CANADIAN OVATION GREETS PRESIDENT

summer residence of the governor-general, near where Arnold and Montgomery, American revolutionists, stormed the city on New Year's eve, 1776, followed the speech-making.

It was here Mr. Roosevelt and Canada's governing heads talked over in private mutual problems affecting the two English-speaking nations.

Speaking in English and French on the terrace, the American chief executive objected to accounts of his recent vacation cruise in Canadian waters which said he was to be accorded all the honors customarily rendered to a "foreign ruler."

Rebels at Word

"Your excellency," he said, turning to Lord Tweedsmuir, "I am grateful for the honors; but something within me rebelled at the word 'foreign.'"

"I say this because when I have been in Canada I have never heard a Canadian refer to an American as a 'foreigner.' He is just an 'American.' And, in the same way, in the United States Canadians are not 'foreigners,' they are 'Canadians.'

"That simple little distinction," he added, "illustrated to me better than anything else the relationship between our two countries."

"On both sides of the line we are so accustomed to an undefended boundary three thousand miles long that we are inclined to minimize its vast importance, not only to our own continuing relations but also to the example which it sets to other nations of the world."

FIR MILL TO OPEN OPERATION IN FALL

COTTAGE GROVE, July 31.—W. D. Abel, manager of the Durable Fir Lumber company sawmill at Dorena, now under course of construction, announces that the mill probably will be ready to start sawing about Sept. 1.

Mr. Abel states that the mill will be of 75,000 feet capacity. Workers are now completing the conveyor and installing machinery. The boiler house is completed and the pond will be finished as soon as the shovel, which is now being used for road construction to their tract of timber, is returned. The major part of the work yet to be done at the mill is installation of resaws and sorting chains. The company plans to start sawing as soon as the mill is ready and after sawing begins, will build loading docks, kiln and dry sheds. Mr. Abel says they plan to handle lumber with carriers and crane for loading timbers on open cars. Construction on the logging road will begin next week. About one and a quarter of miles will be necessary to be built from the present county road connecting with the logging activities. It is expected that most of the machinery for the mill will be here this week. The mill is located at Dorena, near the Oregon Pacific and Eastern railroad and accessible to the large timber tracts owned by this company.
