Recovers from Illness.
Master William Macy thought for awhile that he wouldn't have any fun at all Christmas. The trouble came about because he was ill with a cold which threatened to develop into pneumonia. He is feeling much better now. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Macy, 1114 East Webb street.

High School Won.
The high school quintet administered a defeat to the alumni aggregation last night in a benefit game played at the high school. The final score of the contest was 29 to 11. The defense put up by the varsity proved too tough a proposition for the alumni to solve, and they were unable to work the ball very far down the floor for shots. Ned Strahorn was injured when he fell and suffered the infliction of a gash on his forehead. The proceeds went to the Red Cross.

Cash Basis For Business.
After January 1 the Table Supply will be on a strictly cash basis, it is stated.

Makes New Platts
P. A. Sandberg, a surveyor, was here today from his home at Milton preparing plats of Milton and Freewater. He spent quite a lot of time at the office of R. O. Hawks, county assessor, securing data which he will use in his work.

Employes Get Turkeys.
Fifty employes of the Pendleton Woolen Mills were presented with Christmas turkeys today as a gift from the mills. The girls will be served at Christmas dinner for the 50 families represented among the mill's employes.

Live Opossum Received
A real live Missouri opossum was received today by William R. Wyrick from William Ehrart, now of Westplains, Missouri. The animal seems blissfully unaware that he is to be served at Christmas dinner and shows no signs of "playing 'possum." The 'possum is of a grizzled gray color with pink nose and feat. He is fond of eating corn and carrots. Mr. Ehrart is a brother of Grant Ehrart of this city.

Mrs. Gilliam's Brother Dies
Funeral services were held yesterday at Molalla for Levi Robbins, brother of Mrs. N. J. Gilliam. He died Tuesday very unexpectedly from heart trouble at the advanced age of 87. He was a pioneer of Oregon, having come here in 1852 with his parents. He is survived by three brothers who are past 80. Mrs. Gilliam is 79 and there are two other younger sisters living in the state. Mrs. Gilliam is just recovering from injuries sustained in a fall, and she was unable to attend the funeral services.

The annual meeting of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce will be held January 3, according to a letter received at the office of the Pendleton Commercial Association from George Quayle, secretary of the state organization. J. V. Tallman is a director on the board of directors as a Pendleton representative. One delegate to each 100 members is allowed each organization, but no one organization is permitted to have more than five delegates at the meeting. Pendleton will be entitled to the maximum number of delegates.

Will Leave Soon.
J. E. Elkins and Wayne Eddy, associated here in the Oregon Motor Garage in the sale of Buick cars, will leave Pendleton in the near future. Mr. Elkins, who is now in Portland on a business mission, will go to Seattle during the coming month where he will be in the automobile business. Wayne Eddy will go to Everett, Wash., where he will be in a branch of the auto business. The agency for the Buick is not held by any firm or individual in Pendleton at present. The garage business will be conducted by E. C. Day who recently purchased it.

To Have Monthly Audits
A contract has been entered into by the county court with Whitfield, Whitcomb and Co., expert accountants, for the work of making audits of the county books during the coming year. According to the new plan, a simplified system of books will be gradually installed, and the contract calls for a monthly audit of the books instead of the annual audit. The arrangements were closed this morning, W. D. Whitcomb, junior member of the firm, is here, and he represented the company in the business which was agreed upon today. The cost to the county remains at practically the same figure as when an annual audit was secured, Judge Schanno said today.

Barnyard Champ

"Jap Silky" is a proud chicken. But not half as proud as its owner, little Miss Florence Holcker, aged two years. "Jap Silky" carried off first prize at the Englewood, N. J., show of "barnyard pets."
