Prices Are Unchanged; Wall Street Labors On

SNOW AND COLD WEATHER AFFECT MARKET, BELIEF

The snow storm and accompanying low temperatures are expected to bring the price of all local produce up a notch or so at once if the weather does not moderate in a few days. Eggs, however, were at a standstill Saturday and butter and butterfat were unchanged.

Demand for hay is expected to be stimulated if the grass on the ranges and pastures is covered by the snow.

PORTLAND BUTTER MARKET IS FIRM

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 12.—(AP)—While there was an increase in both churning and manufacture of butter at Portland and at northwest points generally, decreased supplies were suggested in California. Local make shows an increase in the centralizer output to date this year and there was an equally good increase in the movement from the out-state plants. Butterfat situation is strong here.

Easy price situation in the egg market reflected the rather liberal supply arriving and the accumulations on dealers' floors. There was no change in the general quotation for the week-end.

Demand for chickens continued firm here because fowls were in reality cheaper than most fresh meats. This caused general sellouts of operators and receipts were not so liberal.

Well held prices continued to be quoted for dressed turkeys in the local trade with the chief demand still for movement into eastern coolers. Local call was best for hens to go into immediate consumption.

Too many carloads of California old crop vegetables were brought to Portland and the result was a congested market with considerable local stock still available. The only real home shortage was in beets.

While the somewhat greater receipts recently have caused a slight reaction in country killed calves, hogs, lambs, mutton and beef continued to reflect recent advances in the price.

Increased sales of dry onions were confirmed with growers again showing disposition to sell. Inquiries from the midwest were still below workable prices.

PORTLAND LIVESTOCK

GOLD LITIGATION BOTHERS TRADERS BUT PRICES FAIR

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The stock market continued to labor under the influence of the "gold clause" controversy today, but sentiment was somewhat improved and prices stiffened after further declines in the first hour. The Rails were the heaviest throughout. The close was steady. Transfers approximated 670,000 shares.

U. S. government securities and prime corporation bonds, which would stand to benefit substantially if the gold provision is upheld by the supreme court, again moved into higher territory. European gold currencies, weak yesterday in terms of the dollar, showed a contradictory upward tendency. Grains pared early losses of around a cent or so a bushel.

Shares off 1 to 2 or more points included Union Pacific, Delaware & Hudson, U. S. Smelting, Dome, McIntyre, Noranda, Allied Chemical, Air Reduction and International business machines.

WOOL IS STEADY

BOSTON, Jan. 12.—(UP)—The aggregate volume of trade in the Boston wool market during the past week was about steady compared with the previous week and prices did not show any marked changes, according to today's report of the U. S. Agriculture department.

Ohio fleeces had a slightly broader call for moderate quantities at 27-28 cents in the grease for the fine Delaine and at 28-29 cents for strictly combing 58s, 60s, ½ blood, and 56s, 3-8 blood. In western grown lines, fine wools were the only ones to receive any sizeable demand. Bulk average French combing 64s and finer territory wools in original bags sold moderately at 67-68 cents, scoured basis, while shorter combing wools of similar grade moved at 63-65 cents. Average twelve months Texas wools, spot Boston, were sold at 68-70 cents, scoured basis.

The United States, at the end of 1930, had developed water power of 14,885,000 horsepower out of an estimated potential capacity of 38,000,000, according to the U. S. geological survey.

WESTFIR EPWORTH LEAGUE HAS PARTY

WESTFIR, Jan. 12.—(Special).—A group of over 50, including mostly young people of Oakridge and Westfir, were guests at an Epworth league party given in the club rooms Thursday evening. The affair was directed by the vice-president of the league, Miss Phyllis Sorenson. Streamers of blue and yellow crepe paper were used as room decorations. The committee in charge of decorations was Miss Phyllis Sorenson, Mrs. W. F. Rehwalt, Mrs. Martin Elam and Mrs. Bruce Lansbery. In charge of the evening's program were Mrs. W. E. Eshom, Mrs. W. F. Rehwalt, Miss Lily Natterlund and Mrs. Richard Buckner.

The most interesting feature of the program was the mock wedding. W. F. Rehwalt acted as the bride, Miss Phyllis Sorenson as the groom, the bride being presented by Mrs. Bruce Lansbery, as mother of the bride. Floyer girls were Mrs. Martin Elam and Mrs. Richard Buckner.

Appropriate costumes were worn by the bride and groom. Wedding march was played by Mrs. W. F. Rehwalt. Victor Williams as parson performed the ceremony. Games were enjoyed after the wedding ceremony. Cookies and punch were later served by the committee in charge, Miss Sorenson, Mrs. T. A. King, Mrs. A. Peterson, Mrs. Richard Buckner and Mrs. Walter Cummings.

Members and guests present were Mrs. E. B. Horsell of Oakridge, Mrs. Walter Cummings, Mrs. Martin Elam, Mrs. C. E. Stewart, Mrs. T. A. King, Mrs. Earl Bleile, Mrs. C. Noland, Mrs. Vern Hill, Mrs. Bruce Lansbery, Mrs. W. F. Rehwalt, Mrs. Richard Buckner, Mrs. Arnold Ryan, Mrs. A. Peterson and the hostess, Mrs. McGee. Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting.

SATURDAY PROGRAMS

STATE: Double bill, "365 Nights in Hollywood," with Alice Faye, James Dunn, plus "In Old Santa Fe," with Ken Maynard. Midnight preview, "Wonder Bar."

HEILIG: Double bill, "The Silver Bullet," with Tom Tyler, plus "Woman in the Dark," with Fay Wray. Ends Saturday.

McDONALD: Double bill, "We Live Again," with Fredric March, ANNA Sten, plus "It's a Gift," with W. C. Fields. Ends Saturday.

COLONIAL: Double bill, "Judge Priest," with Will Rogers, plus "Ladies Should Listen," with Cary Grant. Ends Saturday.

REX: Double bill, "Rainbow Over Broadway" with Joan Marsh plus "Law of the West," with Bob Steele. Ends Saturday.

The State theater inaugurates a new midnight preview policy this evening. Patrons may now come at 9 p. m. and stay through for the midnight show, whereas in the past the preview was a separate showing entirely. Too, the previews will be separate pictures brought for the one show only, and not the Sunday attraction, as previously. The first preview tonight, is "Wonder Bar," Warner Bros. best musical since "42nd street." And ending today at the State is that human comedy, "365 Nights in Hollywood," and a whooping western, "In Old Santa Fe."

• • •

Colonial closes "Judge Priest" today. Will Rogers starred in Irvin Cobb's famous characterization of a Kaintuck jurist. "Ladies Should Listen," on the same bill, is smart comedy.

• • •

"Rainbow Over Broadway" at the Rex isn't the best musical of the year, but an enjoyable little film without pretense or over-lavish sequences. "Law of the West," on the same bill, Bob Steele western.

• • •

McDonald's "We Live Again" grand entertainment, with Ann Sten and Fredric March superb in the leading roles. A pathetic, moving story, filmed with brilliant realism. "It's a Gift," with W. C. Fields, goofier, and funnier, than ever.

• • •

"Woman in the Lark," which is a Dashiell Hammett detective mystery, ends today at the Heilig. Dashiell Hammett, in case you don't know, wrote "Thin Man," so you may well imagine how good the present offering is. Western completes the bill.

News of Goshen

GOSHEN, Jan. 12.—(Special).—Miss Elma Brock, daughter of James Brock, and Orin B. Nye of Junction City were married last Saturday afternoon, Jan. 5.
