LIFE SENTENCE FOR DE FALCO. Convicted Wife Murderer Is to Pay Penalty for His Deed.

Penalty for His Deed,
Francisco De Faico, the Italian convicted of the murder of his wife, Theresa De Faico, was sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary by Judge Frazer yesterday morning.

The court, in passing sentence, merely pronounced the penalty and made no outside remarks in connection with the case. De Faico had nothing to say, and his ettorneys, Albert Ferrera and John Ditchburn, when asked if he had anything to say, repiled in the negative.

Mr. Ditchburn states for himself and his associate counsel in the case, that they are perfectly satisfied with the outcome of the trial, and that the rulings of the trial, and that the rulings of Judge Fraser and his instructions to the jury were fair and impartial. Under the skatute, it is possible for a person sentenced to life imprisonment to obtain his liberty in 15 years, but as De Falco is now 55 years old, he will hardly sur-vive this period of time.
