HORSE MARKET IMPROVING.

Indications That Prices Will be Better Two Years Hence.

"From the indications, and judging from the trend of events in the horse world, I am sure horses will be worth more money two years hence than they are now, although, at the present time, they are bringing very good prices," said Frank Frazier today. Mr. Frazier has been giving close attention to the writings in the various horse papers, and comes to that conclusion from his readings.

Regarding the Pendleton horse parade and the improvement in prices, the Morro Observer says:

"While in Pendleton last week we witnessed a parade of Umatilla county horses. It would have been creditable even to Kentucky back in those days when the Kentucky horse was strictly the king of domestic animals. The days of Ivanho, and of Patchen, Mosco. The Pendleton horses we read about. $50 head of parade consisted of about as to in-trim-ensets, and was such le and boasts that after all the bicycle craze and automobile have not yet done so much to displace the horse, even as a means of diversion.

"About two years ago a considerable uneasiness was manifested among breeders because foreign buyers were excluding Americans at the annual sales. An apprehension existed that the best of our stock would depreciate in the change, but at present conditions have very much improved, and with the passing of the cayuse the better Oregon horse has suddenly become a producer on the balance side of the stockman's ledger, and this is a condition which promises to continue indefinitely. It opposes the current idea that the horse proper was passing out, and the prevalent notion that cavalry was falling into disfavor. The horse in these respects is now stronger than ever. It has become evident, through the lessons of the Boer war, that the soldiers of the future will be largely mounted infantry. The armies of the world will require twice as many horses, perhaps three or four times as many, as in the past. Western horses answering to the requirements of the United States army, appears to be the favorite animal. He is now in great demand, equalling the demand at the abbatoir for cayuse ponies, and the price is bound to go beyond the present comparative high figure. In Europe the mobilization of the armies takes the horse out of carriage and drays, and losses in case of war must be supplied from the United States.

"Umatilla county is preparing to furnish its annual quota."

KRUGER, OF UKIAH, IS ACTIVE.

The Reverend Paul Continues to Work for the Boer Cause.

Rev. Paul Kruger, formerly of Ukiah, this county, now of Huntsville, Wash., continues his activity for the South African Boers. The Spokesman-Review has the following:

"Rev. Paul Kruger, of Huntsville, a leader of the Boer National Relief Association, was in this city yesterday afternoon, leaving for Chehalis over the Northern Pacific last night. He is to make a tour of the sound and then come home about the first of June. While in the city Mr. Kruger made arrangements for a reception committee and other details of the proposed visit of three Boer envoys now in this country. These Boer envoys, Fischer, secretary of state of the Orange Free State; Wolmarans, speaker of the volksraad of the South African Republic, and Wessels, speaker of the volksraad of the Orange Free State, arrived in New York a day or two ago, and they will come west at once, arriving on the coast in a short time. They are under control of George W. Van Siclen of New York, and the representatives of the Boer organization will arrange for great meetings at which they can address the people in an endeavor to enlist sympathy. Mr. Kruger will endeavor to have the envoys visit this city, Spokane and the sound cities."

PENDLETON SCHOOLMEN WIN OUT.

Home Team Had 106 Points, Weston 46. Tribune Cup Remains Here—Thousand People Were in Attendance.

In the field day sports on Saturday, Pendleton public scohols won out with a score of 106 points, to 46 credited to Weston normal school. The victory of the home schools keeps in Pendleton for one year the handsome silver cup offered by the Tribune, to be held by the school winning it three times in succession. The cup is to be won and held on the total scores of the schools competing in the field day sports, first places to count five points, second places three points, third places one point. The cup is a handsome piece standing about six inches high and having an inscription showing the years of the winnings.

The cup was very much sought by the two competing schools, and furnishes an appropriate means of stimulating the spirit of true amateur athletics.

In the Saturday games, Pendleton's places in the events were: Firsts, 13; seconds, 11; thirds, 8; Weston's, firsts, 4; seconds, 7; thirds, 8; the score being: Pendleton, 106; Weston, 46.

The games took place on Simpson & Peringer's racetrack one mile east from town, where nearly one thousand people gathered at 2:30 o'clock, when the program opened. The course was in good condition and the day was very favorable, excepting for the occasional blowing of the wind, which interfered slightly with the around-the-track events. It was not enough, however, to be material, the program passing off with only some slight delay at the beginning which was remedied later by greater dispatch in pulling off the events.

Pendleton won out, for the reason, in part, that the Pendleton men had had systematic training, while the Weston men had had only desultory work in preparing. The gentlemanly bearing of the Weston men and the fine spirit of true sport in which they entered into the contests won favor from every one of the hundreds who attended.

Criticism can justly be directed against only one event, the one-mile bicycle race, the riders starting off at a loaf, barely moving from the tape at the word "go." They had had no agreement as to pace setting. R. W. Fletcher, Adams' trainer, was able on foot to catch the bunch at the first turn, and call to his man Adams to give them a pace. Adams bent over the handle bars and from that time on the race was a race. The time, by reason of the loaf at the beginning, was awful—3 minutes 40¾ seconds. The time for the first mile was 2:15, and for the second 1:25¾.

The Weston team was under the charge of Prof. Monical, of the normal school faculty, Pendleton's men being trained by Assistant Principal Roy Conklin. C. J. Ferguson, J. Roy Raley and B. H. Decker were judges; Thos. Thompson, Tom Milarkey and James Irwin were the timers; J. E. Lathrop was scorer; Marshal Heathman with several deputies were line men.

The summary of events is:

ATHENA, 12—PENDLETON, 11.

Base Ball Game Won on Sunday by the Visiting Team.

The team composed of Athena and Weston players won the baseball game Sunday afternoon in a score of 12 to 11. It was a close game to the end of the eighth inning, when the score was "eleven and", the Athenas scoring in the last. The day was ideal, just warm enough for good playing, but not so warm as to make it uncomfortable for players or spectators. Attendance was good.

Pendleton lined up with Marin and Mulqueen as the battery, and the men placed as follows: Ulrich, first base; Turner, second base; Hartman, third base; Shull, right field; Brightman, left field; Dupuis, center field; Meach, short stop. Athenas arrangement was: Saunders and Proebstel, battery; Koontz, first base; Woods, second base; Cully, third base; Lieuallen, right field; Dell, left field; Nelson, center filed; Castleman, shortstop.

Griffin, of Pendleton, umpired; Callender, of Athena, and Maskrey, of Penldeton, scored.

He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It is expected that she will return to her home at Weston this summer. She has been in the field nearly two years, her work and has been highly commended by the bishop of Alaska and other officials.

Unused Resources.

The amount of arid lands which lie in Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas and Colorado is estimated to be at least five hundred millions of acres, says the New York Journal. This is rendered useless by the need of water, and the reclamation of this land would add billions of dollars to the wealth of the country. In many sections of Colorado and other states in which irrigation is used, the best farming lands in the country are those which were formerly worthless and are now artificially watered.

Is This Plain Enough.

If you have a nagging cough and are losing flesh, go to a drug store, and get a bottle of Shiloh's Consumption cure. Take two-thirds of it, and then, if you are not benefited, return the bottle to the druggist, and he will return your money. Isn't that fair? No one could ask more. 25 cts., 50 cts. and $1 a bottle.
