PORTLAND GRAIN

PORTLAND, Ore., May 13 — (AP)— Light markets held barely quotable in the northwest steady to firm in the past week, the U. S. department of agriculture said. Supplies of malting quality Hannchen barley were virtually depleted and total receipts of all types here since last July 1 reached only 451 cars against 762 a year ago.

Corn was firmer while oats were steady and unchanged with eastern Oregon and Washington shippers supplying most of the coast terminal needs for oats.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 13—(AP)—Prospects of warm weather over the entire wheat belt during the week-end and indications of very little rain during the coming week boosted wheat prices as much as 1½ cent a bushel today.

Wheat for July delivery reached 75 cents, up 1½ from the previous close, and the September contract was up 1⅝ at 74⅞. The current delivery advanced to 79⅝, up 1⅞ from yesterday's close, after opening fractionally down.

Wheat closed 1⅛ to 1⅝ higher, May 79⅝-⅞, July 74⅞, September 74⅝-¾; corn ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, July 51⅞-⅝, September 52⅛-⅛; oats ¼ off to ⅛ up, July 33⅛-33, September 31⅞.

The flag can be flown officially, day and night, over only one building in the United States—the national Capitol in Washington.

New York Markets

By VICTOR EUBANK

NEW YORK, May 13—(AP)—Recovery signs appeared in today's brief stock market proceedings, but, in most cases, they were so faint as to be barely discernible.

It was a crawling session through with transfers of approximately 175,000 shares, among the smallest in nearly a year. While fractional gains were plentiful at the close, numerous issues were unchanged and an assortment of minor declines was in evidence.

Traders were scarce in boardrooms, the majority feeling there was scant profit in attending a two-hour performance which, judging by the past several weeks, would be without any real interest.

Sentiment seemed to be slightly improved as recently waning hopes for tax revision in congress revived a trifle.

No great stimulation was derived from business news and the European picture, at least for the moment, was viewed as a neutral market influence. Prospects that soft coal would start moving Monday, following the six weeks' tie-up, were moderately encouraging.

Small advances at one time or another were posted for U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Montgomery Ward, Standard Oil of N. J., Consolidated Edison, Southern Railway, and International Harvester. Some of these eventually slipped.

Douglas Aircraft marked up a modest gain following the concern's report for the fiscal quarter ended Feb. 28, revealing the highest net for any single quarter in its history.

BOSTON WOOL

BOSTON, May 13—(AP)—(USDA)— Boston wool houses handled a fairly large volume of business during the past week. A relatively small portion of the trading, however, was on spot wool. Original bags, fine western grown wool, and medium fleeces for shipment direct from the country to users comprised the bulk of the sales and prices strengthened further the past week. Fair size orders were taken by some houses for graded territory wool to be delivered when available. Normal spot quotations on graded combings bright fleece wool ranged 26 to 20 cents in the grease, for fine Delaine; 27 to 29 for half bloods, and 29 to 30 for ¾s and ⅞s bloods.

cific Northwest by its first name. He succeeded "Ding" Darling, cartoonist, as head of the survey when Darling resigned because the president would not give more money to the wildlife conservation. Although personnel of biological survey is not to be disturbed, no such assurances have been given employes in the bureau of fisheries, which has been detoured from commerce to interior. Commissioner of fisheries has been vacant for months and scores of applicants offer as an argument for their appointment: "I like to fish."

Administration officials are starting an experiment to deal with surplus foods which will benefit the producer and the WPA worker and those on relief. This is the new food stamp law, an outcome of the proposal of last winter for a two-price plan for surpluses. Eight foods designated as surplus agricultural commodities which may be included by the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation, on a list available to stamp holders, include butter, eggs, dried beans, dried prunes, wheat flour and whole wheat flour. These are Pacific Northwest products. Later, when fresh fruits and vegetables become a surplus they will be added to the list. Formerly a surplus was treated on a national basis, but the revised program will regard them as surplus in an area, for a period of six weeks, in a given trade area. This policy will permit moving surplus strawberries, loganberries, celery or whatnot into an area where they can receive a larger return because of small transporation costs.

With the use of the food stamp, the reliefer buys at cost, the grocer taking the stamp and has it redeemed at the regular price. The arrangement is expected to give the producer a fair return, the grocer receives his price, the reliefer buys the food at a price within his reach and the surplus from becoming a waste becomes of value.

wanted me to come to his house. Shortly before 7:30, I walked into the garage. There two men jumped on me and pushed me into the car.

"They blindfolded me and tied my hands. We drove for about an hour. They conversed with themselves in German, but both spoke English, one fluently and in an educated way. I asked them what they wanted and reminded them that kidnaping was a serious offense.

"They said they wanted to know the man who had contributed to the Hitler book from the German end. I told them I didn't know and stuck to my story.

"Finally they stopped the car. One of them got out. I am not sure, but I believe he went to talk with someone in a car which was following mine. Soon he returned and we drove on. They did not threaten me, but suggested that I give up publishing the book. Then I could tell we were driving off the main road.

"They walked me, blindfolded, for a sort distance and then made me lie down on a board. They taped my legs and hands and mouth tightly and left, telling me I would be found in the morning.

"I managed to work loose the bandage on my mouth after an hour or so. I'm not sure how long. I called for help and some people came. They then called the officers. I discovered when they freed me that because I was in an unfinished house, I would have been found as soon as it was daylight. Obviously they did not intend to hurt me."

Cole and other friends in Hollywood were enroute here to return with him to his home.

Putnam was found but a few minutes after Los Angeles police had issued a statewide teletype that he was missing. His absence was reported when he failed to return to his home at midnight and a check determined that he had not visited Cole.

San Fernando valley division detectives, searching the garage, found his hat crumpled and his glasses broken and feared that he had been assaulted. Only yesterday he had obtained a license from the district attorney's office to carry a gun, but said he did not have it with him last night.

The former New York publisher and Bend, Ore., mayor, early this month was reported planning to wed for the third time. His bride, friends said, would be Mrs. Jean-Marie Consigny James of Beverly Hills, whose divorce from William Robert James, son of U. S. District Judge William P. James, becomes final May 18.

Putnam in recent weeks had ridiculed threats against his life. The incident of the intruder at his home occurred April 12. A few days later, his secretary received a threatening telephone call, followed during the next week by other messages.

On April 20, he turned over to the district attorney's office an anonymous letter which read in part:

"If you have any regard for your future safety, stop publication of this book at once. The arm of Greater Germany reaches far and we have no desire to continue warning you. If you are wise you will do what we tell you because something can happen to you and your future may be extinguished."

Three days later, a bullet-riddled copy of the book, punctured with eight holes, and a crudely-pasted note were sent to his home.

The note, composed of letters cut from newspapers and magazines, read:

"Mr. Putnam you're a criminal. You failed to read ruture. Bullet wound would be fatal to you if you don't abandon the book 'The Man Who Killed Hitler.'

"Take no chances of a bloody killing if you want to live. Your opportunity awaits you. Take it or leave it.

"Germany defies the world.

Mrs. C. Kupfer, all of Portland, Mrs. C. H. Swift, Salem, Mrs. George Bradshaw, Oak Grove.

Announcement was made of three new scholarship awards to aid worthy students. A fund of $125 was presented to the university from the Gertrude Watson Holman fund by Mrs. B. C. Frederickson, Portland, president of the Gamma Phi Beta Mothers' club. The Allen preparatory school gave a $25 award and Kappa Kappa Gamma mothers a $30 scholarship.

Three outstanding women students on the campus were presented to the Oregon mothers. They are Anne Fredericksen, president of the Associated Women students, Betty Lou Swart, president of the YWCA, and Margaret Van Matre, president of the Women's Athletic association.

Receivers of the first mothers' scholarships, Tom Turner and Paul Deutschmann, both of Portland, were introduced.

Oregon students rank so high scholastically that there is competition among eastern colleges to obtain them, Dr. Burt Brown Barker, vice president of the university, stated.

A plan whereby mothers could become life members was announced and reports of the activities of the various clubs were presented.

A petition was read and approved to obtain more adequate dining facilities for the 100 girls in Susan Camubell hall by appealing to the state board of higher education.

Mothers and their sons and daughters will meet at 5:30 Saturday evening for the annual banquet, at which Dr. Donald M. Erb, university president, will be the speaker. The mothers will then occupy a special section at the canoe fete to be held on the millrace.

Culminating the day's activities Friday was the Junior Prom in McArthur court, where Queen Maxine I and her royal court were presented to her dancing subjects. Roy Vernstrom, Portland, was awarded the Koyl cup for being the most outstanding junior man on the campus, and Rita Wright, Condon, was presented the award for the leading junior woman, the Gerlinger cup. Selections were made by consideration of scholarship, leadership and activities of students.

Included on the program Saturday, was the painting of the "O" on Skinner Butte by the freshmen, and the "Frosh-Soph" tug o'-war on the millrace. The freshmen won, but received their usual "bath" anyway.

City Fire Losses Climb To $36,267

Fire loss in Eugene for the period of January 1 to May 13 this year amounted to $36,267.67, according to figures released by William E. Nusbaum, fire chief.

The loss was more than 17 times as great as the loss during the same period last year, when only $2,292.70 worth of property was destroyed in the city by fire.

Major reason for the big jump in fire damage during the period was the $20,000 Domestic laundry fire on April 24. This single blaze accounted for more than half of the damage.

A fire Friday at a house on 508 Pearl street, owned by Mrs. William Preston, added $1000 damage to the loss for the five-month period. Damage was mainly confined to the attic. The fire took two and one-half hours to be controlled.

Argentine Beef Starts Disagreement

prevent the navy from using any out United States beef.

Senator Adams (D., Colo.) commented that "if we are to have the American navy fighting on foreign beef we might as well go a step farther and have our battleships built in England or get our armor plate from Belgium."

Mr. Roosevelt told reporters yesterday that he had written Secretary Swanson authorizing acceptance of an Argentine bid of 15 cents a pound, including duty of six cents a pound, on 48,000 pounds of canned beef. The net cost to the government thus would be nine cents a pound, compared to bids from domestic producers of 23 cents.

Furthermore, Mr. Roosevelt said the Argentine beef was far superior in quality.

Although the President confined his discussion to price and quality, senators recalled that beef importations had been an important topic in discussions of ways to improve relations with Latin America.
