First Private Claim Set Bad Precedent for Congress

By HAL BOYLE

WASHINGTON—(AP)— During the Civil War a man in Missouri lost a horse and wagon to the Union army.

He now has finally decided the government ought to give him back the horse and wagon or else pay him for them.

He is one of thousands of American citizens who have a direct interest in room 345 of the House Office Building, which is known as "the department of human misery."

This is where a majority of the bills originate to grant relief to people who feel they have a financial claim against the United States.

Most go through Walter R. Lee of Jackson, Miss., clerk of the House Judiciary Committee's subcommittee on claims.

"And it looks now like every man being wants something from the government," he said.

Unfortunately, it is pretty hard to get money from the government. And it's getting more difficult.

"So most people put in a claim for about twice what they really expect to get," said Lee.

Before the reorganization bill was signed last August Congress used to have to handle 3000 or more bills each session from tion.

Just as a working principle the House Judiciary Committee automatically rules out all claims prior to 1932 unless they are brought up for consideration by a two-thirds vote. This means the elderly citizen from Missouri will probably never get his Civil War horse back unless he can locate the man who borrowed it and settle the issue with him beard to beard.

All these private claim bills have to pass the House, Senate and White House, just like a major appropriation bill.

The biggest current private claim bill is one recently passed by both the Senate and House to relieve disbursing officers of the Army and Navy of responsibility for $135,000,000 mistakenly paid out during war days. A bill of this type is passed after every American war.

One of the oddest was put in by a young schoolteacher who visited an Army camp and suffered considerable burns and embarrassment from a plumbing fixture that had carelessly been linked to a hot steam tank instead of a cold water pipe.

United in chivalry, Democrats and Republicans in both houses gallantly voted her several thousand dollars without dissent.

people wanting the government to pay them for things like Army trucks running into their cars on curves or tanks ruining their tomato crops during maneuvers.

Now most of these personal injury and damage cases are supposed to go to the federal district courts for settlement if they date from Jan. 1, 1945.

But there are still from 1000 to 2000 private claims cluttering up the congressional calendar and distracting the attention of statesmen from major legisla-

Westport Youth Dies in Plane Crash

ASTORIA, Ore.—(UP) — Lloyd Edwin Weldon, 27, Westport sawmill worker and GI student pilot at the Clatsop airport, accidently killed himself in unauthorized low-flying maneuvers over his own home at Westport Sunday.

Weldon, who had three hours of solo flying time, flew into a hillside near the Westport water tank after he attempted to do a chandelle, or wingover, flying up a canyon in which his home is situated.

Los Angeles Hit By Wave of Fires

By The United Press

Damage was estimated at more than $250,000 Monday from four fires which raged in Los Angeles County, injuring at least seven persons before they were controlled.

More than 600 volunteer and San Diego County firefighters battled a 2,000-acre blaze at Mt. Palomar, the third in two weeks in the vicinity of the Palomar observatory.

Worst of the Los Angeles County conflagrations was at Palmdale where seven buildings were gutted and the entire business district was threatened for a time.

Two firemen, Albert Lulay and Barney McCoy, were injured by falling beams, and four others, David Hill, Witt Carter, Benjamin Cascianon and Kenneth, were treated for burns.

Starting in a hardware store, the flames exploded 10,000 rounds of ammunition and hundreds of cans of paint.

Fire equipment from Lancaster, Muroc Army Air Base, Newhall, Mojave, Soledad and Pine Valley aided local firefighters in quenching the blaze.

Damage was estimated at $200,000.

New York Markets

By VICTOR EUBANK

NEW YORK, July 28 —(AP)— Buyers were faithful to assorted oils and special stocks Monday while late selling forced the majority of market leaders into the losing ranks.

Frequent slowdowns developed after a moderately active start. Trends were only slightly mixed until the final hour when more urgent offerings put a number of pivotals at bottom for the day. There was a smattering of new highs for the year. Minus signs ranging from fractions to 2 points or so, predominated at the close. Transfers for the full proceedings were around 1,000,000 shares.

In the casualty section were U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, U.S. Rubber, Goodrich, Goodyear, International Harvester, Western Union "A," American Smelting, Air Reduction, American Can, Du Pont, Allied Chemical, Union Carbide, Santa Fe, N.Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Great Northern Railway, Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake & Ohio, American Woolen, Pepsi-Cola, Consolidated Vultee (on an omitted quarterly), Publicker and Schenley.

At peak for 1947 were Cudahy (on a splitup proposal), Texas Co., Shelly Oil, Virginia-Carolina Chemical. Preferred (on a generous payment against dividend accumulations) and Phelps Dodge.

A few railway bonds stiffened. Cotton, toward the finish, was up 45 cents to 90 cents a bale. At Chicago wheat ended down 2½ to 3½ cents a bushel, corn 1¼ to 1¾ and oats 1¾ to 2¾.

Cell-Bound Law Student Tries To Devise Gateway to Outside

TALLAHASSEE, Fla.—(UP)—Al House has an ambition. If he can learn enough law to get himself out of prison, he wants to hang out his shingle.

House has been trying to gain his freedom once a year for the past ten years on his 50-year sentence. He has 30 more to go. House figures this may be long enough to find in the law section of Raiford Prison library the secret key to freedom.

At 50 he said he isn't getting discouraged "because I haven't got any place to go, and I'm getting real educated."

Makes Writs

The prison has one complaint, maybe two. The chief one is that House spends all his time drawing up habeas corpus writs. Then he's suspected of passing out free legal advice to other prisoners.

But Florida Attorney General Tom Watson agreed with House, somewhat admiringly in a professional sort of way, that House has learned more law than many lawyers and most laymen.

Appeal Denied

Watson was even more emphatic in House's legal ability after perusing the latest appeal.

It was a bulky thing, spiced liberally with legal terminology and called a writ of error coram nobis. This meant, House explained somewhere in the long technical brief, that the cops had coerced and deceived him into admitting he was a robber back in 1925.

The state supreme court, to which the latest plea was sent, was unimpressed.

Got Pay

His study of law began as an urgent necessity, but then he decided he may as well give fellow prisoners the benefit of those legal volumes. He tried, and they paid him for it, prison officials said, but they added that no one ever gained his freedom through the jailhouse counsellor.

House gets discouraged, himself, at times about the chance of getting out legally. Then he resorts to other things — like the time in 1938 that he opened a can of sardines and surprise of surprises, somebody had put a little pistol inside.

Oregon Waters Offer Record Tuna Catch

ASTORIA, Ore. — (AP) — Every available tuna fishing boat was at sea Monday and packers said radio reports from the fleet anticipated record catches.

Lower Columbia canneries reported tuna deliveries here were over 100,000 pounds, close to the previous fabulous 1944 season. Packers offered $410 a ton here and some Grays Harbor, Wash., buyers were paying as high as $480 a ton.

Boats that had not been fitted for more than two years were hunting tuna and crews that made deliveries over the weekend returned to sea immediately after restocking.

Accident costs in the United States during 1946 averaged $144 for every family.
