Jessica Todd Hall Scene of Session

Monmouth—As guest day of the Civic club, women from Independence, Dallas and Elkins Woman's club participated in Thursday afternoon's meeting held in Jessica Todd hall.

Miss Alabama Brenton of the Oregon Normal school art department introduced Miss June Braley and Miss Mildred Reinhart, two students who are the successful creators of bookplate designs made from linoleum blocks chosen recently in the advanced art class. These designs, symbolizing activities in which the late Inez Churchill was interested will be used to designate books in the local library in the Inez Churchill memorial collection.

Miss Braley's design is circular in shape, about 4 inches across, and contains a conventionalized tree. Miss Reinhart's design is a rectangular shape and also contains a tree similar to the coast cypress.

Miss Brenton explained that these particular designs were selected from several student entries because of their significance as well as their fine designing and, of course, suitability.

Mrs. J. L. Merril, Portland, was introduced by Miss Katherine Arbuthnot. Mrs. Merril, an authority on roses, spoke on that topic. She extended an invitation to Monmouth rose growers to send roses to the Portland Rose Festival this summer and presented the Civic club with three rose bushes for the city park, and urged that the group seriously consider planting a rose garden in the park.

Miss Taylor poured at a charmingly appointed tea table, centered with fragrant spring blooms. A group of students contributed instrumental music throughout the tea hour and Miss Hilda Swenson and other students assisted about the rooms.
