EASTERN STARS CLOSE SEASON; SOCIAL STAGED

Woodburn— The closing meeting of Evergreen chapter Order of the Eastern Star, was held in the Masonic temple Monday night, and the "hard times" social held after the meeting proved to be delightfully informal and entertaining. The men were attired in the regulation overalls or coveralls and the women in house dresses both ancient and modern. Judge Hiram Overton received the prize for the costume best featuring "hard times" for the men, and Mary Beaman received the ladies' prize. The judges were Mrs. Mabel Settlemier and Mrs. Nona Yergen.

A feature of the evening which was arranged by Mrs. Delia Overton was a surprise towel and handkerchief shower for the worthy matron, Ella Lytle and the worthy patron, Jes Fikan. In a dignified address on the depression, Mrs. Overton eulogized these two officers for their work in the order and at the appointed time Mrs. Nellie Muir and Mrs. Maude Scott entered with the gifts which were disguised with various wrappings of newspaper, old stockings, old gloves and shoes and even old dresses. The unwrapping of the packages was the cause of much merriment.

A reading was given by Ray Shaner in a costume which he announced represented the status of the Woodburn berry growers.

During the chapter meeting very interesting reports of grand chapter were given by the worthy matron and worthy patron and during the program hour Miss Gladys Adams, who recently returned from attending the Supreme Shrine and visiting relatives in New Jersey gave a travelogue, dwelling particularly on her visits to the Eastern Star chapters in New Jersey and of their customs. Her talk was extremely interesting.

The evening closed with refreshments. There will be no more meetings of the Star until September 12.

Dallas Hotel Room Is Being Remodeled

Dallas—Extensive alterations are being made in the Gail hotel where the dining room, formerly operated by the hotel management, has been discontinued. In its place a modern lunch room, with 12-stool counter, is being installed. Booths, to permit a semi-privacy and a number of open tables will also form part of the equipment. The lunch room will be operated by Ray Holland and will be open all day. The opening date has not been set but it is expected to be in the course of the next few days.
