Saxon King Does Not Spare the Princess.

HE DENIES ANY ILLTREATMENT

He Declares Love for Giron Her Sole Reason for Elopement-She Says She Loves the Frenchman Alone -Affair Has Made King Ill.

BERLIN, Dec. 20.-King George of Saxony has ordered the preparation of a full fficial account of the elopement of the Crown Princess Louise and the circumstances leading up to it for the Saxons. mong whom the most fantastical stories are in circulation to the detriment of the royal people, especially with reference to the future King. The scandal is undermining, according to some opinions the people's loyalty and respect for the throne. The dynasty being Catholic and the people Protestant, the affair is being utilized for secturian controversy."

The King's statement, doubtless, will follow the line indicated in the intimations supplied to the newspapers having court leanings, published today, affirming that the Crown Princess' sole reason for eloping was her criminal relations with Professor Giron and that documentary proofs have been found showing that the elopement had long been in preparation. The stories of ill-treatment on the part of her husband, of oppressive court ceremonial and of her fettered existence are classed

The Crown Princess' own account of the immediate cause of her flight from Salzburg, written to an intimate friend, presumably the Princess Therese, of Bavaria, was telegraphed from Munich this morning. It says her father, the Grand Duke of Tuscany, intended to imprison his daughter either in a lunatic asylum or in an Italian convent. He already had consulted the court physician and several medical authorities in Vienna with the object of obtaining certificates warranting him in shutting her up.

Her father, the Crown Princess adds, was giving her no time for deliberation. He demanded, first that she be taken un der guard to Dresden, to apologize to the Crown Prince, and that she then choose between confinement in a convent or in a madhouse. The Crown Princess asks the Bavarian court to use its influence with the court at Dresden to permit her children to choose their vocation in life

IT MAKES THE KING SICK. Illness Augravated by His Daughterin-Law's Escapade.

DRESDEN, Dec. 30.-Professor Surschmann, of Leipsic, has been called here for consultation with the court physicians re-garding the King's condition, which gives much concern to his family. Although diagnosed as influenza, His Majesty's condition has grown steadily worse during the last few days, due to excitement over the elopement of the Crown Princess, which, in connection with his great age and weakness, has had a depressing ef-fect on the King's mental condition.

Archduke's Claim Scouted. NEW YORK, Dec. 30.-The Times correspondent in Vienna, in a dispatch via London, scouts the alleged claim of respondent in Vienna, in a dispatch via London, scouts the alleged claim of Archauke Leopoid of Tuscany, brother of the Crown Princess of Saxony, or Leo-poid Woelfling, as he will hereafter, be alled to inheritance of the estate of the Archduke John, who disappeared many years ago under the name of John Orth. The correspondent says that this claim is at least premature, since the will of the presumably deceased Archduke is still unopened and probably will be left unopened for several years to come

SHOWS FAVOR TO THE DUTCH. British Commodore Allows Steamer to Unload Despite Blockade.

CARACAS, Dec. 29 .- United States Minister Bowen has received information that the Dutch steamer Prinz Mauritz has entered certain Venezuelan ports blockaded by the British fleet and discharged cargo there. Special permission for the Dutch steamer to do this was obtained from Commodore Montgomerie, of the British cruiser Charybdis. The Italian cruiser Glovanni Bausan ordered the Prinz Mauritz away from port, but Commodore Montgomerie directed that she continue to discharge her cargo.

In Caracas this is held to be a discrimination against American steamers, and the British Commodore's action has been criticised.

CRITICISM IS SILENCED.

liague Treaty Provides for Friendly Intervention in Interest of Peace. WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.-Inasmuch as certain European publicists have taken exception to the efforts of the Unite States to bring about arbitration between Venezuela and the allies as a violation of all the traditions and rules of internation al intercourse, the attention of one of the most eminent American members of the ntatives at The Hague conference, one of the men who framed The Hague convention itself, was directed to the criticisms. He very promptly cleared away the misunderstanding on this point by pointing to article 27 of The Hague con-vention as justification of the attitude of the United States. The article reads:

"The signatory powers consider it their duty if a serious dispute threatens to break out between two or more of them to remind these latter that the permanent court is open to them. Consequently they declare that the fact of reminding the conflicting parties of the provision of the present convention and the advice given to them in the highest interests of peace to have recourse to the permanent court, can only be regarded as friendly action The paragraph was proposed by France and singularly enough it was opposed principally by the United States; yet the United States is the first of the nations to avail itself of its provisions. The reason for the opposition of our delegates a fear on their part that it would seem to be a bestowal of power upon European countries to intervene in Amer-ican affairs, and in a manner an infringement of the Monroe Doctrine. The French delegates were exceedingly inxlous to earry the paragraph, however, and they finally succeeded in quieting the opposition of the United States delegates, ough the reservation by the latter of the right to deal with American affairs in accordance with our doctrines. This thought to safeguard the Monroe was thought to safeguard the monion Doctrine, though it is held here it only recorded an opinion of the United States delegates, and did not bind The Hague tribunal as a whole.

HOPES BLOCKADE WILL BE RAISED. President Awaits Castro's Acceptance of Hague Arbitration.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Today's meeting of the Cabinet was brief, the meeting consuming less than half an hour. All the members excepting Secretary Shaw, who is in New York, were pres-ent. The President and his advisers exchanged felicitations upon the results of the past year's administration and looked forward with hope to the new year. Sec-retary, Hay had little news to present to the Cabinet regarding Venezuelan mat-ters or other matters relating to foreign offairs. It is understood to be the home affairs. It is understood to be the hope and expectation of the President and his advisers that upon the receipt of President Castro's reply to the arbitra-tion proposition the allies will agree to raise the blockade established by them over Venezuelan ports. Such acti questions in controversy in excellent shape for arbitration.

Secretary Moody and Postmaster-General Payne brought to the attention of the Cabinet some matters relating to their departments, but they were of such a nature that no announcements were made Affairs relating to the Land Office were

DR KILMER & CO., Binghamton, N. Y. GENTLEMEN—My trouble began with pain in my stomach and back, so severe that it seemed as if knives were cutting me. I was treated by two of the best physicians in the county, and consulted another. None of them suspected that the cause of my trouble was kidney disease. They all told me that I had cancer of the stomach, and would die. I grew so weak that I could not walk any more than a child a month old, and I only weighed 90 pounds. One day my brother saw in a paper your advertisement of Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy. He bought me a bottle at our drug store and I took it. My family could see a change in me, for the better, so they obtained more and I continued the use of Swamp-Root regularly. I was so weak and run down that it took considerable time to build me up again. I am new well, thanks to Swamp-Root, and weigh 148 pounds, and am keeping house for my husband and brother.
