Fifth Army Holds Against Nazi Drives

ROME, Feb. 24—(AP)—Fifth army forces beat off repeated German counterattacks and held firmly today to newly-won peak positions in the Apennines southwest of Bologna.

Doughboys, who scaled 3,500 foot Mount Della Torraccia against stiff opposition, mopped up resistance pockets on the heights and threw back several German attempts to retake the peak, two and a half miles northeast of Mount Belvedere.

Farther to the northeast Brazilian troops, supporting the drive in the Belvedere area, repulsed several counterattacks and consolidated their positions on Mount Castello.

Headquarters announced today that a new contingent of Brazilian ground troops had arrived in the Italian theater of operations.

American artillery and mortar fire repulsed a strong German counterattack near Campiano, two miles west of Mount Belvedere.

A party of Italian partisans, operating under control of an American unit, seized Rocca Corneta Thursday night, headquarters said.

No changes were reported on the remainder of the Italian front.

Planes of the Mediterranean allied airforce carried their assaults on enemy communications into the 11th consecutive day with an all-out attack on freight yards in Austria and northern Italy.
