Agents to Show How To Halt Cattle Grub

Two demonstrations are scheduled for March 15 on the control of cattle grubs. The first is at 10 a. m. on the farm of John Duncan, Fall Creek — on the Fall Creek Road about 5 miles above the post office and about 2 miles north of Lowell.

The second is to take place at 2 p. m. on the farm of A. R. Hemenway, 1 mile east of Cottage Grove and one-fourth mile north of the oil tank.

Spraying and dusting of beef and dairy type animals with insecticides will be demonstrated and other methods of control will be discussed by Robert W. Every, entomology specialist from Oregon State College.

These demonstrations have been arranged, says County Extension Agent W. B. Parker, in cooperation with the livestock project committee of the Lane County Agricultural Council and all interested people are invited to attend.

Fire Razes Tool Shed

Flames started by a gasoline air compressor razed a tool shed at 3291 Hilyard St. at 9:44 a. m. Monday, city firemen reported. The building was owned by F. H. Lacy. Two trucks from the Eugene fire department answered the call, although the address is outside the city limits and not included in a cooperating fire district.

Willakenzie Sets Fire Meet

Residents living in the proposed Willakenzie fire district have been invited to attend a mass meeting Wednesday at 8 p. m. at Willakenzie School to discuss the plan, Kennard S. Blanding, chairman of of the organizing committee, said Monday.

Opponents as well as proponents are invited to discuss issues. Among the speakers will be Marvin J. Gilson, deputy state fire marshal from Salem. Gilson will outline problems arising in the formation of a new fire district.

Petitions Readied

At present nearly 30 petition carriers are circulating throughout the area, obtaining the necessary signatures from property owners, on petitions which must be submitted to the county court.

Blanding explained Monday that the name of the district will be decided upon after organization progresses and that the tentative name of Willakenzie district is being used because meetings to date have been held in Willakenzie School.

Area Outlined

The fire district will include all the area bounded on two sides by the Willamette and McKenzie Rivers and School District 19 at the Southeast corner.

Blanding advised that persons desiring to sign petitions or to gather information about the proposal should contact one of the following, all of whom line within the boundaries of the proposed district:

Search for Missing Driver Continues

REEDSPORT—(AP)—Search continued here Monday for a trace of Robert T. Denny, North Bend Building Supply Co. employe, who was driving a truck found Saturday in the Schofield River.

Police said that dragging of the river had failed to produce ony clues. The manner in which the truck doors were wedged shut further indicated that Denny may not have been in the truck when it sank beneath the surface.

Friends and a brother joined authorities Sunday in searching wooded areas near the scene a few miles southeast of here. The Coos Head Building Supply Co., North Bend, reported Denny was using the truck to make collections in this vicinity.

His wife and two children live at North Bend. They were expecting him home Saturday night. Police said the family reported Denny was subject to occasional heart attacks.

The wasp's paralyzing sting has been known to keep the prey alive but motionless for more than five weeks.

Truck Driver Survives Fire

PINOLE, Cal. —(U.P.) — Truck Driver William L. Cox, 30, was recovering in a hospital Monday after being trapped for an hour in the red-hot wreckage of his cab while 3000 gallons of gasoline burned around him.

Cox swerved his truck-trailer into a ditch Sunday to avoid hitting an automobile. As the trailer tipped over, spilling its cargo of gasoline, Cox's left leg was ensnared in the floor boards of the cab.

Passing motorists were trying to free him when the gasoline caught fire, forcing them to fall back and watch in horror while Cox tried frantically to free himself.

Two firemen were burned as they braved the heat to throw Cox a piece of canvas and then shot their fire hoses at the canvas to keep him alive until a tractor reached the scene.

Dr. William Edmeades of Martinez raced through the flames and gave Cox a shot of pain-killing drug but Cox stayed conscious throughout the ordeal and even joked with the men trying to save him.

When the tractor arrived, it dragged the cab to a safe place down the road where Cox was released. Movement of the cab spilled more gasoline from the trailer and a blast of flames shot 75 feet into the air.

Cox was taken to Martinez Community Hospital, suffering from a twisted leg, second degree burns, and shock.
