THE MORNING OREGONIAN, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1902.

The advocates of this method say that it would take away from the Legislature the power to "monkey" with the appro-priation bill, Riders could not be attached to it, neither could "deals" be entered into contingent upon the passage of the act. The measure would be entirely free from the "shenanigan" that often accompanies appropriation bills in the Legislature. The men who deem a special session unnecessary say:

'We shall gain no time for the Fair by a special session. The chief reason for passing the appropriation bill early is the example which would be set for other Northwest States to follow. The Legislatures of those states will meet in January. So will the Legislature of Oregon. If we pass the bill soon after our session begins, the matter can be immediately laid before the other Legislatures. However soon the question is disposed of in Oregon, it cannot come before the Legislatures of other states until those bodies Besides, an extra session would meet. cost Oregon about $30,000. So where would be the gain?"

Lewis and Clark Fair Trading Discussed at Salem.

SALEM, Oct. 15 .- (Special.) -- Whether the question of a state appropriation for the Lewis and Clark Centennial shall be made the basis for trades in the next Legislature is a matter that is being discussed in this city, and evidently in other parts of the state. It has been intimated and asserted in several papers that the people of Eastern Oregon will withhold their support from the Fair appropriation until they get what they want in the way until they get what they want in the way of appropriations, and that some of the Senatorial candidates will secure votes by the same means. The talk of such trades is founded upon the assumption that the Multnomah delegation is charged with the task of getting the appropriation, and that in order to get it they must make concessions to other parts of the state.

A very prominent resident of one of the Valley counties said last night that trad-ing upon the appropriation must not be permitted for a moment, for as soon as it is commenced the Fair will become a local affair. "The Multnomah delegation is no more charged with the duty of looking after that appropriation than any other delegation," he said, "and as soon as they assume that they are, they admit that the Fair is not an enterprise of interest to every part of the state. They should reject any suggestion that they are any more interested in the appropria-tion than any other members of the Legislature. The question of an appropriation should be decided according to the views of a majority, upon the merits of the enterprise, and if it is decided that no appropriation shall be made, then Ore-gon can give up the Fair and accept as gracefully as possible the disgrace in which she will stand in the eyes of the rest of the United States.

"I don't see how any Senatorial candi-date can trade or permit his friends to trade for him, upon any appropriation question, in order to get votes in the Senatorial contest. To adopt such tactics is to admit that the candidate who resorts to it is too small for such a high position. It would be an admission that he has not strength enough to se-cure his election upon his own merits. To trade upon the state's interests in orto secure an election to the United tes Senate would be to admit that he would trade off the state's interests diter his election in order to secure his own

Meanwhile the detectives several buckets of water had been carted and went on the assumption that the elder Sylvester was probably in some hes-pital, public institution or boarding-house, the victim of an accident, and posby the little boys, who had meanting turned and stood gazing with rueful looks at all that was left of their nails, boards and potatoes, the fire was extinguished sibly so dazed that he could not tell his name. It was even feared that the missand the volunteer hose company went back to the grape jelly triumphant. When the heat had in a measure subsided, the boys commenced to fish around in the coals with long sticks for their dinner, and what was left of their hammers and saws. They wisely concluded that the potatoes would be about done, and they wanted to lose as little as possible, considering the fact that they carried no insurance. At a late hour last night a representative of The Oregonian was informed by one of the joint owners that the structure would be rebuilt. At that time all that could be seen was a redhot cook stove, crowning and surmounting a large pile of glowing embers.

Raymond Hitchcock in the title role of "King Dodo" has made the most pro-nounced hit of his life. His unctuous humor and interpretation of the "Jolly Old Potentate" is, hesides, about the most comical bit of eccentric work that has

There is a chorum of 50 winsome and prightly show girls who can sing, dance and march in a delightful manner, while an augmented orchestra of soloists enhances the symphonic value of the pro-duction. The work is full of new and captivating music, of which the grin-cipal features are: "Look in the Book and See," "I'll Do or Die," "The Emi-nent Dr. Fizz," "A Jolly Old Potentate," "The Miller's Cat," "Diana," "I'll Shut My Eyen," "The Lad Who Leads," "The Tale of a Bumble Bee" and "They Gave Me a Medal for That."

"Friends" at the Baker

Following "The Christian," which is playing to crowded houses at the Baker Theater this week, "Friends," a comedy drama in four acts by Edwin Milton Royle, will be presented, "Friends" will be given its first production next Sunday be given its inst production next sunday afternoon, and will run all week, with a matinee Saturday. John Paden, Jr., will be played by Charles Wyngate and Adrian Karje, a planist, by Howard Rus-sell. It is from these two characters that the play deserves its title. They are the best of friends and share each other's sor-rows and joys. "Friends" is a pretty comedy with strong touches of senti-ment interspersed, making it interesting. as well as amusing. Catherine Countiss will be seen as Mar guerite Otto, a famous singer of the Met-ropolitan Opera-House, New York City. The remainder of the company has been carefully cast, and Mr. Morris promises some very fine stage settings.

"The Convict's Daughter," Cordray's. "The Convict's Daughter," one of the solid melodramatic successes of last sea-son, will be the attraction at Cordray's Theater for the week commencing with next Sunday's matinee, October 19. The secret of the success of "The Convict's Daughter' is that it touches the heart strings of its auditors. It is also filled with comedy of the higher order, and does not depend upon buffoonery or vulgarity to amuse the public. It comes to us this year with entirely new scenery and altograther brighter and better the and altogether brighter and better than ever.

GRATEFUL FOR FOOD. Lived Seven Weeks on Milk.

"Three years ago this month I was a great sufferer with stomach trouble." writes Mrs. William Leigh, of Preirie du Sac, Wis. "I had to give up eating meat, potatoes and sweets, and lived aimply on bread and tea; finally that too had to be given up. I got so weak I could not work and I took nothing into my stomach for seven weeks but milk. I had tried three doctors and all for no purpose; the last doctor advised me to stop all'medicine. I had to anyway. I was so weak I was prostrate in bed. "A friend advised me to try Grape-Nuts, but I was afraid to when a tea-spoonful of milk brought tears to my cyes, my stomach was so raw. But I tried one teaspoonful a day of the Grape-Nuts for one week, and, finding it agreed with me, increased the quantity. In two weeks I could walk out to the kitchen; in four weeks I walked half a block, and today I do my own light housekeeping.

"I live on Grape-Nuts and know they saved my life; my people all thought I could not live a month when I commenced using them, and are very much surprised at the change in me. I am very grateful that there is such a food to be obtained for those who have weak stomachs."
