GRADUATES GATHER FOR THE 28TH ANNUAL REUNION

Annapolis, Md., June 6.—Old graduates of the Naval Academy gathered here today to attend the twenty-eighth annual reunion at which they considered a plan to place a memorial window in the chapel of the Academy in honor of Admiral Farragut. A subscription of $3 from each graduate was planned. The window will cost about $7500.

SALES MANAGERS SEE SIGHTS OF PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, Pa., June 6.—With reports of business conditions in every commercial center of the United States ready for submission, some 300 members of the National Sales Managers' Associations today opened the annual two-days' convention. H. H. Bigelow, of St. Paul, Minn., called the first session to order. Business was suspended in order after a few preliminary speeches for a sight-seeing trip and reports, mostly from delegates of western and Pacific coast firms, showing what change in general business has been affected by recent political changes were heard this afternoon.

CHILD OF DAYTON PASTOR STRICKEN WHILE AT PLAY

Dayton, Wash., June 6.—Death came with terrible swiftness to Bernice, the only daughter of Rev. J. M. Huggins, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of this city. The child, who was 11 years of age, had gone to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Porter, across the street from the parsonage, and while playing was taken ill and died within a few minutes. She had been afflicted for several months with some form of heart trouble. Rev. Mr. Huggins, who was captain of the Methodist baseball team, which successfully played the Baptist team, returned from the game just in time to see his little daughter die.

H. BECKWITH AND BABCOCK CHARGE FRAUD IN NAMES

Salem, Ore., June 6.—That the legality of the petition invoking the referendum against the Workmen's compensation act will be tested in the courts is practically assured from investigations made here by Harvey Beckwith and C. D. Babcock, two members who were named for the Industrial Accident Insurance commission. The petition undoubtedly will be attacked on the ground of fraud.

In checking over the petitions, the two commissioners found a large portion of the north end district and Front street in Portland. Some of the Portland addresses were said to be numbers that would be beyond the extension of the streets. Mr. Beckwith said he found instances of this of which he had personal knowledge.

CONVERSATION ON SUICIDE DROVE MAN TO TRY IT

San Francisco, June 6.—That the suggestion of suicide followed a discussion of self-murder with his wife in a downtown cafe was the explanation today of C. C. Castro for attempting to kill himself by swallowing mercury tablets. He will recover. Mrs. Castro said her husband apparently was in high spirits when he swallowed the poison and asserts she believes the topic of conversation had a strange effect on his mind.

GAMBLING, VICE ALLOWED TO EXIST

New York, June 6.—Gambling and the social evil has been allowed to exist in this city because of ineffective efforts by the police to eradicate them, it was charged in a report to the board of aldermen by the special aldermanic committee that investigated the police department after the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler last July. A previous report recommended to Mayor Gaynor the removal of Police Commissioner Waldo.

DYING STATEMENT ACCUSES FIANCE

Los Angeles, Cal., June 6.—Near death from a bullet wound in her neck, Miss Irene Noble has made a statement accusing her fiance, Fred Kolb, of firing the shot that is responsible for her condition. Her statement was made after the police practically had accepted Kolb's statement that the girl had shot herself while he was trying to wrest from her a revolver with which she had threatened to commit suicide. The shooting occurred while the couple were alone in Miss Noble's brother's home.

According to the girl's statement, Kolb forced her to write a note, which was found in her possession, and which indicated that she would attempt to kill herself. She offered no reason for the shooting.

Conserving His Education.

"What is your son doing now?"

"Playing the piano in a moving picture show."

"I shouldn't think you would want him to do that."

"I don't but when a chap has a musical education he's got to do something with it, hasn't he?'—Chicago Record-Herald.

Woman and Her Varied Interests

Fashion Bits.

The rather flat, many ribbed parasol, especially when covered with the plain colored silk, is modish. Often the ribs are gilt tipped.

Tailorer waists of the wash silk are to be very popular this season. They are made with standing collars of the same material, or the neck, cut a little low in front, finished with a round collar or an adaptation of the sailor.

A single band of colored velvet ribbon is often the finish at the waist line on a simple lingerie gown of voile or marquisette.

The maline ruffs whether two-tone or not, are used not only for the neck but are extremely modish for trimmind hats.

Chin ties are seen on some of the extreme summer hats, says the Newark News.

Ratine coats three-quarter length, are rounded in front so as to disclose the gown beneath. They are fastened with buttons or fancy motifs.

Packing Skirts.

To fold skirts for traveling, fasten the faistband and pin the middle of the back to the center of the front. Then lay the skirt out flat on a table, and with two pieces of tissue paper as foundations, roll the skirt over and over toward the front, first the right side of the skirt, then from the left, so forming two rolls that lie parallel to each other, says the Woman's Home Companion. If the garment has to be folded crosswise to admit of its being packed in suit case or trunk, place a wad of tissue paper or newspaper under the crease. Skirts so packed take very little room and show no traces of traveling in small compass.

Sagging Chair.

When my cane-seated chair begins to sag, I find it an excellent plan to turn the chair upside down and scour the under part of the seat with hot soapsuds. Then I rinse with boiling water and let dry in the open air, if possible, writes a contributor to the New York Press. This saves quite a little sum and makes the seat of the chair almost like new cane.

Air Kept Dry.

In cellar or pantry, where it is difficult to keep the air dry, place bowls of unslacked lime on shelves near the food. The lime, of course, should be renewed from time to time.—Louisville Herald.

Pole in Closet.

Purchase a curtain pole of the length of your closet. Fasten this at the desired height in the middle of the closet by means of portiere brackets. In this way you will have the use of the sides of the closet, also the middle pole for coat and skirt hangers.
