AMONG THE EXCHANGES OF THE INLAND EMPIRE

Men Needed in Idaho.

The Pocatello police court is quiet these days, says the Pocatello Tribune. There is a noticeable absence of Weary Willies, members of the hobocular fraternity. When questioned with relation to this quietness, Chief of Police John Ellis said today to a Tribune man:

There is absolutely no excuse for an idle man in Idaho. Men are wanted in the north and south parts of the state, in the east and in the west. The forthcoming beet harvest in this region will demand many laborers. Canal work in the south end is calling for all the workmen available.

Contractors at Shoshone, at Gooding, at Bliss, at Twin Falls, at Hillister, at Nampa, at Boise, are clamoring for men. On top of this the Northwestern railroad down the Snake river from Huntington to Lewiston is being rushed to completion. One hundred and twenty-five men are now at work on the railroad building. Double shifts are run because of the scarcity of labor.

Heppner Needs Water Supply.

The matter of a more abundant water supply for Heppner is a question that should be looked to by the city council, says the Heppner Times. Whether the council has given the matter any thought, we do not know, at least it has not been discussed at meetings, hence it is doubtful if the council has considered the proposition very earnestly.

While Heppner has a very good water system it is not adequate for the requirements of the town, especially during the dry summer months, that is, for all purposes. Some favor a gravity system, contending that an abundant supply can be secured on upper Willow creek at a distance not to exceed 15 miles. It is also thought that a suficient amount could be had in this way for a sewer system, something that we cannot now have, owing to a shortage of water. Right now is a splendid time to bring the matter before the people when the need is so apparent.

Hoppicking Will be "Shy."

Some of the first signs of approaching fall were in evidence yesterday when two men were seen visiting local grocery stores and other business establishments where are kept supplies of empty boxes and barrels, says the Yakima Republic. Last year at this time merchants were daily visited by dozens of men looking for boxes and barrels. Last year there were hops to be picked; likewise the year before, and so on back for many years, ever since the hop industry was established in Yakima valley.

This year the fall immigration of hop pickers to the Yakima country will be small. There will be no more excursions from Sound cities for the benefit of the many who have looked forward to hop pickin' with much eagerness. The Yakima Indian who lives miles away in some remote corner of the reservation will hardly deem it worth while to tear up his camp for the purpose of coming to Yakima to pick hops for a week or so.

New History of Idaho.

W. H. Bingham, representing the publishing house of Henry Taylor, jr., & Co., of Chicago, has been in the city for several days looking over the field with a view of getting out a history of Idaho, says the Boise Capital News. He has engaged with W. A. Goulder, the well-known pioneer and newspaper man, to collect data for the history, and he will begin at once gathering material.

In the spring a force of expert historical writers will come here and put the matter in shape.

It is the intention to make this a most complete history of Idaho from the earliest times right down to the present, special attention being given to the early history, and will be different from anything heretofore published.

Mr. Goulder's long residence in Idaho, his newspaper work and wide acquaintance make him a valuable assistant in preparing a work of this sort.

Land Office Line Growing.

The line at the land office waiting for the opening of entry books on a section of land in Wallowa county on September 15, continues to grow, says the La Grande Observer. The number of seats occupied now reaches close to the 20 mark, and evidence of more still to come, exists. If daily additions are made to the line, the rush will prove the greatest in recent years, both from a standpoint of numbers and length of time it lasts.

The cold nights are proving extremely disagreeable to the line-men. When it is uncomfortable to sleep in a tent, it most necessarily is even more disagreeable to be forced to wait on the cold pavements of the street, looking anxiously forward for the peep of dawn which brings warmth and company. A 20-day wait will be a tedious proposition.

BUYS VALUABLE FARM IN ATHENA BELT.

The most important real estate transfer to take place in Athena for some time was the purchase of 43 acres of Ben Ogle, says the Athena Press. The price paid was $4000.

The land is located just west of the city limits and is a portion of the old Richards estate, it corners just west of David Taylor's warehouse at the foot of Main street, and was in crop this year, yielding a fairly good yield of wheat.

Mr. Johns, who left Athena Wednesday for his home in Los Angeles, Cal., would not commit himself for publication, as to what his intentions were regarding his investment, but intimated that eventually he may build a residence on the land and with his family, make a home there.

Mr. Johns is owner of a considerable acreage of wheat land in this section and now that his son's health is greatly improved, the family may come north to reside.
