BIG TURKEY SHOW TO START SUNDAY

OAKLAND, Dec. 7.—(Special).—With the steam sterilization of over 1000 in cups at the local cream station Tuesday the sanitary preparations for the northwestern turkey show to open at Oakland, Sunday, Dec. 11, and continue the following three days, were completed. The cups are the drinking vessels of the classy birds, which will be on exhibition here next week. The turkey growers of this section met at the turkey pavilion Sunday and arranged it in a way that will exhibit all birds to best advantage and desinfected all coops.

The entries on live birds has just closed and when all entries arrive through the mails it is expected that the number will exceed that of last year and the live bird section, which will remain open until Dec. 12 will far outdistance last year's efforts. The cash prizes in both divisions total more than $1600.

Judging will start Sunday and the formal opening will be Monday morning. In order to get all the judging of the birds done as soon as possible and to get the ribbons on in time for exhibitors to get equal benefit from the advertising given, another judge has been secured. H. L. Griffin, of Bozeman, Mont., president of the Northwest Turkey Growers, has been engaged to assist E. C. Branch, of Lee's Summit, Mo., nationally recognized authority, who has judged here the past two years.

Entertainment features for the week will be the annual turkey ball at the school gymnasium Monday evening, the annual turkey breeders' banquet Tuesday evening and an educational program Wednesday. At this program the judges and other specialists in turkey culture talk. This feature is regarded as very valuable by many.
