SOUTHFRN SALONS "LOT OF COWARDS"

prejudice is not confined to any one party or to any one church. They are all tinged with it."

Turning to the subject of prohibition, De Priest said, "the government is preparing to spend millions for enforcement of the 18th amendment. A few millions ought to be apent to enforce the 13th, 14th and 15th which guarantee the negro his civil and political rights.

"I do not propose to vote to appropriate a penny to enforce the 18th amendment until similar sums are voted to enforce these other amendments now being violated all through the south."

De Priest said that as a congressman he will pay as much attention to the needs of his white constituents as to those who are black.

"Only in one respect will I insist favoring negroes, and that is in my recommendations for appointments to West Point and Annapolis. As long as I am in congress, I'll appoint only negroes to those two schools, or until some white congressman appoints a negro.

"I want to thank the democrats of the south for one thing—they beginning to feel somewhat uneasy and nobody slept.

"We spent the night in the best manner we could. Toward morning the sea became calmer and we were able to rest a little. We did not eat much. We were hoping and hoping to see some ships. On the night of the 24th we began to light up to no avail. Doubts began as rockets but our signals were sent sailing us because the realization dawned on us that we were at the mercy of the waves. Yet even though we were outside the regular steamer lanes, we did not lose hope altogether.

"When topics of conversation became exhausted during our moments o fliesure, when we were not on watch, we began to wonder what our families were thinking in Spain. During the day the sun bothered us some, you can see that we are tanned, but I can assure you that we did not suffer from hunger. Food and the water we got from the radiator to make up for our shortage of regular drinking water, were sufficient.

FORMER CLERK IS SLACK WIRE ARTIST

Chicago, Ill., (AP)—Dainty, skirted Herberta Beeson, hailed as "the world's greatest slack wire dancer" is a man!

The story of his rise from grocery clerk to featured performer of the "big top" is one of the romances that give circus life its spangled glamor.

At 17, when his name was Herbert, Beeson was a clerk in a general store at Summitsville, Ind., where he "helped out" three nights a week as a stage hand at the village vaudeville theater.

To this theater came the "Marvelous Tucknows, circus people doing a small time circuit. With the act was a girl who was a slack wire dancer.

For her amusement Herbert did all of the little dancing tricks he knew. She liked them, and Herbert, too.

Seven months later, in Texas, the girl slipped, fell a crumped heap beneath the wire.

"Don't fire her just because she's hurt!" pleaded Herbert, now with the troupe. "I know her tricks. Let me do them."

Wigs were tried on, skirts fitted, and that night Herbert began his masquerade.

And now the maid who attends the great Herberta Beeson, catching the robe tossed from the wire, is the little girl who fell from the wire—his wife!

SINLESS MAN FOUND

Gadsden, Ala., (AP)—The Rev. O. Price, Apostolic evangelist declared he hadn't committed a sin in five years. The Rev. A. E. Williams, he claims called him a liar. There was a fight and the two were fined $5 apiece.

REINHART SEEKING NEW FLIGHT RECORD

their Buhl biplane at the Culver City airport at 7:29:30 a. m. Tuesday in an effort to better the refueling endurance flight record of 172 hours 22 minutes and one second recently established at Port Worth.

The plane, powered by a 220 horsepower Wright whirlwind motor, was expected to carry 200 gallons of gasoline on its takeoff, sufficient to carry it through the day. The first refueling attempt was to be made at nightfall.

With thirty-seven oil lines leading from the cabin of the craft to the rocker arms of the motor, and two oil tanks which will permit a complete change in oil during the flight, the pilots expressed the belief that they would have no difficulty in surpassing the 172 hour 32 minute 1 second record held by Reginald Robbins and James Kelly of Fort Worth, Texas.

A mishap while Kelly was oiling the rocker arms of the motor was said to have been responsible for the termination of the record flight of the Texans.

The flight is being backed by W. G. McAdoo, Jr.

TWO OTHERS CRASH

Metropolitan Airport, Los Angeles (AP)—The endurance flight record attempt of the Cessna monoplane piloted by Leo Nomis and Maurice Morrison ended abruptly after 42 hours, 5 minutes of flying at 1:05 a. m. Tuesday when the motor stalled and the craft crashed at the edge of the airport.

The two fliers were only slightly cut about the face and head, and the landing gear of their plane was smashed. Their injuries were dressed at the field, and immediately they issued the announcement that as soon as the plane could be repaired they would take off again on another attempt.

FRANCO TELLS OF EXPERIENCE AT SEA

much disappointed. Thinking that we would soon see a boat, we settled ourselves and arranged to stand guard.

"We were not worried about eating since we had food for 15 days. The first night we did not sleep although at dawn I had a little nap in the commanding cabin. On the morning of the 23rd the sea was rough and we feared for the plane. We even thought of dismounting the wings to avoid being shipwrecked. However, thanks to God, this was not necessary.

"We began, then, to feel thirsty, but soon decided to drink the water stored in the radiator. We did not drink it all. There is some left yet. You may taste it if you want.

"The following night was rather bad. It was cold and we had to put on our fur overcoats. The sea was rough and the plane was being buffeted by the waves. One of them dented the left fing and the man on watch became wet. We were then
