The Obsidians are planning to combine a little work with pleasure next Sunday, June 11, when they will have their annual spring work trip.

There is considerable work to be done inside the cabins on the upper McKenzie highway, on the stove and on the shutters. The road needs a little patching work and the year's store of fuel wood needs to be sawed, split and piled for drying.

The members of the club are being asked to take all available tools and implements and go prepared for a good time. They are to resigter at Dotson's Photo shop early so the cook will know how many to prepare dinner for.
