SENATOR SMITH'S DATES.

Will Speak in This County on Four Occasions—Pendleton, May 19.

Senator William Smith, of Baker City, who has been nominated by the democratic party for congress from the Second district of Oregon, has given four days to Umatilla county as follows:

Pendleton, on Saturday evening next, May 19, at the court house.

Echo, on Thursday, May 17.

Flint Rock, on Friday, May 18.

Senator Smith will also be at the Pioneer's reunion at Weston on June 2, and will speak to the people on that occasion.

Senator Smith is a strong nominee and should be heard on the issues of the day. In the campaign publication issued by the democratic central committee of Umatilla county Senator Smith is thus mentioned:

"The nominee in the second congressional district is Senator William C. Smith, of Baker City, state senator from that county in the legislature. Senator Smith's nomination has been counted one of the strongest which has been made in the state. His candidacy has been well received throughout the district. The favorable impression created at first has been deepened and strengthened by Senator Smith's vigorous campaign, upon which he entered soon after the state convention, by publishing to the world, in newspaper interviews, the views he held upon leading public questions. All who read his statements recognized the conservative and safe character of the speaker, and, also, the originality with which he treats public questions. Senator Smith's election would give Oregon an able, vigorous and faithful representative in the lower house of the national legislature."

COPPERS WILL GET WHEELMEN.

If They Don't Look Out, and Mind the Ordinance.

Bicycle riders would better heed the ordinances, and not ride so much on the sidewalks. Now that the streets are dry the cyclists have not the excuse for sidewalk riding they had some time ago, and pedestrians will soon lose patience and call for some arrests. Several persons have been struck by wheels lately, while walking on the sidewalks. It is apparent that wheelmen think they have the right to crowd pedestrians of the walks at their will. A well known citizen remarked today:

"I have just about made up my mind to ask the marshal to arrest certain bicycle riders and then to appear in court myself and insist upon the execution of the largest fine provided on the law. I am tired of being imposed by wheelmen. Last night I was passing along a walk across the street when suddenly I heard a bell ringing at the feet from me, and before I could move to one side a rider dashed past me, the handlebar striking me in the side and throwing me against the fence. It was not so dark but I could see the rider and could swear as to his identity. I would not stand such treatment more than once more. If it happen again, I propose to find out if the law can be enforced and will have the offender arrested, although he is a well known young man and might not want to be dragged into court."

Numerous protests such as this have been made. It is plainly to be seen that cyclists are acting in such manner as to insure a repeal of the existing bicycle ordinance and the passage in its place of one which will prohibit riding on the walks at any time and in any place.

The mayor and the councilmen have desired to give the wheelmen all privileges possible, and have enacted an ordinance very liberal in its provisions. It may finally turn out that the experience of Pendleton with wheelmen is that of many of an individual who gives an inch and has an ell taken. Possibly, it will be necessary to have a serious accident before the wheelmen will be brought to a realization of the danger to pedestrians when riders disregard others' rights and whirl past people in the reckless manner now common to Pendleton cyclists. Small pity would be given the one who, inflicting injury, would be arrested and fined or imprisoned.

DEHORNING CATTLE.

Eastern Authority Advocates It as a Humane Practice.

Says an Eastern cattle breeder, regarding the dehorning practice:

"Dehorning, which bids fair to become almost universal, is favored by a majority of the best feeders, and indeed the practice has such to command it, from the standpoint of humanity as well as of utility. No one who has seen cattle come out of a car with eyes gouged out and bodies bruised and scarred by the cruel thrusts of these useless appendages will doubt the humanity and wisdom of removing same at as early a stage in the animal's existence as possible. Among other unquestioned advantages of dehorning are the great saving of space at feeding "bunk", hayrack, shed, water-tank, and wherever the cattle congregate; less danger of injury in shipping, a more uniform appearance and the further fact that, all other things being equal, horns detract as a rule about ten cents per 100 pounds from the selling price of a lot of cattle, especially where they are purchased for further shipment alive. We believe it is to the interest of every man who raises or feeds cattle to practice dehorning, and the younger it is done the less pain is caused by the operation. If properly performed the element of danger is insignificant."

Livestock and Packing Figures.

A compilation of the number of cattle slaughtered last year at Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis and Omaha shows a total of 3,786,000, compared with 3,553,000 in 1898, 3,711,000 in 1897 and 3,627,000 in 1896. The amount paid for the 3,786,000 slaughtered last year at the above four points was about $170,000,000.

The magnitude of the pork packing industry is shown by the immense sum of money paid out by packers for hogs. The cost of hogs purchased by western packers during the twelve months ended March 1, 1900, was approximately $213,000,000; during the same period eastern packers paid out $55,000,000, making a total of $268,000,000.

During 1899 there were slaughtered at Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis and Omaha 5,019,000 sheep. A glance at the following totals for preceding years will show the rapid increase in the consumption of mutton: 1898, 4,647,000; 1897, 4,654,000; 1896, 4,299,000; 1895, 3,395,000; 1894, 3,565,000, and 1893, 3,278,000. The amount paid for the 5,019,000 sheep in 1899 was approximately $14,000,000.

During 1899 there were exported (alive) from the United States 409,176 cattle, valued at $30,685,461. For several years preceding the figures are as follows: 1898, 397,879 head, value $33,463,216; 1897, 392,190 head, value $36,357,457; 1896, 394,772 head, value $36,576,412; 1895, 289,350 head, value $26,997,701.

The aggregate western and eastern slaughter of hogs during the twelve months ended March 1, 1900, was 29,793,000, a decrease of 1,621,000 from last year.

The average cost of hogs packed in the west, per 100 pounds alive, for years ending March 1 is as follows: 1900, $4.11; 1899, $3.71; 1898, $3.63; 1897, $3.30; 1896, $4.07, and 1895, $4.67.

Exports of beef (fresh, salted and canned) from the United States during 1899 show a total of 415,643,114 pounds, valued at $35,129,435. Last year's exports footed up 352,831,778 pounds, worth $28,710,685.

The average live weight of hogs slaughtered in the west during the winter season ending March 1, 1900, was 236 pounds, compared with 233 pounds last year, 255 pounds in 1898, 245 pounds in 1897, and 241 pounds in 1896.

KILL THE MANGY PONIES.

Information of Spread of Disease on Reservation Received.

Deputy State Veterinarian Thomas Thompson receives additional complaints that mange is spreading rapidly on the reservation, and that horses are more and more in danger of infection. Recently, two range riders came in from the foothills and reported to Mr. Thompson that the disease is infecting the loose horses, and that no man's horses are safe.

Mr. Thompson awaits some word from Governor Geer regarding the attitude of the authorities in Washington, and in answer to the governor's request that the Oregon delegation in congress secure an understanding with the interior department. Mr. Thompson hopes that the diseased Indian ponies are killed. He contends that the agent here on the reserve has been given authority to dispose of the mangy horses, and that it rests with him to exterminate the disease. Certainly, some final understanding should be reached, whereby the matter will receive attention. Every day the mangy horses are allowed to run at large the danger is increased that horses unaffected will be given the disease.

Dead Horses in Umatilla River.

One feature of the situation is of keen interest to Pendleton people—dead horses in the Umatilla river. Mr. Thompson's information is to the effect that quite a number of dead horses have been found lying in the streams in the foothills, the Umatilla and its tributaries. This is certainly a pollution of the water supply of the city of Pendleton and should be given attention. If the state cannot kill the mangy horses, then the government should do so, and it should do so at once. Pendleton is sufficiently interested to warrant some insistence that action be taken at once.

Five Things.

The five diseases for which Shiloh's Consumption Cure is especially recommended, are Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup and Consumption. No medicine ever made by man is equal to it in any respect. Sold under a positive guarantee. Money back if it fails. 25 cts, 50 cts and $1 a bottle. Tallman & Co.

A JOURNALISTIC HOP FIEND.

Imaginative Fellow on the Walla Walla Union Needs to Learn the Country.

Says the Walla Walla Union, in an editorial:

"The troubles between the county authorities and the remnant of the Columbia river tribe of Indians at Umatilla Junction, regarding the attempt to collect personal taxes, which brought an order from General Shafter to Captain Cheever to investigate and report, has been settled perhaps by the recommendation of Capt. Cheever that the tax collector be removed. It was a noteworthy circumstance in connection with this case that the Union was the only newspaper, aside from the Tacoma Ledger, to secure this news. Down in Pendleton, where newspapers are undoubtedly sleeping, the report was denied and the denial was used as authoritative by another sleepy afternoon paper in Walla Walla, the latter being published after Capt. Cheever had returned to Fort Walla Walla, and confirmation of the story could have been had for the asking. All of which goes to show that you must depend on the Union for your news."

Doubtless, the Union, under the new politically subsidized management, has wealth enough to employ some Oriental hop fiend to write from vivid imagination and then "beef" because other papers do not accept the vain imaginings as news. Such statements, as that trouble necessitating calling United States troops had arisen with the Indians hereabouts, are purely rot, nonsense and poppycock. Anyone who has lived in the Inland Empire knows that there is not one tribe capable of rising and standing off one deputy sheriff; that the natives are enervated and dispirited, and that it is farcical in the extreme to talk of taking troops from the Walla Walla fort to quell an uprising. Anyone familiar with this region knows this to be true.

The Union's "news," which was shared by the Tacoma Ledger, was that Captain Cheever had gone from Walla Walla to the Umatilla reservation, and that Sheriff Blakley had called for federal soldiers. As a matter of fact, Sheriff Blakley had had no trouble at all, had called for no troops, and knew nothing of it. It transpired on the Union's own confession of inaccuracy that the statement was wrong. The Union itself said:

"When Captain Cheever left for Umatilla it was the impression that the trouble had occurred on the reservation. This is a mistake."

The "hop" had been working, and the fiend had returned to a normal condition. Let the Union tell where the trouble occurred; who was the sheriff; when and how it happened. In short, let the Union handle the item as any trained newsgatherer would, and then other papers and the readers of the Union would be able to gather something of what the Union means. Meantime let the Union's hop fiend do some more imagining and earn the Union's right to front rank as a yellow journal.

J. Q. Hood, justice of the peace, Crosby, Miss., makes the following statement: "I can certify that One Minute Cough Cure will do all that is claimed or it. My wife could not get her breath and the first dose of it believed her. It has also benefited my whole family." It acts immediately and cures coughs, colds, croup, grippe, bronchitis, asthma and all throat and lung troubles. Tallman & Co., leading druggists.

FREE FROM WEEVILS.

Wheat of This County Has Not Been Injured by the Pest.

Portland wheat handlers continue to find weevils in wheat sent from the interior. Recently, a sample package of wheat was received in Portland which was entirely destroyed by the pest.

Wheat of this county has not been attacked by the weevil, one wheat man explaining that it was due to the fact that all the warehouses were set up from the ground. This, said he, has always been an effective means of preventing weevil from infecting the grain.

Examination of the sample of wheat at Portland by grain men brought various opinions, says the Oregonian. Some wheat men who examined the grain and bugs mentioned were of opinion that the bugs were eating up the wheat. Others thought that the bugs had grown inside the wheat from eggs deposited in the kernels when in the "milk" or in the "dough," and that they had consumed the contents of the kernel and really eaten their way through the skin.

Some insisted that there was the germ of a weevil in every kernel of wheat, and that in due time, under favorable conditions, the weevil came to maturity and ate its way out, and immediately proceeded to attend to business by seeing that an egg or germ from which a weevil should spring was deposited in every kernel of young grain when it reached the proper condition.

There can be no doubt about the weevils in this case having emerged from the kernels of wheat, which they have rendered valueless.

IT WAS A PROFITABE TRADE.

How the Government Swapped Off Good Land for Bad Land.

In 1899 congress passed a bill to set aside certain lands in the state of Washington as a public park, known as the Mt. Rainier national park and provided that the Northern Pacific railroad company might relinquish the land granted to it with in the public park to the government, and select in place of same, any other non-mineral public lands in any state into which said railroad ran.

In accordance therewith, the Northern Pacific railroad company, relinquished thousands of acres of land within said park which was utterly useless and without value and not worth the taxes paid on them and are now in this state gobbling up all the best timber lands we have. Nearly 200,000 acres have already been taken by these "land grabbers" in the Oregon City and Roseburg land districts and the end is not in sight.

The Northern Pacific railroad company, has less than 50 miles of road in Oregon. It has no interest whatever in building up the state and yet it has been permitted by a republican congress to come to our state and rob the people and homeseekers who would settle upon these lands and build up homes for themselves.

In a short time all the lands of this country will be in the hands of the railroad corporations. The lands owned by them within the public parks are said to be without value and could not be sold by the company at any price, but by this act they are permitted to acquire lands worth from $10 to $20 per acre. The railroad grants were bad in the beginning, but this last piece of republican legislation is vicious in the extreme.

And to show the extremes to which these republican legislators have gone in this bill, the company can select and get patents at once for these timber lands, whether surveyed or unsurveyed, a right which is denied a settler who is seeking to make a home for himself, and the further fact that no proof of these lands being nonmineral in character is required from the company.

A settler must establish the nonmineral character of his home by proof: The rich corporations can acquire lands without any proof whatever. How long are the people of Oregon going to stand this treatment?

Republican congressmen were parties to this fraud. Neither Moody nor Tongue, congressman from Oregon, raised their voices against it. For this reason, if for no other, Smith should be elected over Moody from the second district and Daly over Tongue in the first district. The voter will have an opportunity to do so on the second of next month.
