president of the Community Parent-Teachers' association.

Nearly every available house fit for people to live in is now filled with families which have recently moved into town. It is reported this is also true of the Brownsville community. It appears that high rents, no work, high fuel, water and light prices of the larger cities are forcing the people to the smaller towns where living is cheaper.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Durbin and family of Corvallis moved into the Frank Robnett house in south Halsey last week. They have gone into business with Charles W. Nichols at the Halsey garage. Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Pelham and family of Stayton, who are the new editors and publishers of the Halsey Journal, have moved into the Addie Leeper house. Mr. and Mrs. Curtiss Pierson and family have moved into the Brock house in north Halsey. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Chapell of California have moved into the Joe Pitman, formerly the Belvery Logan house.

The congregations of both the Lake Creek and Peoria Methodist Episcopal churches, south, gathered at the Smith Grove Sunday morning where they held an out-of-doors Sunday school followed by the regular morning church service with Rev. J. E. Gibson, pastor of both churches, delivering the message. A basket dinner was enjoyed at noon with a social time following. About 60 were present.

A large congregation attended the morning services at the local M. E. church Sunday when Rev. Clifford Gray of Los Angeles, formerly a member of the church but now a Church of Christ minister, delivered the morning sermon. His wife sang two vocal solos. The Men's Brotherhood had charge of the evening services when Thomas Jackson, B. S. Miller and George Smith were the speakers and special music was a feature. Rev. Omer Idso, pastor of the church is attending a two-weeks seminar at Tacoma.

D. H. Sturtevant, local general merchandise store owner and operator for the last 17 years, and Miss Vera Keppinger of Gervais figured in an auto mix-up Sunday evening at the intersection of the Pacific highway and I street. Mr. Sturtevant had just returned to his home here with his two daughters Miss Alice and Jean and let them out and was taking his car to his garage when he stopped at the highway and waited for a car from the north to pass and then pulled his car onto the highway in front of the Gervais lady's car. She hit him broadside, fully smashing the right side of his car, destroying the runningboard. Miss Keppinger's care suffered a broken bumper, badly mashed up fender and a broken windshield. Neither occupant was injured except for shock and both proceeded away to their destinations on their own power.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gansle and daughter Miss Leila and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gansle and daughter Mona, all motored to Buell Sunday to attend a family reunion of the Bentley family.

Mrs. Thomas Ardry entertained her sister-in-law Mrs. Lulu Brock of Harrisburg and family which included her daughter Miss Mona Brock, Mrs. Carlos Kimmell and two sons, Mrs. Mildred Lowery all of Harrisburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lowery and daughter Leone and son Lester of San Francisco and two children from Portland Friday noon for dinner at her country home at Lakecreek.
