GIRLS TO BOOM CINCINNATI.

Chamber of Commerce Advertises for Pretty Maids as City Guests.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 26.—What is probably the most unique plan to advertise a city was launched here by the Chamber of Commerce, which placed advertisements in the "want" columns of the newspapers for pretty girls in each community within a radius of 100 miles to represent Cincinnati.

The duties of the girls will be to call from house to house and personally represent the city, telling of the places of interest and the advantages to be derived by shipping here. They will hand out attractive souvenir books of the city.

In addition, the chamber of commerce will place pretty girls at each of the railroad depots in Cincinnati to direct visitors. This plan has never been tried anywhere before.

BLACK EYE NO LOVE TOKEN.

Lashing by Tongue Held More Severe and Divorce is Granted.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Nov. 26.—Following the decision of Justice Joseph Morehauser in the supreme court granting a separation and $50 a month alimony to Mrs. Marie DeCartillo against her husband, Louis DeCartillo, the "orchard king," the justice delivered there trite remarks to the husband:

"You don't have to knock your wife down and blacken her eyes to create cruelty. The lash of the tongue is far worse. Your temper, conduct, words and actions toward your wife have been bad.

"The man that loves his wife must love her all the time. You can't treat her brutally most of the time and then pretend to love her afterwards; she can't stand for this constant bickering. You must know that you can't be the autocrat when your wife is involved."

Mrs. DeCartillo sued her husband for a separation on the ground of abandonment and cruelty. DeCartillo appeared as his own counsel. He cross-examined his wife, testified in his own behalf and then cross-examined himself.

Woman Rules Life Policy.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 25.—When once a married woman is made beneficiary by a life insurance policy, this cannot be changed without her consent, regardless of a clause in the policy permitting one to change the beneficiary at any time.

"ALL LOVE MRS. GALT" W ORDS

Mrs. McAdoo Tells Chicago President's Fiancee.

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—"Mrs. Galt? Why, I think——

Mrs. W. G. McAdoo, who was Miss Eleanor Wilson before her marriage to Secretary McAdoo, took a breath in Chicago.

"To put it mildly, we are delighted and overjoyed at it. As for Mrs. Galt—we are devoted to her. She is the most lovable, charming woman in the world. There could not be a happier happening in the Wilson family.

"I wish I could begin to express myself without getting superlatively enthusiastic. But that I do not want to rave, but I never know when to stop. Let it sufficie to say we all love her.

"She is a remarkable woman and will be a most gracious mistress of the White House. She has dignity, personality, charm, sweetness and wisdom. Our family more than welcomes her. As for the wedding, well that will be announced from proper sources."

Mrs. McAdoo looked like a college girl in her little black dress, filmed about the ankles—her trim shoes and the froth of white tulle at her neck.
