CLOSE OF THE CONVENTION.

Session This Morning Ended the Educational Meeting—Officers Elected.

The third annual convention of the Inland Empire Teachers' Association closed at noon today. The convention has been successful and profitable to those who have attended from other towns, and has been also very much enjoyed by the people of Pendleton. This afternoon, the visitors are enjoying rides about the town and out to the reservation. Many will leave at 5 this afternoon on the Pioneers' excursion train and the balance tomorrow, a few remaining until Monday.

This forenoon, the remaining portions of the program were carried out and the officers for the ensuing year were elected.

D. V. S. Reid, president of the Weston normal, presented the subject of "Applied Psychology," and J. H. Morgan, vice-president of the Ellensburg state normal, spoke on "More Living Thought—Not so much Dead Form." State Superintendent Brown, of Washington, on general phases of teaching.

At the close of the convention, officers were chosen as follows: G. S. Bond, Walla Walla, president; first vice president, J. F. Nowlin; second vice president, Miss Parmeal French, of Boise; third vice president, J. H. Morgan, Ellensburg; corresponding secretary, Prof. Waller, of Pullman; recording secretary, Miss Shepherd, Lewiston; treasurer, Mrs. E. A. Ivanhoe, of La Grande; executive board, the president and J. P. Banton, Moscow; D. V. S. Reid, Weston; Mrs. E. J. Dockery, Boise; Supt. Saylor, Spokane.

The next meeting place will be at Moscow.

The committee on resolutions reported this morning. The report is signed by Eva Hunt Dockery, Herbert Kittredge, O. A. Hauerbach. The report extends thanks to the people of Pendleton; to the women's clubs of Pendleton, to families who entertained visitors; to the railroad companies; to Miss Gaither, superintendent of the Indian school, to the officers of the association. One resolution was to the effect that the study of Latin has an educational value of such importance that it should be encouraged in our public schools.

Attended a Church Service.

When the afternoon session on Friday came to a conclusion, the convention repaired to the Church of the Redeemer, to attend a service which was arranged in a manner appropriate to the occasion. The rector, the Rev. W. E. Potwine, read briefly from the evening prayer, and preached a very scholarly sermon in which were discussed the limitations of scientific demonstration in the spiritual realm. The sermon was wrought out with remarkable care and was a model of literary form and construction.

The choir of the church rendered Gounod's anthem, "Send Out Thy Light," Prof. Lovewell, of Whitman college, accompanying on the pipe organ. Miss Powtine rendered a contralto solo, "There is a Green Hill far Away," and Mr. Lovewell, on the organ, and Mr Fisher, also, of Whitman, on the violin, gave a recital at the close of the service. The church was crowded during the service, and recital.

President Blanton's Lecture.

In the evening, J. P. Blanton, president of the University of Idaho, at Moscow, lectured on "The Ministry of Women." The address was a remarkable specimen of satire, and related to the experiences of married life. In his own words, Mr. Blanton presented a negative picture, and by holding up to view the absurdities, sought to suggest the opposite phases of the conjugal relation. It was strongly suspected by some of the audience that the speaker is a single man, and drew his conclusions from the experiences of some of his unfortunately mated married friends.

The lecture is entitled to rank as masterful in its incisive satirization, but was open at times to the criticism of lacking the highest degree of refinement. As to its author, the address is indubitable proof of his wonderfully keen intellect and virile brain. As he reached his peroration, after an hour of "vinegary satire," he proved in the few moments remaining which he consumed that he is capable of painting word pictures in softer colors and more subdued tints than those composing the main part of the lecture.

Mr. Blanton may be in a measure excusable for indulging in somewhat of satire, when he was compelled to wait until 9:15 before being introduced. Prior to the beginning of the lecture, a program of an hour's length was rendered, and, inasmuch as the audience was half an hour late in coming, the lecturer was placed at a disadvantage in being preceded by so great a lapse of time.

The preliminary program was a most excellent one and greatly delighted the audience. Mrs. T. E. Fell, accompanied on the organ by Mrs. J. R. Dickson, and on the violin by Mr. Hauerbach, rendered a soprano solo which appealed to all as one of the most artistic things ever heard in Pendleton. She responded with an encore number, and later sang "The Holy City" with her customary fine rendition.

Mr. Fisher played a violin solo and encore, the first especially being artistic in composition and rendition, and the Hypolito quartet pleased the audience with two numbers and encore.

Mr. Hauerbach read perfectly a selection from Browning, and as an encore Field's "But that was very Long Ago," and also a short poem by Kipling.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Reported by I. L. Bay & Co., Chicago Board of Trade and New York Stock Exchange Brokers.

March 24.—There was a very narrow market in wheat today and the close at Chicago was practically the same as yesterday, 65 5-8, after selling at 66.

Liverpool closed 3-8 penny higher, 5—9½. While the weather and crop prospects are good on this side they are quite the reverse in Europe. The Mark Lane Express says: The outlook for spring seeding and planting are exceedingly gloomy. Taking the country generally the sowing of spring grain can not fail to be as late as in 1895.

Stocks all higher, money 5 per cent.

Close yesterday, 66½ to 66 5-8.

Open today, 65 7-8.

Range today, 65 5-8 to 66.

Close today, 65 5-8.

San Francisco, March 24.—Cash wheat, 96½.

ORGANIZE WARD COMPANIES.

Firemen May Now Proceed With Their Plans—Hose Houses.

Chief Grenlich announces that the firemen may now proceed to the organization of the four ward companies. The four ward hose cart houses will be completed in about ten days, and the apparatus will be ready for use at that time. The houses are to be located as follows: One near the Catholic church, one on Jackson street near Martin Anderson's residence, one on Alta street on the lot occupied by the Eugene Field school buildings, and one on Bluff street on the O. R. & N. depot grounds.

Local Market.

Pendleton dealers are paying the following prices for ranch and farm produce:

Butter, 25c per roll.
Eggs, 10c per dozen.
Potatoes, 60c per sack.
Parsnips, 50c per sack.
Cabbage, $3 per 100 pounds.
Turnips, 75c per 100 pounds.
Chickens, $2.50 to $4.00 per dozen.
Ducks, $4 per dozen.
Live turkeys, 10c per pound.
Geese, $10 per dozen.

Daily East Oregonian 15c a week.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Charles Wilkins, Indian agent on the reservation, is in Portland.

Miss Alma Kirk, of Athena, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Marion Jacks, in Pendleton.

S. G. Weller, of Portland, is visiting in Pendleton and will remain for a day or two.

Athena Press: Frank Frazier and wife, of Pendleton, were visiting relatives in town Sunday.

H. E. Ramsur and family returned Friday from Seattle, where they have been for several months.

M. Adelaide Holton, superintendent of the primary grades in the Salt Lake public schools, is a guest at the Hotel Pendleton.

Joaquin Miller, the poet, is in Walla Walla, where he will deliver a lecture next Monday night, at Whitman memorial chapel.

Mrs. Wm. Burgess, who is very ill, is slightly improved today, although not materially so. She is regarded as quite seriously ill.

C. A. Barrett, of Athena, was in town on Friday. Mr. Barrett says the electric power company of Athena are working on the plans and look for success.

J. P. Blanton, president of the University of Moscow, arrived from Moscow, Friday evening, and lectured in the evening before the teachers' association.

P. A. McPherson, who has been here in the interest of the Order of Pendo, completed the organization and returned to his home in Portland on this morning's train.

Mrs. H. C. Judd, Mrs. Leonard Fiske, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Judd were passengers on this morning's train for Walla Walla, on a visit to the Garden City. They will return Sunday evening.

Heppner Gazette: Senator J. W. Morrow has been standing up against a bad cold for two weeks, but when it settled on his lungs Monday he had to go to bed. It is pretty severe, but the careful nursing of Mrs. Morrow will soon have him out again.

Charles E. Uckele has returned from a trip to his old home at Erie, Michigan, where he spent the winter very pleasantly. When he left there the people were still uncomfortable from rigorous winter weather, and when he arrived here to see the fruit trees in bloom and the green grass on the hills and in the valleys was exceedingly gratifying.

Heppner Times: Mrs. Mamie T. Rosenberg, of Pendleton, has been visiting friends and relatives in Heppner for the past week. She was the guest of her mother, Mrs. Tillard, and other members of that family. Mrs. Rosenberg is an active and prominent member of the Pendleton circle, Women of Woodcraft, and the success of that organization in this place is largely due to her untiring efforts.

Dr. C. L. Reeder, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, is in Pendleton today. He came down from Spokane on Friday evening's train and will remain here for a few days, going on then to Portland. Dr. Reeder is seeking out a location, in which to enter the practice of medicine. He regards this country as offering superior advantages to people desiring to settle in the west. The Inland Empire, according to the doctor, enjoys a good reputation for prosperity in the middle west and the far east.

FUNERAL OF MRS. M'KAY.

Laid to Rest in Olney Cemetery After Burial Service This Morning.

At the Church of the Redeemer this morning, at 10:30 o'clock, the funeral of the late Mrs. Wm. C. McKay was held, the service being read by the Rev. W. E. Potwine, rector of the church. The body was brought from the residence at the hour mentioned, being attended by the following as pallbearers: Frank Frazier, Cris Simpson, John F. Robinson, James Lindsey, W. H. Fowler, Thomas Thompson.

The body was interred in the Olney cemetery. The body of the late Dr. Wm. C. McKay, which now lies on the McKay ranch just east of Pendleton, as also the body of Mrs. W. W. Roper, a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. McKay, will be removed and placed in the Olney cemetery by the side of the body of Mrs. McKay.

The funeral of Mrs. McKay was the occasion for many friends evincing the high respect in which they held her, by their attendance at the services. There is very general sorrow at the death of the honored pioneer woman of the county and one who, with her husband, had so much to do with the early development of this Inland Empire. During those days, when but the beginnings of civilization had been made, Dr. and Mrs. McKay were among the few who advanced the country to the higher level which it has more lately attained.

An Indian Thief.

Schuyler Colfax, an Indian, was arrested on the reservation, near Fort Simcoe, by Deputy United States Marshal A. L. Dilley and brought to this city for trial on the charge of grand larceny. The complaint, made by Lydia Spencer, alleges that Colfax literally stole and carried away from her allotted land, one two-story, six-room house, kitchen, granary, barn, shed, water closet and wire fencing for an 80-acre tract.

Excursion of the Pioneers.

Pioneers of the Pacific are expecting a very large number of people to go on the excursion this afternoon at 5 o'clock, when members of the order go to Walla Walla to attend the annual rally. The train which leaves at 5 o'clock will bear several coaches of excursionists. The Pendleton band will furnish music and the Pioneers are all anticipating a very enjoyable time.
