AMONG THE EXCHANGES OF THE INLAND EMPIRE

Shooting Near Shoshone.

Will Canzler and Ed Kempton, both of The Cottonwoods, about 20 miles from this place, had a quarrel at an early hour this morning which resulted in a shooting affray.

Canzler went to Kempton's place to see the latter on business. During the discussion, which grew pretty warm, Kempton produced a shotgun and while Canzler had his back turned attempted to shoot him, but the gun only snapped. After a few more words Canzler turned to leave and as he was walking away Kempton shot him in the legs.

Canzler was brought to Shoshone and placed under the doctor's care, who says that while the wounds are very painful, nothing serious will result.

Had the gun been discharged when Kempton tried the first time, Canzler would have been killed as Kempton was aiming at his head.—Shoshone Journal.

Searching for Traces.

In the story published in Wednesday's Signal regarding the mysterious disappearance of Kroll, the well known mining man of Big creek and surrounding districts, this paper erred in giving his initials as T. E. His name is John F. Kroll. Thursday morning Chief of Police Brezendine, W. E. L'Hame and the Signal sleuth went to the home of Mrs. C. O. Davis where the missing man roomed for some time, and carefully examined the contents of his trunk, hoping to obtain some clue as to his family connections, but not a single trace was discovered. All that was found was a photograph of himself taken by J. J. Prescott at Melrose, Minn., business cards printed for him by the Shaw & Borden company of Spokane, and a check book on the Exchange National bank, also of Spokane, through which bank he evidently did his business.

It is reported Kroll has a family somewhere up north, possibly at Spokane, but since leaving here over a year ago all traces of him apparently have been lost. It is evident he has met foul play and it is hoped the authorities of Idaho county will wake up to their duties and make a vigorous investigation, now that they have the supposed guilty person in the Grangeville jail. If anyone can furnish any information, such as will aid in clearing up the mystery, there should be no delay in the matter.—Weiser Signal.

Grain Field Fire.

Another serious grain fire took place on Saturday afternoon on the James Warren place rented by Bert Green. A spark from the engine set fire to the standing grain and in a moment the field was ablaze. In order to head off the fire the header was driven around a circle, cutting near to the ground. In the excitement one of the horses fell and the header overturned. The rushing flames burned up the header and the three horses used to pull it. By great exertion the flames were subdued after burning seven acres of grain. There was no insurance.—Pomeroy News.

One Train, Two Accidents.

As the local train on the Great Northern for Troy was leaving yesterday afternoon John Flanaghan tried to get on, but fell under the wheels, and his right foot was cut off. As the same train was leaving Katka Harry Thompsack fell under the wheels, and both feet were cut off. The men are at the company's hospital here.—Bonner's Ferry Progress.

Passed Bad Check.

F. W. Scott, who was arrested Thursday on a charge of passing a worthless check for $90 on the Moore Clothing company, was given a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Taggard this morning. Scott waived examination and was held for the superior court in $1000 bonds. Bail was not forthcoming and he was placed in the county jail.—Yakima Republic.

Baking Watches.

"I will be with you in a moment. I must finish the baking of this batch of watches first."

The speaker was a jeweler. He said as he worked:

"I suppose you are surprised at the idea of watch baking. I will explain. The machinery of a watch is delicate, yet it must work the same in winter as in summer, the same in Russia as in Cairo, the same in the Sahara as in Iceland. There is only one way to accomplish this—the watch must be regulated to heat and cold.

"I am regulating these watches to heat. Afterward, in a refrigerator, I will regulate them to cold. Then when they go out in the world they won't disgrace themselves in any climate. Chronometers must be regulated more carefully than watches. They are often kept for weeks in temperatures that are now zero and now 120 degrees."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Incentives to Marriage.

Apparently the German town of Haschmann does not believe in a state of single blessedness. Annual prizes are offered to the men who wed the ugliest, the most deformed and the oldest women in the town. Eighty dollars is paid to the man who marries the ugliest, while but $60 is the reward for the one marrying the cripple. All women over forty who have been jilted at least twice bring their spouses sums which vary according to the state of the fund, which was left by a rich resident of the town. The average price paid is $50 to each unless they should be unusually numerous, while the trustees are empowered to pay a larger sum when, in their judgment, it seems wise to hold forth a special inducement to procure the marriage of some particularly unfortunate woman.

Curiosities About Wood.

The strongest wood which grows within the limits of the United States is that known as nutmeg hickory, which flourishes on the lower Arkansas river. The most elastic is tamarack, the black or shellbark standing not far below. The wood with the least elasticity and lowest specific gravity is the Fiscus aurea. The wood of the highest specific gravity is the blue wood of Texas and Mexico. The heaviest of the foreign woods are the pomegranate and the lignum vitae, and the lightest is cork. Four hundred and thirteen different species of trees grow in the various sections of the country, and of this number sixteen, when perfectly seasoned, will sink in water. These woods of high specific gravity grow mostly in the arid regions of New Mexico, Arizona and Nevada.

No Reason For Two Trips.

Patrick's wife was "ailing," and Patrick put on his Sunday best and walked four miles to the doctor's house to tell him about her.

"Now," said the doctor, when he had heard all Patrick had to say and had prepared some medicine, "here is something for your wife. I've written the directions on the bottle and I want her to try it faithfully for a fortnight. Then, if it doesn't relieve her, come to me again and I will give you another prescription."

"Now, docther, see here," said Patrick, standing straight and looking grimly at the physician. "If you have your doubts o' this curin' Mary, as it's evident you have by the way you spake, why don't you give me first what you're goin' to give me last?"

Torpedo Boats.

Torpedo boats do not ram the vessels against which they operate; they simply discharge self propelling torpedoes which, if they strike the vessel, explode and sink or otherwise damage it. Then, if not sunk by the enemy's fire, the torpedo boat runs away and after taking on more torpedoes is ready for service again. Torpedo boats are built very light and of enormous speed. They cannot resist gun fire and are easily sunk if hit even by comparatively light shot; therefore they operate to best advantage in the night, so that the threatened fleet has to be very wide awake with its searchlights and its light guns.

An Odd Simile.

A Scotch minister who used similes that would bring home to the rough characters around him the truths he sought to impress was once denouncing the ingratitude of man for all the benefits conferred on him by Providence.

"My friends," he said, "look at the hens when they drink. There's not ane o' them but lifts its held in thankfulness even for the water that is sae common. Oh, that we were a' hens!"

Not Too Much For Our Good.

"Lawd," prayed the old colored deacon, "please give us in dis worl' whar we livin' at all de prosperity we kin stand, but w'en we gits dizzy wid it en goes ter celebratin' too much des send 'long old Br'er Trouble ter make us sit stiddy in de boat, en we'll be mighty thankful!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Accomplishments.

Muggins—My daughter will be a great catch for some one. She can cook or write poetry with equal ease and effectiveness. Juggins—Well, my daughter can write poetry. I never saw her try to cook it, but I'll bet she could.—Cleveland Leader.

Diamond Cut Diamond.

"This is a hard world," growled the chronic kicker.

"That's what!" replied the observant man. "The only thing with which you can make an impression on it is 'rocks.'"—Exchange.

Cowards die many times before their death; the valiant never taste of death but once.—Shakespeare.

INDIANS HATE RED TAPE.

Columbia River Tribesmen Slow to Make Final Proof on Lands.

S. L. Taggart, special agent of the Indian department and Suveyor E. S. Clark returned Sunday from the mouth of the Palouse river, where they were engaged in locating the homesteads of a number of renegade Indians, says the Walla Walla Union.

The Indians who live in that locality have never resided on a reservation and now that the land is being taken up all around them, they are dissatisfied and think that the whites are encroaching on their rights. Special Agent Taggart will make a report of the actual conditions to the department at Washington and will probably make some recommendations of measures destined to help the Indians out of the dilemma in which they seem to be.

While many of them intended to make homestead entries, a large number of them have slept on their rights through ignorance, and have never offered final proof on the land. Some of the lands have been taken up by whites who have perfected their titles and the whites cannot be dislodged.

Others of the Indians were claiming land to which they have not a shadow of a title, and it is difficult for them to understand why they are required to go through so much red tape to get title to land over which they have roamed for a lifetime.

Peculiar Disappearance.

J. D. Runyan, of Butlerville, O., laid the peculiar disappearance of his painful symptoms, of indigestion and billousness, to Dr. King's New Life Pills. He says: "They are a perfect remedy, for dizziness, sour stomach, headache, constipation, etc." Guaranteed at Tallman & Co.'s drug store, price 25c.
