PEOPLE WHO ARE HERE FOR A DAY.

Senator B. F. Mulkey of Polk county is a visitor in Umatilla county, having arrived on Thursday. While in Pendleton he is a guest of W. H. Hawley, of Hawley & Wilcox. He has charge of the department of English at the State Normal school at Monmouth and is a champion of that part of the public school system of the state. He is at Weston and Athena today, in both of which places he has friends in business, politics and education. At Weston he will confer with Senator George W. Proebstel, in regard to the Eastern Oregon state normal school located there, its plans for the future and its necessities.

Senator Mulkey was the senator from Polk county elected in 1896 and who participated in the "holdup" session of 1897. He was one of those who refused to go into joint session of the house and senate until after the house had permanently organized. As the house failed to organize, he never had the pleasure of joining with it and voting for United States senator. In this connection, it is interesting to note that Mr. Mulkey is the only member of either house of the "holdup" session in the state, outside of Multnomah county, who has been re-elected to the legislature.

Mr. Mulkey complimented the work that has been done by the Eastern Oregon State Normal school at Weston, and predicts even better work in the future, with a disappearance of some of the causes that have had a tendency to retard the growth of that institution.

Senator Mulkey and Representative L. B. Reeder of Pendleton were members of the same class in college, and they graduated together. His trip to Eastern Oregon is a pleasant one, thus far, so he says, and he will return to Polk county with better knowledge of the needs of this section, which knowledge will assist him next winter in his legislative duties. Mr. Mulkey is an affable gentleman with friends in all parties, evidence of which is given by the election last June, when he carried his county by a majority of about 200, while some of the legislative ticket of his party went down to defeat.

J. Eugene Moore, who with his family is summering at Long Beach, near Ilwaco, is at the Hotel Pendleton, over which hostelry he presided for several years as the popular proprietor. Mr. Moore says the beaches this year are crowded with pleasure seekers and campers and cottagers from all parts of Oregon and Washington, the weather being delightful and such as to attract all who can spare the time for an outing. Mr. Moore will go to Lewiston, after attending to some business matters here for a day or two. He saw Ed C. Allen in Portland on Thursday, and found Mr. Allen improved so much that he will shortly go to the seaside for a two weeks stay, having sustained the surgical operations very successfully. Mr. Allen says he is the only man from Pendleton, who, visiting Portland, was ever told by a competent phsician that he hadn't gall enough. But this was Mr. Allen's experience at the hospital there.

O. H. Bellinger, an O. R. & N. engineer, was at the Hotel Pendleton this morning, with an assistant, Grant Bailey, the two leaving for Riparia on the Spokane train. Mr. Bellinger was a candidate for the office of city engineer of Portland last June, and, so hundreds of friends throughout Oregon think, should have been elected. It is generally thought he would have brought the highest quality of official integrity and skill to that position, which, in a town as large as Portland, is very important.

Miss Lillian Proebstel's Wedding.

Miss Lillian Proebstel, daughter of Senator and Mrs. G. W. Proebstel, of Weston, was married at Anvik, Alaska, on August 1, according to announcements received, to Mr. William Fredericks, a young man prominent in Alaska in business circles who is employed in a responsible position with the Alaska Commercial company. This is an extensive concern, doing business at many points in the far north. Mr. Fredericks finished his education a year ago in England, and then returned to his home in Alaska, where his father has been a steamboat captain for 30 years and his mother and sisters also reside.

Says the Weston Leader: The bride is the eldest daughter of Senator G. W. Proebstel, of Weston, where she made her home until her departure some two years ago to enter the Alaskan missionary field. She is held in high esteem in this community, and the well wishes of numerous friends will be wafted by ocean breezes to the future home of the happy couple in the frozen north. The letter was dated June 27, and the wedding was then expected to occur about August 1, upon the bridegroom's return from a long business journey. Mr. and Mrs. Fredericks will reside in Alaska for several years at least, as all of Mr. Frederick's interests are there.

Wright–Van Vleet Wedding.

The following account of the wedding of Miss Van Vleet is taken from the Sumpter Miner. The bride was formerly principal of the Normal training department at Weston, where friends present congratulations:

"O. C. Wright, of Granite, and Miss L. Mae Van Vleet, of La Grande, were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Robbins, in this town, last Thursday evening, Rev. James Byres officiating. The ceremony was entirely private, being witnessed only by Mr. and Mrs. Robbins and family. The parlor was beautifully decorated with evergreens and cut flowers. The large fireplace before which the couple stood, was banked with smilax, while everywhere were tastefully arranged in profusion white and pink carnations. The bride was attractively gowned in white organdie, holding a bouquet of bride roses. After the ceremony was performed an informal reception was attended by a few intimate friends. The bride has for many years made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Robbins, is a lady of unusual culture, of rare accomplishments and is loved as a daughter by these good people. Mr. Wright is one of the rising young men of Eastern Oregon, is a successful merchant, is of pleasant personality, of much more than ordinary intelligence and is destined to play an important part in the development of this Inland Empire. Mr. and Mrs. Wright left for their home in Granite the day following their marriage."

A Heppner Wedding.

Dr. E. R. Swinburne and Mrs. Hannah Bartholomew, both of Heppner, and well known in Pendleton, were married at Heppner last Sunday and left Monday morning for Portland, where they take the steamer for San Francisco. They will spend a month of their honeymoon in viewing sights of interest in California.

The Grandson Arrives.

Ernest French, son of A. E. French, who was killed at Rossland, B. C., three weeks ago by falling down the shaft of the mine in which he was employed, arrived in Pendleton Wednesday. He was escorted from Rossland by Tom Lanham, who returned home today. The boy was met here by his grandfather, J. H. French, the noted stockman who resides on Butter creek, 30 miles southwest of Pendleton. Mrs. French and the second child, a girl, are still at Rossland, and will remain there a couple of weeks to close up some business affairs, after which they will also come to Umatilla county and make their home on Butter creek.

Personal Mention.

Hank Smith, a stockman of Pilot Rock, is in Pendleton today on business.

Salem Statesman: Hon. J. H. Raley, of Pendleton, was a business visitor in Salem yesterday.

Salem Statesman: Judge Fee, of Pendleton, was in Salem between trains yesterday, on legal business.

Lewis Gault and John Harrison represent the Pilot Rock section in Pendleton today.

Miss Myrtle Smith spent Thursday at Walla Walla as a guest of Miss Pauline Garfield and Miss Williams.

S. L. Morse, deputy United States marshal, is in Pendleton on business in connection with his position, having recently taken a vacation.

La Grande Chronicle: Mrs. S. B. Thompson, who has been on a visit to her parents in Pendleton for the past two weeks, returned home this morning.

W. J. and Victor Chastain, of Milton, were in Pendleton yesterday making a rush filing on a piece of land. They arrived at 5 o'clock and returned at 5:35.

Senator and Mrs. T. C. Taylor expect soon to leave for a visit at the seaside and in Portland. Preparations are being made for the erection of a residence on the lots purchased by Senator Taylor opposite the court house.

Father Veerhaag, of Baker City, passed through Pendleton Thursday morning on his way to Verboort, Washington county, where he will make his home in the future, having been advanced to the position of dean.

O. W. Fee has returned from a two weeks visit at Hot Lake, Union county, where he went on account of rheumatism in his right arm. He was greatly benefited by the water, and speaks a good word for the lake.

W. N. Northrop and family of Boise, Idaho, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Hailey Thursday, and left this morning for the coast to spend the summer. They had been at Bingham springs for the past few days. Mr. Northrop is engaged in the hardware business at Boise with Frank R. Coffin, ex-state treasurer.

L. E. Roy and family of Pilot Rock, are in Pendleton today. Mr. Roy is acting mayor of that village, but does not allow that to interfere with his other duties. He reports that typhoid fever is quite prevalent there, that disease having taken the place of smallpox which prevailed to such and extent last winter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Haye and daughter are in Pendleton and will remain here a month, then return to Spokane, where Mr. Haye is in business. They have been rusticating at Montezano, Gray's harbor, for several weeks. Mr. Haye has a high opinion of Pendleton, and the entire family are glad to be here for a visit with their many friends.

E. Van Dusen and A. Scherneckau of Astoria, are registered at Hotel Pendleton. They visit Pendleton for the purpose of consummating a commercial deal which is intended to be a benefit to the state at large. They will endeavor to arrange matters here with James A. Fee, president of the Commercial Association, and with Senator T. C. Taylor, after which the particulars of their mission will be given due publicity. Mr. Van Dusen is president of the Astoria chamber of Commerce and Mr. Scherneckau a member of the city council. Both are men of extensive business interests.

En Route to Alaska.

Mrs. Wesley N. Matlock, who has been visiting her parents in Richmond, Mo., has arrived in Pendleton on her way to Juneau, Alaska, having received a telegram from Mr. Matlock to go at once. She leaves tomorrow for Seattle, whence to sail for her home. Mrs. Matlock is one of the pioneer women who went to southern Alaska during the incipiency of the Klondike excitement and has witnessed the growth of the towns of that region from hamlets to cities. She has learned from her husband particulars in addition to those recently published in the East Oregonian regarding the Nugget Creek placer strike by her husband and others, but says she has no positively final advices as to the permanency of the district. It is likely, however, that the claims will prove to be very rich.

HUMORS OF THE HARVEST FIELD.

Two Sides of the Labor Question in the State of Oregon.

Says the La Grande Journal: Two strong, able-bodied men were begging their breakfast in La Grande Monday morning. They had come from Pendleton, where the farmers are searching in the hedges and by-ways for men, over the Blue Mountains where men are needed in the mines and lumber camps, into La Grande where men can almost command their own price. And yet they lacked the price of a meal's victuals. The person who gave it to them was certainly guilty of indiscriminate charity.

Says the Albany Herald: A man coming up from Portland, a few days ago, said he was looking for a steady job. He had been working in Eastern Oregon, where he said the work wasn't steady enough, so he threw up a job he had and started for the valley. He began work at 4 o'clock in the morning, stopped a few minutes for breakfast, worked until noon, stopped a short time for dinner, worked until six o'clock, stopped for supper, and then worked until 9:30, when they quit work entirely—until 4 o'clock next morning. What he wanted was a place where there was work all the time.

Drake and Meach.

Fred Drake and Mort Meack, who are making a tour of the country to the south of Pendleton, are having a good time, according to word received from them. They were recently at Long creek, and Fred Drake writes: "A lively town—well, I should say so. The day we arrived there was all kinds of excitement. A woman came to town and 'cleaned out' the two saloons, whipped her son-in-law and carried her drunken husband back home with her in triumph. It was a great day." According to the letter the husband in the case had been spending more than the proper portion of his time at the saloons, hence the swift and sure vengeance tactics adopted by the irate wife. Messrs. Meach and Drake will continue their journey indefinitely.

Come and look at the bicycles at the Crescent Agency in the East Oregonian building. Bicycles for a small amount down and the balance in monthly payments, no interest.

DON'T BE DUPED

There have been placed upon the market several cheap reprints of an obsolete edition of "Webster's Dictionary." They are being offered under various names at a low price dry goods dealers, grocers, agents, etc., and in a few instances as a premium for subscriptions to papers.

By

Announcements of these comparatively reprints are very misleading; for instance, they are advertised to be the substantial equivalent of a higher-priced book, when in reality, so far as we know and believe they are all, from A to Z,

Reprint Dictionaries, phototype copies of a book of over fifty years ago, which in its day was sold for about $5.00, and which was much superior in paper, print, and binding to those imitations, being then a work of some merit instead of one

Long Since Obsolete.

The supplement of 10,000 so-called "new words," which some of these books are advertised to contain, was compiled by a gentleman who died over forty years ago, and was published before his death. Other minor additions are probably of more or less value.

The Webster's Unabridged Dictionary published by our house is the only meritorious one of that name familiar to this generation. It contains over 2000 pages, with illustrations on nearly every page, and bears our imprint on the title page. It is protected by copyright from cheap imitation.

Valuable as this work is, we have at vast expense published a thoroughly revised successor, known throughout the world as Webster's International Dictionary. As a dictionary lasts a lifetime you should
