DEDICATION OF ACADEMY.

Several Prominent Persons to Attend—Donations of Furniture — Trustees of the Institution.

There are expected to attend the dedication of the Academy from abroad, Dr. S. B. L. Penrose, D. D., president of Whitman College; W. H. Lee, president of Albany College; Rev. W. H. Bleakney, of Elgin; Dr. E. P. Hill, D. D., of Portland; Rev. W. L. Van Nuys, of La Grande.

Invitations have been extended to other notables—lay and clerical—of the church in the Northwest and a large attendance of the brightest and ablest men in the church will be present. Following the dedication, there will be a reception to which the general public is invited and will be made welcome. Especially is it hoped that all the patrons of the Academy, subscribers to its support, and friends in general will be present.

So far the receipts have been sufficient to meet all contracts up to date, but there is urgent need of furniture, especially for the chapel, apparatus for the laboratory, gymnasium and museum, and of books and other equipment for the library. Donations for these departments will be thankfully received, either of money or of serviceable articles.

The present trustees of the institution are as follows: Lot Livermore, president; T. L. Forbes, D. D., secretary; Rev. R. J. Diven; C. S. Jackson, treasurer; T. C. Taylor and F. C. Nolf, all of Pendleton; Dr. E. P. Hill, D. D., of Portland; W. S. Holt, D. D., of Portland, and Judge Robert Eaken, of Union.

FEARS HER OWN MEDICINE.

Baker County Winces Under the Prospects of Losing a Slice of Territory.

Two years ago Baker county was in the annexation business in a happy mood. Here is the way the morning Democrat now feels about the subject:

"The movement on foot by certain enthusiastic, but misguided Huntington men to take a slice off each of the counties of Baker and Malheur and from a new county with Huntington as the county seat, does not meet with the approval of Baker City business men. It is not so much the loss of a territory yet almost undeveloped, but there is no good reason for the change; there is no necessity for burdening the lawmakers at Salem with a measure which has no real merit, and the multiplying of counties in this thinly populated territory can only result in increasing the tax burden of the people without commensurate gain. Stop this foolishness."

A Remonstrance.

Those interested in the circulation of the remonstrance against changing the city charter in relation to the method of selecting marshal and recorder, ask it to be known that all who wish to sign the same can have an opportunity to do so at Jesse Failing's, F. B. Clopton's, or at G. I. La Dow's, where copies of the remonstrance are on file with signatures, for the accommodation of those who have not had the document presented to them elsewhere for their signatures.

Ground Washed Away.

The last high water scoured out an irregular shaped tract of ground from the land owned by John Hannon, on the left side of the river, just below Swartz & Greulich's abattoir. The abattoir is just within the city limits, while Mr. Hammon's property is just outside. The amount of ground lost was about 150 feet in extent. Mr. Hannon is a resident of Leavenworth, Kan., and his property interests here are managed by Judge Hartman. Swartz & Greulich would undoubtedly have lost considerable ground this year and last had they not prevented it by building a revetment.

"Green Corn Club."

The "Green Corn Club" meets tonight at the home of O. F. Turner. The club meets regularly every Wednesday and Sunday night, at the home of some member, where all have supper and spend the evening at cards and merry making. The club is composed of the five families of Turners, one family named Culton, one family of Blakleys, two families of Maples. One family in the aggregation is not related directly to the remainder.

Only Temporary Track.

The work of removing the wrecked engine from the river and clearing up the disabled cars has not been commenced yet. A temporary track is built around the debris, and it will require a large amount of rock and dirt to construct the permanent grade which was destroyed. Active work of recovering the engine will begin in a few days. The new steel crane recently purchased by the O. R. & N. will be used for this purpose.

Sold Farm.

A. A. McDaniel has sold his farm six miles east of Pendleton—a tract of 240 acres—for $10,500, to Polydore Moens, of this place. Mr. Moens was for several years general foreman of Reusch's brewery. Mr. McDaniels will go to Pocatello, Idaho, to manage a general agency for the Security Safe.

Ready for Occupancy.

Frank Robinson's two residences, on West Court street, will be ready for occupancy some time next week. One is the rebuilt structure of the house which was burned some time ago. The other, which stands on an adjoining lot, is an entirely new building. M. R. Yates is the contractor.

Thoroughbred Ewes.

At the O. R. & N. stock yards today are 64 thoroughbred Rambouilette ewes, en route from Culliston, Utah, to Dayton, Wash. They were sold by the man who raised them—W. S. Hanson, to R. A. Jackson, of Dayton. They are being fed here.

Oklahoman Here.

J. N. Yates, of Perry, Oklahoma, is here visiting his son, M. R. Yates. Mr. Yates, Sr., has been a citizen of Noble county, Oklahoma, since it was first opened for settlement. He made the original run and was fortunate enough to secure a fine farm, upon which he still resides.

W. C. Minnis, the Meacham wood shipper, will return to that place this afternoon, after a week's visit with his family in this city.

J. S. Manning, of Pilot Rock, wheat and stock raiser, reports stock in that neighborhood as looking fine and the wheat as in good condition.

E. B. Shafer, from northeast of the city seven miles, is in town today. Mr. Shafer reports crops looking fine out there. He is one of the heaviest farmers of his locality.

Miss Zelma Phillips is in Pendleton visiting the home folk here. She is now employed at Goldendale. Formerly she was a stenographer and typewriter in the office of the grand guardian of the Women of Woodcraft.

TO IMPROVE ROADBED.

O. R. & N. Will Gravel at Least 100 Miles of Track in 1903.

If sufficient gravel can be found in Eastern Oregon, the O. R. & N. will ballast 100 miles of track during the season of 1903.

Extensive arrangements were made last year for this work. What was supposed to be an endless gravel bed was located on the farm of Ed Cole, two miles west of Haines. About two acres of surface dirt was scraped off, rails and ties were unloaded for several miles of side tracks, grade was made and every preparation made to ballast at least 75 miles of track, from Huron to Baker City.

A large water tank was built at Haines, to accommodate the many work train engines, and all was in readiness to begin, when it was unfortunately discovered that the gravel bed was only the shallow wash of an old creek bed and could not be used at all.

It was a great disappointment to the officials, as a large appropriation had been set aside by the stockholders for improvements, and it was impossible to use it.

Every available spot has been prospected, in hopes of locating a bed of sufficient magnitude to furnish this gravel. It is so far to haul from the extensive beds at Umatilla that the cost becomes enormous.

The North Powder gravel contains too much clay to be serviceable. A small bank of fair gravel exists near Elgin, and one near Island City, but it is not known yet whether either of these will furnish sufficient amount to do the work.

BARKEEPER IN TROUBLE.

Accused of Breaking Into a Saloon at Walla Walla.

Walla Walla, Jan. 28.—Joseph Dufty, a well-dressed gentleman, who says he hails from Portland and is a barkeeper, is in the county jail in this city, charged with having broken into the Palace saloon yesterday morning and robbed the till of over $5 worth of nickels and dimes. Dufty appeared in the city a few days ago, and was an entire stranger. Yesterday morning he passed the Palace saloon just as the barkeeper was closing up at 4 o'clock. Later he returned, broke in a window and took the loose change in the till, together with a gold watch left for safekeeping. Officer Casey passed the saloon shortly after the trick had been turned, saw the broken window and set out to find the man who had done the work. Hardly had he gone a block when he met Dufty and placed him under arrest. While being taken to jail Dufty dropped the watch chain and later said the watch was in his room at a lodging house.

LARGER ACREAGE OF WHEAT.

Walla Walla and Palouse Farmers Encouraged by High Prices.

Walla Walla, Jan. 28.—A trip through a portion of the Palouse country and Walla Walla valley, shows that a number of small bridges and culverts will need repairing, owing to the effect of the recent rains. Considerable damage has been done.

Farmers are taking great interest in wheat since the recent good prices, as a ride along the railroad will show. They are plowing a little farther down the hill and a little nearer the fence this year and all available ground will be utilized.

There appears to be some smallpox in the country as the little yellow signs on the fences show.

A great deal of farm machinery appears to be left unprotected in the country. One man who claims to know, said on the train Sunday that farm machinery deteriorated at least 20 per cent in a year if exposed to the weather.

Going to Sweden.

Mrs. J. A. Smith, of the St. George restaurant, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. E. Ragals, will start tomorrow night on a tour of Sweden. They expect to be absent at least two months. They will return by way of Kansas City and Wyoming, where they will visit.

Returns to Portland.

After spending three or four busy days, superintending the work of clearing up Sunday's wreck, Superintendent J. P. O'Brien, returned to Portland this morning on No. 5.

A REMONSTRANCE

MANY SIGNERS OF THE PETITION CHANGE THEIR MINDS

Opponents of a Change in the City Charter, Now in the Field—Ask the Legislature to Keep Its Hands Off, at Present.

"To the Members of the Oregon Legislature: Your petitioners, residents of Pendleton, Umatilla county, Oregon, would request that you make no change in the present charter of this city, and especially that no change be made in the present method of appointing the city marshal and recorder."

This is the wording of the remonstrance that is now being circulated in this city, by those opposing a change in the charter, at this time.

The remonstrances were in circulation yesterday and were liberally signed. Even those who signed the petitions have reconsidered their action, in many instances, and are signing the remonstrance. The signers on this document, like those on the petitions, come from all classes of people, without reference to party, class or creed and both papers may be said to be truly representative of the city of Pendleton.

The work of circulating the remonstrances will be carried on briskly, until the latest date possible, in hopes that the numerical strength of the petitions may be balanced, and that the legislature will find the opposition to a change strong enough to induce it to allow the present charter to remain unchanged for another two years, at least, until the appointive method is thoroughly tested.

The opposition to a change at this time, takes courage from the fact that the city of La Grande is now trying to have the appointive method ingrafted into its charter and will make some strong points in favor of that method, which will have weight with the legislature in determining the Pendleton case.

La Grande's city elections have been famous for their bitterness and ill-feeling for years, and the citizens, tiring of the regular unpleasant occurrence, are petitioning the legislature to place the offices of marshal and recorder in the hands of the council.

For Sale—23 sections of grazing and farming lands in Umatilla and Morrow counties. Good buildings. Ranch will feed 15,000 to 16,000 sheep. Plenty of water. Also between 11,000 and 12,000 head of sheep, 130 head of cattle, 30 horses, wagons, harness, plows, seeders and other farming supplies. Address Joseph Vey, Pendleton.
