FATAL HOTEL

ONE DEAD, TWO FATALLY HURT

Blaze Starts in Basement at 3 A. M .-Burning Stairway Cuts Off Escape and Guests Jump From Third Story.

CAMP M'KINNEY, B. C., Oct. 22 -- One woman is dead, two men fatally injured. another woman severely hurt, and guests badly burned by fire that destri the hotel at Fairview at 3 o'clock this morning. The dcad are: Miss Smith, school teacher.

Fatally injured: Mr. Mathias, manager of the hotel.

John Allen, engineer. Severely injured: Mrs. Mathias, wife of the manager.

Badly burned: Dr. White,

John Love, druggist.

Two others, names not learned. The fire started in the basement of the building, which is a three-story frame structure, well built and furnished. Those here familiar with the building say that it had a wide main staircase leading from the ground floor to the third story, also a back staircase, and they think these stairways formed a flue for the flames, thus cutting off all escape except by jumping from the upstairs windows for those who at the early hour of 3 o'clock would be asleep in their beds. Meager information obtainable here makes it appear that those fatally injured jumped from the third story, their sleeping apartments being located there. Mrs. Mathias made the leap with her infant in her arms. It is said her leg is roken. The child is uninjured. Miss Smith, whose body has been taken broken from the ruins, was a pretty girl, aged 16 years, who came from Armstrong, a farm-ing district in the upper part of Okanogan Valley, north of Vernon

The local supply of remedies was ex-hausted, and appeals for surgical and hursing assistance were made to Greenwood. Necessarily there must be long de-iny before help can be given. However, as soon as possible after the receipt of the message here Dr. Schoon and Nurse Fresher left Greenwood to drive nearly 70 miles to Fairview, taking with them all necessary supplies. The information re-ceived is meager, and with nearly 20 miles between the end of the telephone line and the scene of the disaster, later news is not obtainable. The Camp McKinney line is not working tonight. ASKS CITY FOR DAMAGES.

JUDGE LOWELL AT SALEM.

Thinks There Should Be Changes in Blue Mountain Reserve.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 22 .- Judge Stephen A. Lowell, of Pendleton, was in Salem today attending the conference of the Congregational church. During the day he called upon the state officials at the Capitol. Judge Lowell says that there is a very strong opposition in Grant County to the creation of the Bluc Mountain forest reserve upon the lines now laid down. es were changed so as to includonly that territory which should be included in order to conserve the water sup-ply, he thinks the opposition to the reserve would be largely removed. The people of Grant County, however, are afraid that the Department of the Interior will go ahead with the project and regardless their protest create the reserve as now intended Judge Lowell believes a reserve is neces sary in order to preserve the water sup ply, which is essential to the industrial prosperity of that region, but he thinks many changes should be made in the pro nesed boundary.

PROMISING COPPER MINE IMNAHA DISTRICT ON SNAKE RIVER nent

BEING DEVELOPED.

May Some Day Rival Butte, Says Prominent Mining Man-500-Foot Bluff Shows Three Veins.

SUMPTER, Or., Oct. 22.-(Special.)-Oregon has a most promising copper district in a section little known. This is the Imnaha, some 35 miles down the Snake from a point opposite the Seven Devils, yet regarded as in the same great mineral zone as the Seven Devils and Panhandle copper properties. It has been badly iso-lated in the past, which fact doubtless accounts for its obscurity. The Government appropriation of $25,000 to improve the Snake above Lewiston will render that stream navigable to the Imnaha, giving the cheapest possible transportation, and thus bring the Imnaha copper district to the front. the front. One prominent mine operator, who is in-breated in the Imnaha section, as well as properties near Sumpter, stated yester-day that he was of the firm belief that this district would yet rival Butte. De-velopment has not proceeded far yet, but this gentleman, J. A. Hilliker, says the work on the surface and depth so far attained indicates great copper deposits. Imnaha district is from three to five milds wide, and about eight miles long The upper end of the district terminates at the lower edge of a great lava flow, terminates at the lower edge of a great lava flow, which doubtless is a cap covering the vein system beyond that point. The formation is granite, with some porphyry. Veins have a northerly and southerly strike, varying slightly to the east, and set up lost vertically. There are from 12 to 15 defined fissures crossing the district, all parallel, and, so far as developed, aver-aging from 12 to 14 feet in width. One of these is located for seven full claims in length, or over two miles. It is clearly traced by the gossan, or iron cap, from the declivity pitching off into the Snake to the lava overflow. Other properties are said to have fissures of equal boldness. A bluff of 500 feet elevation shows two or three of the veins across its face.

Development has penetrated below the oxidized zone on several of the properties, where sulphides running from 6 to 8 per cent copper, and even higher in some in-stances, are revealed. Malachite running high as 30 and 40 per cent copper is often found in the oxidized zone, where leach-ing has enriched that portion immediately under the surface deposits. Sulphides come in with the water level, which ranges about 50 feet depth.

Probably Immense Deposits.

Mr. Hilliker says that the district will not be limited by the cropping area, for the fissures where they disappear under the lava are strong as at any other portion. It is his bellef that the entire re-gion was once submerged beneath the lava, far beyond the investigations of man, but crosion of the turbulent Snake removed the heavy superimposed strata where the stream passed, till the veins outcropped for a distance. In operating In operating the properties, he thinks that the veins may be followed under the lava with as great ease as their croppings are now traced by the gossan, thus opening immense deposits, which are likely to ex-pand at depth on the same scale as did the veins at Anaconda when followed into the earth The smelter recently ordered by the Eureka Smelling Company will treat custom ores. It is to be located at the mouth of the Immaha, and is understood to be a matting plant of sufficient capacity for needs of the immediate future. There an ideal site is to be had for reduction works. The Imnaha is a strong stream of con-siderable volume during the dryest sea-son, and dashes down the slope at an angle making it possible to secure fall in a reasonable distance. This be utilized for generating all the power required for operating the reduction plant, and the mines after they are further advanced in development. Fuel will then be a minor problem, as none will be re-quired save that used by the smelter for the charge in the furnaces.

The Cracker-Summit consists of four full claims and four fractions, covering a parallel of the big mother lode and a a parallel of the big mother lode and a converging vein, the parallel not being above 600 feet from the mother lode on the E. & E. and Columbia. North Pole, Columbia and Goldonda. There is a rush for Cracker Creek prop-erties of late, many concerns striving to get in on the ground floor near the big mines. Before the present excitement, the Cracker-Summit was held at $70,000, the Cracker-Summit was held at $70,000, and it is presumed that the price in the transflow just completed was above that. Mining men believe that parallels of the mother lode are mineralized highly as that famous body, and a large amount of development is in progress on different properties adjacent to it.

An exceptional tunnel proposition is had on the Cracker-Summit. The converging vein strikes along a great ledge of rock forming the crest of a divide, where a crosscut 100 feet in length will give 200 and 300 depth. The year there is from 30 to 40 feet wide, carrying shoots of high-grade ore, some of which is typical of the mother lode. This year is opened by two tunnels 100 feet each in length, and numerous surface cuts. For a prospect it is a high property, but few offer great-er inducement for development. W. H. Jackson, a weil-known local mining man, will superintend operations, which are to be taken up soon.

ADDRESS TO STUDENTS.

President Campbell Talks on Ideals of College Life.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Dct. 22.-(Special.)-President Campbell addressed the students at assembly this morning on "The Ideals and Tendencies of College Life." He began by saying that the modern university had a life of its own, which the student should live, and ts tendency was to recognize that .today is just as good as any other day in which enjoy our lives. The schools of older mes laid the stress upon striving, the macrifice of today for the enjoyment and power of the morrow; those of the pres-ent, while naving scholarship as their highest and primary cause for existence, to not overlook the living of today. Scholarship, and fellowship as well, should be cultivated. We of today are apt to be in too much of a hurry; we want to carry from 20 to 21 hours a week when we should only take 16 or 17. Then there would be te for fellowship, a moment each day in the library, keeping in touch with the great minds of the past and the best thought of the present, participating in the work of the literary and debating so-distics and ministing mith surface. cletles and mingling with our fellows in other social organizations.
