Silverton Mill To Add Night Shift at Once

Silverton, April 25.—The Silver Falls Timber company will put on a night shift at the mill today and within a few days a full force of men will be employed at the logging camps. The company, it is said, will operate during the summer under the Four L scale which was recently adopted. Several other mills in the state have gone under the scale, but the Silver Falls people intend to stand by the organization.

During the previous week several men were sent to the camps to make arrangements for the opening.

Manager M. C. Woodard stated that the lumber trade has not yet shown signs of increasing that would warrant running the mill at full capacity all summer, yet the company will do everything possible to keep it in operation and will add help as the business requires. Mr. Woodard is quite optimistic over the outlook, however, and believes that they will be able to make a good and successful run this summer.

Mill to Start Work In May

Silverton, April 25. — Beginning about the 10th of May the Silverton Lumber company will resume work in the mill here and a large force of men will be put to work on the logging road at Mehama, according to Norton Cowden, one of the managing officials of the company. Mr. Cowden stated that about 60 men will be engaged to work on the railroad May 1st, and operations in the logging camps will be resumed about the 10th, or as soon as the mill is ready to run.

The Silverton Lumber company mill has been in operation part time most of the winter, but little work has been done in the camps since last summer. The mill shut down several weeks ago, and during the suspension the mill has been overhauled and repaired. Almost entirely new equipment has replaced the old machinery and the mill is now in better condition for work than it has ever been since it was first established.

Steering Gear Breaks; Man's Bones Broken

Dallas, Or., April 25.—M. N. Shaw, a salesman, about 33 years of age, traveling for the A. H. Averill Machinery company of Portland, met with an auto accident on Friday while driving from Independence to Dallas, which resulted in a broken shoulder and thigh bone. Mr. Shaw was driving at a fair rate of speed on the highway near Mr. Low's ranch, about half way between Dallas and Monmouth, when his steering gear gave way which resulted in the car plunging into the ditch at the right of the road. Shaw attempted to jump from the car and, as the car was plunging forward, he was pinned between the car and the bank. He was immediately taken by auto to the Dallas hospital where Dr. Staats attended his injuries. His wife in Portland was notified about the accident and immediately came to his bedsire.

The car was badly damaged and Mr. Shaw is suffering intense pain though the physician is hopeful of his recovery as no internal injuries have as yet been discovered.

Paving at Newburg On Pacific Highway Begins Immediately

Newberg, Or., April 25—Paving work on the West Side Pacific highway, south of here, and between this place and West Dayton, will be commenced at once, it is understood. The contractors have been waiting for the cement which will be used in the work, and this arrived this week, making it possible for them to go ahead with the work. The stretch of road to be paved is about seven miles long and runs through Dundee to West Dayton, where it joins the pavement already in, and which extends to about three miles this side of McMinnville. There are several bad spots in the road between here and West Dayton, and autoists who have to make the trip to the county seat town will be glad to have this road paved. Paving work is also being pushed on the three-mile lane out of McMinnville, and when these two projects are completed, the county town will enjoy paved highway through to Portland.

Eugene E recting Big Apartment House

Eugene, April 25. — Construction in Eugene of a modern apartment house to cost in the neighborhood of $150,000 was announced by Jesse Darling following his return from a trip to Portland. Portland as well as Eugene capital, Mr. Darling says, has been interested in the venture. Plans are being drawn by a portland architect, and it is expected that construction will be started this spring.

The building is to be owned cooperatively and is to be financed by the sale of apartments — that is, the purchaser will buy his apartment just as he would a house and lot. The plan has been followed for some time in the east and has proved popular.

The location has not been announced, but it is regarded as certain that it will be in the downtown district.

Aerial Station Hoped for By Albany People

Albany, Or., April 25.—Albany may be on the map as an aerial station if the proper kind of a landing field can be secured and other plans now pending materialize, as indicated by a letter received by the chamber of commerce from the officials at Mather Field, Sacramento, Cal.

The letter, in part, stated that it is contemplated sending a flight of airplanes through Utah, Wyoming, Idaho, Washington, Oregon and California for the purpose of photographing and mapping an aerial route through these states. Preparatory to an itinerary of these states it is necessary to secure landing fields temporarily for the planes in making the official inspection trip. The field desired should be at least 1800 feet long and 500 feet wide and smooth enough to travel over with an automobile at the rate of 40 miles per hour.

The application was turned over to Seth French to investigate and report.

Mc Minnville Man Declines U.S. Position

McMinnville, April 25.—Walter L. Tooze, Jr., of this city, was last week tendered an appointment as special assistant attorney-general of the United States, with headquarters in Washington, D. C., by Attorney General Daugherty. The offer came by wire, and Mr. Tooze was asked to report by April 25. His work was to be in connection with claims under the trading with the enemy act. After considering the offer, Mr. Tooze wired declining it. Asked as to his reason for so doing, he said that he was perfectly satisfied to remain where he was, and it would take an exceptionally good offer to get him to give up his home in Oregon to take up a residence in Washington where climatic conditions are not the very best, and where continuation in office depended solely upon the chances of politics.

Californians Seek Change

Roseburg, April 25.—C. S. Heinline, secretary of the local chamber of commerce, states that a great many letters are being received daily from California, especially from in and around San Bernardino. The extremely hot weather of last year is causing many people to desire a better summer climate, and not a few of them are looking to Douglas county, Oregon. They particularly mention their desire to obtain small fruit tracts, and many questions regarding orchards are received. A number have already expressed their intention of coming to this city during the summer months and will stay, if this community meets their expectations.

Recovers from Injuries

Silverton April 25. — Paul Haagan, a farmer living west of town, has nearly recovered from injuries sustained a few days ago when his big tractor turned over backward, burying him in the soft dirt. That he was not killed or more seriously injured is a mystery. He says the machine tumbled over backward while he was running a harrow without any apparent cause, and the weight of the machine forced him into the soft dirt until he was almost entirely buried. His cries for help attracted the attention of people working in that vicinity and after some little difficulty he was removed from his perilous situation. No bones were broken, but he was terribly bruised and is yet lame from the experience.

Mayor's Order Turns Circus

Brownsville, Or., April 25.—Brownsville was all cocked and primed for the circus which was billed to appear here Wednesday afternoon, and ruralists came into town from miles around, but no circus appeared on the scene.

The circus had arranged to show on the ball grounds, but the aggregation, in order to get to the diamond, would have been forced to pass through the city park. When the mayor took note of the soft condition of the ground in the park, he at once requested the city marshal to wire the circus management in Lebanon that elephants, tigers, monkeys and miscellaneous wagons would not be permitted to pass through the city park. For this reason the big attraction went on to Silverton.

Shoplifting Is Charged to Man And Companion

Dallas, Or., April 25.—Shorty Orr was presented with two boarders for the county jail this morning as a result of the shop lifting activities of a young man and woman an apparently about the age of 20 years. Several days ago the young man registered as "Andrews" at the Gail hotel and, a short time later he registered under the name of "Morgan" in Monmouth, the other alias being Wright. According to his latest assertions after being apprehended by the authorities, he gives his name as "William Guy" of Chicago. A young lady is with him and the couple claim to have been married last October. The girl has an aunt in Seattle with whom the sheriff is now communicating.

They had made their appearance in several towns in Polk county within the last week and took some clothes from a store in Independence for which they were arrested Saturday morning and tried before Justice of the Peace Baker at Independence, who fined them $25, and in the absence of the money the couple were given twelve and a half days in the county jail. When searched the young man had no money and on his person was found an improvised black mask and a bunch of keys.

Lew A. Cates, formerly in the automobile business in Salem and more recently engaged in the newspaper business at Marshfield, has abandoned the Daily News at that place, claiming that two daily papers in Marshfield are too many.
