New York Stocks.

New York, Sept. 3.—Partial recovery of prices in the stock market this week was affected largely at the expense of the shorts, that element evidently taking heed of gradual improvement in many lines in trade and industry.

Oils were the outstanding features, however, the confusing course of the Mexican group being accompanied by conflicting reports respecting the outcome of negotiations now in progress.

Rails were only moderately responsive to additional favorable statements of earnings and several of the investment division, notably the Hill group, were under pressure arising from their doubtful dividend status.

Steels and equipments of the more seasoned types threw off much of their recent topor, although advices from steel centers reported slow revival of activity. In trade circles, however, the belief prevailed that large contracts for rails would soon be awarded.

Crop demands prompted banks to draw heavily against local reserves, causing call loans to hold at 5½ per cent.

Marked improvement was manifested in the investment market. This was evidenced by the higher range quoted for standard bonds and the speedy sale of $25,000,000 of Brazilian government bonds, together with smaller domestic and foreign offerings.

Chicago Grain Market.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Wheat opened somewhat unsettled with prices holding within a range of about 1 cent. A small break early was followed by a sharp rally. Wheat opened at $1.22¾ to $1.24 for September, $1.25 for December which was half cent lower to half cent higher than yesterday's finish.
