A Japanese laborer laying steel rails on the cutoff between Echo and Nolin, had the bridge of his foot crushed by a rail falling on it on Tuesday afternoon. He stood the pain unflinchingly and was taken to St. Vincent's hospital at Portland.

There will be a band practice at 8 o'clock this evening. Following is the program for the concert on Friday evening: March, "The Scorcher," Rosey; waltz (all Concert), "Forest King," Turner; Andante, "In the Gloaming," Harrison; grand selection, from "Il Travatore," Verdi; rag, "The Coon Came Back," Archer; march, "Soldiers Chorus" from Faust, Gounod.

T. F. Howard has taken the contract for the construction of a modern dwelling for a home for F. E. Judd. The building is to be erected on the corner just east of the new Hexter residence on Main street, on the north side of the rippling Umatilla. Mr. Howard says he will prepare the plans and specifications for a building to cost $1200, and that ground will be broken for it on Monday, June 24.—He added that the building would eventually cost $3000.

There will be a special meeting of the Pendleton Sportsmen's association at 8 o'clock on Friday evening, June 21, at the council rooms. The principal matter to be discussed will be the seventeenth annual tournament of the Sportsman association of the Northwest to be held in at Walla Walla commencing on Tuesday, June 25 and continuing for five days. It has been practically decided that H. J. and A. D. Stillman, F. W. Waite, J. M. Spence and C. J. Hamilton will represent Pendleton at the shoot.

Captain J. J. McCook, or the gentleman representing himself to be that personage, left Pendleton at 8:15 Tuesday morning on No. 1, and rode with Conductor J. A. Allison as far as Umatilla. He bought a 25-cent cigar for the conductor and otherwise made himself popular with that personage. At Umatilla Mr. McCook apparently made no effort whatever to conceal himself, or his identity, neither did he have his money riveted to his clothing, but continued to spend it like the prodigal son on his outward bound trip. Jack Tolmanson, who runs a saloon there, says the captain told him he was on his way to Spokane. No trace has been obtained from him since he disappeared from Umatilla.

Gold on the Snake.

A remarkable find of gold has just been made in the vicinity of what is known as the Big Bend of the Snake river near Payette. A pit that an eastern firm has dug at a cost of $8000 to the depth of 85 feet gives the following: At a depth of 40 feet the gravel went $8 per yard; at 50 feet, $12; at 60 feet, $20; at 85 feet, $27. It is a conglomerate gravel deposit and is found to extend over a distance four miles wide and 10 long and lies under what is called a quartzite rock four feet thick. All the ground has been staked off for miles. An eastern company has control of over 1200 acres.

Presents From Manila.

Mrs. Harry Sitton has received from her son, Paul R. Dempsey, stenographer in the quartermaster's depot at Manila, a white silk shawl and two pineapple fiber-silk table-covers, which are the handsomest articles ever yet seen from Manila. The shawl is white silk, hand drawn and tied, which requires hours of tedious labor. The table covers are made of pineapple silk fiber and hand painted in fancy designs. The colors are very new and pleasing.

Money in It.

It is a mistake to think the sheep business is going to the dogs because wool has declined to 11 and 12 cents, says the Dalles Times-Mountaineer. There is still money in raising lambs even if they hadn't a pound of wool on them. The other day P. Ketchum sold 30 half-breed Shropshire lambs that averaged him a little over three dollars a head. They weighed 67 pounds apiece and were only four months old.

Did Much for Pendleton.

A wool scouring mill and woolen factory have made Pendleton the second largest wool marketing point in the United States. A woolen mill at Boise would make this city a wool center and furnish the beginning of a payroll, something that every prosperous city must possess.—Boise Capital News.

Boise will have no fair this year. This was decided at a meeting held by the directors of the Inter-Mountain Fair Association held Friday night. The reason assigned for the decision is that the Spokane fair association has appropriated the dates notwithstanding a previous agreement.

JOHN S. GURDANE INJURED

Fell Through a Hole in a Haymow Into a Manger.

John S. Gurdane was able to come to town on Wednesday for the first time since an accident which befell him on Saturday night, June 15. He was in the haymow after dark for the purpose of throwing hay down into the mangers of the horses below. One of the holes above a manger was covered with hay, and through it he fell, striking his head a heavy blow. He also hurt his right arm and hand and left leg severely. He was rendered partially unconscious by the fall and it was some little time before he was able to get out and back into the house. For a couple of days he thought one of the bones of his right forearm might have been fractured, but has changed his mind, owing to the fact that the arm is much better. Mr. Gurdane lives in a large house near the Simpson race track.

DEATH OF JOACHIN ROEHLK

A Prominent German Resident at Fulton Station.

The death of Joachin Roehlk occurred on Wednesday morning, June 19, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Rosenberg, at Fulton station. Mr. Roehlk was born in Germany in September 29, 1831, and came to Umatilla county, Oregon, 14 years ago. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. C. H. Rosenberg and Mrs. Henry Lorenzen, and H. Roehlk, all well known residents of this county. Mr. Roehlk was well known and highly respected by a large circle of friends. The funeral will take place from his late home at Fulton on Friday morning, June 21, interment being in Warren cemetery.

THE VORACIOUS ARMY WORM

Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, the Worm is Marching

William M. Scott drove in today from Helix and remarked that it looked as though that town might be taken soon by the voracious army worm. Large numbers of them were seen alongside the road about nine miles north of Pendleton. Tramp, tramp, tramp, the worm is marching northward. The army worm has not done any damage to wheat in this vicinity. Its main article of diet, as has been closely observed by those watching for such things, is the juicy tar weed. As long as there is tar weed in sight growing wheat and barbed wire fences are safe from the attacks of the army worm.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Hon. Asa B. Thompson, a cattleman of Echo, is in Pendleton.

Gustav Planting and family, of Adams, were in Pendleton on Wednesday and returned home in the evening.

Johnny Jordan, of Pilot Rock, was in Pendleton on Wednesday making arrangements for the Fourth of July celebration to be held there.

Mrs. Mary G. Webb is expected to arrive in Pendleton on Sunday evening, June 23, to remain for an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. James A. Marston. Mrs. Webb's home is at Oakland, Calif.

There is a strong probability that Robert S. Renn will succeed L. G. Frazier as express agent of the Pacific and Northern Pacific Express companies when the latter retires, which will be in the near future, to engage in the stationery business.

Mrs. W. H. Garrett and daughter, Miss Elsie Garrett, and Mrs. A. Muller, aunt of the first named have gone to Sea View to remain during the summer. Sea View is in the southwestern corner of Washington, between Ilwaco and Long Beach. Mr. Garrett is a guest of the Hotel Pendleton.

R. O. Hawks, bookkeeper at W. S. Byers' flouring mills, returned on Wednesday evening from a trip to Dayton, Wash., where he visited his mother whom he had not seen for five years. Mr. Hawks was for five years superintendent of schools of Columbia county, of which Dayton is the county seat. He had not been to Dayton for 13 years and noted the changed appearance of the city with amazement.

COMPLIMENED THE WHEAT.

Columbia Valley Varities Won Recognition at Milwaukee.

Columbia Valley wheat has won distinct recognition in the east. When the Fraternity of Operative Millers was in session at Milwaukee, the Oregon Railroad & Navigation company sent from its experiment farm near Walla Walla five standard varieties for exhibit, says the Oregonian. They were blue stem, red chaff club, red Turkish, a cross between blue stem and red Turkish, and a cross between little club and bearletta. All are heavy yielders, and they stand up well and carry a large per cent of gluten. The idea was to demonstrate that the staple wheats of the Columbia valley cannot be matched anywhere else in the United States. That the specimens were appreciated is shown by the following letter, just received from J. F. Mueller, of Chicago, who is secretary of the fraternity:

"I take the first opportunity since my return from the convention to acknowledge receipt of the specimens of growing wheat which you were kind enough to send me at Milwaukee. The sheaves were placed conspicuously in the convention hall, and were a pleasing and appropriate decoration. The large number of specimens received from all parts of the country resulted in giving the millers a very clear idea of the conditions of the crops in every section."

The Walla Walla specimens reached Milwaukee in attractive condition. They were sent whole, roots included, and were packed in damp covering to keep them fresh.

THE PALACE CAFE.

P. O. Elliott Has Made a Hit With His Restaurant.

P. O. Elliott has made a success every time he has tackled the restaurant business, whether at Baker City, Dayton or Pendleton. His Palace cafe on the south side of Court street, between Johnson and Thompson streets, is his latest and one of his most pronounced successes, and is another evidence of what can be done when one knows how. The Palace cafe has just been doubled in size, a dining room and three boxes have been added on the east of the room in which he has been operating the counter. With mirrors, elegant paper and furnishings, the establishment in looks is what it is in name. When it comes to quality of meals and prices, Elliott is all right.

A SOUND OPINION.

Baker County Cannot Keep Possession of Property Purchased With Illegal Scrip.

In the case before the supreme court of the Municipal Security company, appellant, vs. Baker county et al., respondents, an appeal from Baker county, Eakin, judge, reversed, the court, opinion by Justice Moore, rendered an opinion of much interest. This was an action to recover back some shelving bought by the county, for the price of which warrants were issued, which warrants were afterwards declared invalid because they were in excess of the constitutional debt of the county. The suit was also for the purpose of securing a five-eighths interest in the land bought by the county for a poor farm, the warrant for which suffered the same fate. The supreme court sustained the lower court in holding that the action relative to the shelving was barred by the statue of limitation, but recersed the court upon the legal principle involved, and held that the county must either deed back the land or pay the warrants issued therefor. The county cannot take advantage of it own unauthorized action and hold property wrongfully obtained.

A RUNAWAY NEAR WARREN

One of the F. W. Hendley's Horses Cut on Barbed Wire Fence.

The Puget Sound Warehouse company owns a telephone line, out of repair, between Pendleton and Vansycle. T. G. Montgomery, who is general agent of the company for this county, sent Frank Earnhart out at 4 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon to make an estimate of the cost of repairing the line. Mr. Earnhart drove the team of horses belonging to F. W. Hendley. He was at Warren station about 7 o'clock and took a stranger into the buggy with him to ride. They had not gone more than a quarter of a mile when the single-tree broke. The horses made a jump, the pole dropped from its hole in the neckyoke. The horses continued to advance, the pole stuck in the ground, the buggy was overturned and things were mixedup generally. When the buggy tipped over the stranger was struck on the head by one of the wheels and rendered unconscious for about 20 minutes. He was taken to the home of John Wyrick, nearby, where he is getting along nicely. The horses stopped one on each side of a barbed wire fence, the bay on the near side being thrown against said fence and being badly cut in several places. The cream-colored horse escaped without being scratched. Mr. Earnhart clung to the lines and came out unhurt. He was a member of Glen Bushee's band of cowboys in attendance at the Elks' purple show in Portland last week.

F. W. Hendley and J. Christie, the veterinary surgeon, drove out to Warren station this morning in response to a telephone message from T. G. Montgomery, who had gone on to Helix. Messrs. Hendley, Earnhart and Christie returned this afternoon.

Death of Irving McQuery.

Irving McQuery, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McQuery, of Milton, died on Monday night, June 17, at the asylum, Salem, where he had been taken for treatment several months ago. The remains were shipped to Milton where the funeral took place at 1 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. Deceased was aged 29 years, and left a wife and four children. Mr. McQuery was a well educated and popular young man and quite a literary student. He learned the printer's trade on the Athena Press and was well known as a newspaper man. Late reports from the asylum regarding Mr. McQuery were favorable not only as to his physical but mental condition, and the news of his death came as a sad shock.

The Sun Becoming Extinct.

An eminent scientist has startled the world with the declaration that the heat of the sun is being exhausted. He assures us, however, that it will be many centuries before it takes place. In the meantime we should try and make the best of life and enjoy it while we have the opportunity. This, however, is impossible unless you have good health and especially a strong stomach. Use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters to keep the stomach in order and you will be happy. It cures dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, aids digestion and keeps the bowels regular. It has been the standard medicine of the American people over fifty years. Insist on having the genuine with our private revenue stamp over the neck of the bottle.

WOOL CLIP BAKER COUNTY.

Estimated That It Will Reach 1,500,000 Pounds This Year.

Baker City, June 20.—Prominent warehousemen of this city estimate that the wool clip of Baker county for the present year will aggregate 1,500,000 pounds. Of this amount much of it is already in the warehouses, ready for shipment, a few sales have been made recently, and prices are showing a tendency to improve. One large firm refused ten and one half cents for 200,000 pounds now in the warehouse here and expects to receive eleven cents before long. There has been about 50,000 pounds sold here during the past week. In a period of two weeks sales will aggregate over 200,000.

Lee Brothers, one of the largest growers in this county, have stated that they would take a band of 6000 sheep into Idaho this season for a new range, as they regarded this section well crowded.

Better Water System.

At the meeting of the common council last evening an ordinance was enacted for the construction of a distribution system for the new gravity water system being installed here. The distribution system will cost about $52,000. Large mains will be laid over the entire city, giving full fire protection to all parts and ample water for domestic use when the new supply is turned on from Elk creek. The pressure reservoir will be located 200 feet above the grade of the streets.

New Collection Methods.

Vancouver, B. C., retail merchants had a black list recently on which they placed every customer to whom it was dangerous to give credit. In fact, it was a list of the dead beats of the city and represented about one-fifteenth of the total bread getters in Vancouver. Every man on the black list was refused credit at every store in the city, and a man was dressed in scarlet uniform to collect debts already owing from these men. In three months the black list was abandoned, as 75 per cent of those on the list paid up or got out of town.

James' Body Found.

The remains of John James, who disappeared in the vicinity of the Red Boy mine last December have been recovered. Mr. James was employed by the Red Boy Mining company as foreman of the reservoir and ditch which supplies water to the mine from Olive lake. His duties required him to look after the ditch and reservoir continuously, and it is thought that he started to come to the mine over the snow, and when some distance on his journey became exhausted, laid down and froze to death.
