SUPERSTITION

Has been responsible for much of human mortality. Men and women die by thousands in an Indian famine, not because of lack of food but because caste superstition prevents them from accepting it. Even in America there are still to be found those who believe that healing herbs lack virtue unless gathered during certain phases of the moon.

The great foe of superstition is science. Every year science increases the territory of the natural at the expense of the supernatural.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery achieves its successful cures because it is a scientific preparation originated by a scientific man. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, purifies the blood and establishes the body in sound health.

As the writer of the following letter says, "It is the best thing for nervousness and for a weak run-down condition that anybody would want. It gives a person new life and new blood."

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol and is free from opium, cocaine and other narcotics.

"I must again send a few lines to you to let you know how I am getting along since taking the wonderful medicine which cured me two years ago," writes Miss Bertha Itheler, of 1426 Benton Street, St. Louis, Mo. "I still continue in very good health and think there is not a better medicine on earth than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the best thing for nervousness and for a weak, run-down condition, that anybody would want. It gives a person new life and new blood. I can now work all day long without feeling the least bit tired. I was very nervous and weak last summer. I took five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it just made me feel like a new person."

JOHN LEASURE POISONS HIMSELF

Swallowed Acid in San Francisco Friday.

THE MAN WAS VERY DESPONDENT

Mayor of Pendleton Twice and Several Times a Candidate for Congressional Nomination.

Portland, July 20.—(Special)—John C. Leasure of Portland committed suicide in a San Francisco lodging house yesterday, swallowing carbolic acid.

He left a letter addressed to the coroner, saying that the act was due to dispondency long standing over business reverses, and another letter sealed addressed to his wife.

He requested that the facts be wired to Edward Holman of Portland, Wm. H. Leasure of Moscow, Ida., and William M. Blakley of Pendleton.

Leasure has been on the down grade for a long time.

He almost secured the nomination for congress in 1892 and was a presidential elector in 1884.

With the dashing of his political hopes, Leasure lost his grip, and has been going down hill ever since.

He raised money on worthless checks several months ago in Portland. The matter was squared.

He went to Alaska and returned a short time ago. M. J. Wills, who thought he owed Leasure a return for past favors, met him two weeks ago in Redding, Calif., and gave him $100.

Leasure was twice mayor of Pendleton, and assisted in organizing the Native Sons of Oregon two years ago.

His Life Here in Pendleton.

It was 21 years ago that John C. Leasure came to Pendleton from the Willamette valley, and for many years thereafter he was quite a force in this part of the state. He was twice mayor of this town, one term in 1885, and one in 1892. He was born in Marion county on June 9, 1854, and was admitted to the bar in January, 1880. In 1882 he was married to Anna Blakley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Blakley, of this city.

Mr. Leasure was a lawyer of considerable energy and no small degree of ability. He practiced for a number of years alone, and was for several years a partner of A. D. Stillman, now of the law firm of Stillman & Pierce.

From the first of his residence here, Mr. Leasure had an openly expressed ambition and intention to represent the second district of Oregon in congress, and to this end he bent all of his energies. He secured quite strong support in the local political field, and twice succeeded in forcing the county convention of the republican party to elect delegations to the state convention favorable to his candidacy. His claims were strongly presented by the members of these delegations, in the years of 1892 and 1894, on the ground that Eastern Oregon should have the congressman. However, although close to securing majorities, he was not successful in being placed upon the ticket.

Great Disappointment Resulted.

These failures caused so bitter disappointment to Mr. Leasure, that he suffered a serious setback in his professional and business affairs. Although he lost not all of his energy, he was for a time without a definite purpose, and became more and more involved in financial difficulties. Eventually, he became discouraged, and removed to Portland, and later to Baker City. Subsequently, he returned to Portland, where, besides practicing law, he got hold of some mining properties, quartz, on the Southern Alaska coast. These prospects, at first very alluring, turned out to be deceptive, and he once again resumed the practice of law in Portland.

The denouement came after the events had transpired as related in the telegram from Portland printed above, which is correct, excepting that he did not go to Alaska a short time ago. It is understood here, on very good authority, that he was given a ticket to Alaska at the time of the difficulties over the checks he issued in Portland, but that he went only so far as Seattle, selling the ticket there and going to California. The M. J. Wills, mentioned in the telegram above, is more familiarly known here as "Gip" Willis, and once lived in Pendleton. The $100 was sent to Mr. Leasure after Mr. Wills' return to Portland, subsequent to meeting him in Redding.

Mr. Blakley received telegraphic word from Portland Friday evening, and left for that city on the night train. He was accompanied by Margaret and Daphne, children of Mr. Leasure, who were visiting at the home of their grandparents, Hugh Leasure, a son, is now a soldier in Manila.

INSTALLATION OF THE DUKE

Succeeds the King as Grand Master of the United Grand Lodge.

New York, July 19.—Eleven thousand English Free Masons attended the installation of the Duke of Connaught as grandmaster of the United grand lodge, in succession to Edward VII., according to the London correspondent of the Tribune.

Albert Hall was throned with members of the grand lodge, past and present, and with the masters and wardens of English lodges, as it was in 1875, when the prince of Wales was placed on the Masonic throne. The ceremonial was virtually the same as at the installation of the Prince of Wales. The grand lodge officers entirely filled the orchestra and chorus seats. The duke of Connaught was installed by Earl Amherst, pro-grand master, assisted by the Earl of Warwick, deputy grand master. The most impressive moment was when the installation was proclaimed and the vast concourse saluted the new grand master. Grandmaster Hozier of Scotland an the Duke of Abercorn, grand master of Ireland, made short addresses and telegrams of congratulation were received from the colonies. Earl Milner, the bishop of Calcutta and the lord mayor of London were present to receive advancement in the craft, and honors were conferred on Lord Kitchener.

He made the trip in 60 days, 13 hours, 29 minutes and 42 and 4-5 seconds. The best previous record was 63 days. The boy was given an ovation on his arrival

Portland, July 20.—The twenty-round fight before the Pastime club in the exposition building between Toby Irwin and Willie Cole was pulled off last night and resulted in a draw. Twenty-five hundred people witnessed the bout. Irwin leaves Monday, accompanied by "Biddy" Bishop, his manager, for Pendleton, where he will train for his fight with Popp on Saturday.

IN POSSESSION OF 'FRISCO.

Five Meetings Held This Morning—Addresses, Concerts, Etc.

San Francisco, July 20.—A large audience greeted the speakers at all of the five Epworth meetings this morning. All were department conferences, and the most formal of business of the session was disposed of at them. The Junior Leaguers, missionary workers, official, mercy, help departments and officers were all addressed on subjects connected with their work. Evangelical work was concentrated in three open air meetings held this noon. This afternoon the junior leaguers held a rally in the pavilion. A complimentary band concert was given in the park for their entertainment. Tonight a chorus of two thousand voices will repeat Tuesday's concert, while delegations from thirteen states will hold rallies in the city churches. The selection of the next convention city will probably be left to a committee to investigate and decide some months hence.

THE BULLS LOSE HEAVILY.

Morgan's Thirty-Eight Words Cost Them Nearly $50,000.

New York, July 20.—Pierpont Morgan spoke thirty eight words yesterday about the steel strike and each word cost the Wall street bulls about $1,292,613. Before Morgan gave out his statement, stocks were booming. There had gone out a rumor that the strike would be settled by compromise. Morgan's statement was a denial of this, and it was followed by a rush to sell stocks, fear being entertained that it indicated a long labor war. As a result of liquidation the declines in eighteen principal stocks amounted to $48,592,295.

WILEY AGUINALDO.

Refused to Advise Insurgent Chief to Surrender—Signed Himself Prisoner.

Manila, July 20.—Aguinaldo has refused a request made by fraud that he write to Gen. Malvern and advise him to surrender. Instead he sent the insurgent general a copy of his oath of allegiance, but under his signature he added the word "prisoner." The Filipino chief is constantly under surveillance. This has greatly irritated him.

Crossed Ocean in Small Boat.

Lisbon, July 20.—Captain Howard Blackburn, the American sailor who sailed from Gloucester, Mass., in a twenty-five foot sailboat, has arrived here. The trip occupied 38 days.

THE STRIKE IS NOT YET SETTLED

Pittsburg Thinks a Crisis Is at Hand.

UNION MEN ARE MAKING EFFORTS

Struggle Between Labor and Manufacturers Will Continue Next Week in All Probability.

New York, July 20.—In financial circles it is believed that the strike is far from settled.

Think a Crisis Approaches.

Pittsburg, July 20.—It is generally believed here that the great steel strike is nearing a crisis. The steel trust will begin attempts at resumption with nonunion labor next week, working every possible legal means of protection for the new men and the plants. If the fight is once begun on these lines, concessions heretofore offered will be revoked.

Strikers Make New Effort.

Pittsburg, July 20.—A united effort will be made today to induce the men employed in the mills of the National Tube company at McKeesport to join the ranks of the steel strikers. It appears that the majority of the men are organized and only awaiting word to come out.

At Wellsville, Ohio.

Wellsville, Ohio, July 20.—The strike situation at the Union Sheet Steel mill here this morning is unchanged. No nonunion men have arrived.

The Big Meeting.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 20.—The whole region here waits on the results of the big meeting tomorrow at which the united mine workers are to define their position regarding the firemen's strike. Until then, nothing of importance is expected. It is feared that the fight is on, for the indications are that the mine workers will insist that the firemen call their strike off, and wait until next April. There is no violence in any part of the reigon.

FEELING IS RUNNING HIGH

Judge Gager Angers Strikers—An Outbreak Wouldn't Cause Surprise.

Derby, Conn., July 20.—The feeling against the sweeping injunction of Judge Gager in the Machinists' strike is running so high among all classes of citizens that an outbreak would cause little surprise. In the case of Thomas Davis, a waiter, who was fined $50 and costs by Judge Gager for violating the injunction by saying, "Scabs have come to town," has greatly increased public indignation. His fine was paid by public subscription. Three men, arrested for peaceably attempting to persuade non-union men from working, were greeted like heroes by sympathizers in general. A chain of business and family relationship connects those opposed to the strikers, Gager being a brother to a firm which does law business for one of the largest foundries in the city.

DUNCANSVILLE MEN WON'T JOIN.

Voted to Continue Work—Old Meadow Mill Men May Strike.

Pittsburg, July 20.—The attempt to get the men employed in the Duncansville plant to join the strikers was abandoned for the present. The men voted last night to continue at work. They were informed by the superintendent that if they struck the plant would be closed indefinitely and probably abandoned. There is a possibility of the old Meadow mill at Scottsdale striking Monday. All is quite at Monessen today.
