Fraternity Libraries Featured In National Library Publication

Fraternity circulating libraries, a propect at the University of Oregon that has aroused wide interest among educators of the country, is featured in the February issue of "Wilson Bulletin for Librarians," the leading publication in this field, copies of which have just reached the campus.

Circulating libraries in fraternities were started on the campus last year by Miss Bernice Rise, circulation librarian, the writer of the article, Karl W. Onthank, dean of personnel, points out. Books were loaned to the houses, kept in a convenient room, and changed from time to time.

Check-ups showed that these books were read by many students in the group, and while it was found that much of this reading was done by students already interested in independent reading, some of it was done by students who had rarely before done any unrequired reading, the article stated. The discovery of pleasure in reading showed a tendency to spread among other "non-readers" in the house.

The success of the experiment last year led to the establishmen of the Library House collection, which has grown to more than 1,000 books, used exclusively for these house libraries, Dean Onthank states. The houses have also been encouraged to purchase worthwhile books for permanent collections.

The article is illustrated with a photograph taken in one of the women's fraternity houses on the campus.

A DODGE DEALER'S CLASSIFIED AD SAVED ME $45 ON A GRAND USED CAR!

says VICTOR FAUSER, BAKER

● "I counted on paying $45 more for the used car I had in mind," says Mr. Fauser. "So when I spotted a classified ad the Dodge dealer was running, I investigated at once. I knew, because a Dodge dealer signed it, I could bank on the car being just as represented—and really dependable. And that's exactly what I found—a rumble seat coupe that looked and ran like new. A Dodge dealer is certainly the place to go for a real bargain in a dependable used car."

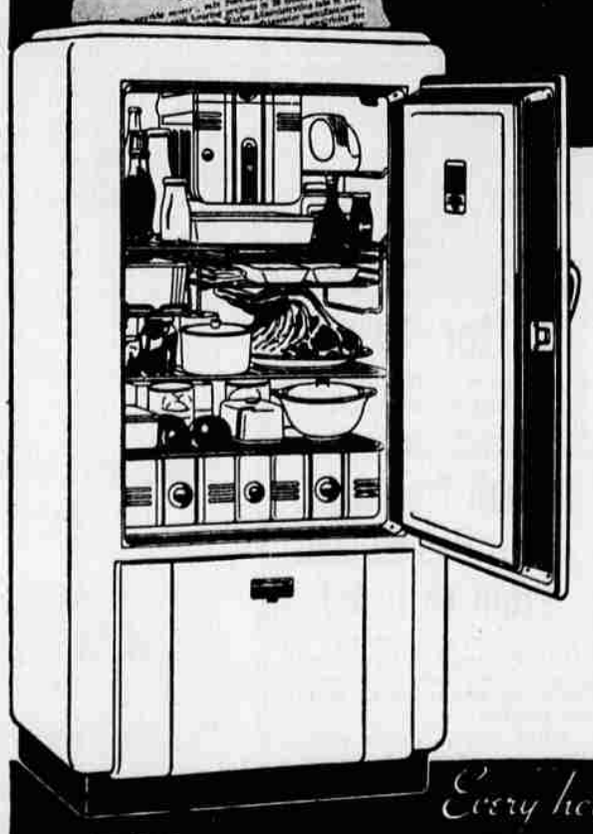
WESTINGHOUSE GETS THE LARGEST SINGLE ORDER EVER PLACED FOR REFRIGERATORS
Bids are based on first cost plus use of current for 10 years

PUBLIC WORKS ADMINISTRATION HOUSING DIVISION BUYS WESTINGHOUSE REFRIGERATORS TO MEET RIGID ECONOMY REQUIREMENTS IN LOW-RENT HOUSING



To provide modern, safe food-keeping facilities at lowest cost in 34 low-rent housing projects in 26 cities, the Housing Division of the U. S. Public Works Administration late in 1936 called for sealed bids from leading refrigerator manufacturers. Bids were based on initial price added to cost of electricity for ten years. Westinghouse won . . . though four other manufacturers quoted lower unit prices. Low current consumption, made possible by Westinghouse features, convinced Government buyers that on a 10-year basis it costs less to own a Westinghouse.
