WAR VETERANS OF STATE ARE ALBANY GUEST

Albany—More than 200 delegates registered in each organization at noon Thursday for the 16th annual encampment of the Oregon department of Veterans of Foreign Wars and auxiliary which convened Thursday.

Dwight Alderman, Portland department commander opened the sessions and presided at a memorial service with the Rev. Percy H. Smith, Roseburg, department chaplain giving the memorial talk.

Rev. Smith told the war veterans that it is their missioe to carry on in behalf of peace the work for which their comrade rad given their lives.

"They died that the world may have peace," Rev. Smith said "We might live that that ideal may be attained."

Don McLeod, Salem, told the veterans that, now that the bonus has been paid, they should devote themselves to service of their fellow men. "It is up to us now to take a bigger and finer part in government," he said. He characterized this as a "jubilee" convention, in view of the bonus payment. ## Moving Order Halted While Woman Suffers Birth of Fifth Child

Silverton — Near tragedy stalked the outposts of the town for the past few days. Perhaps a false pride hindered asking for help.

A young man, his wife and four small children arrived in town one late evening with their earthly belongings in a "tin can" trailer and a none too late model automobile. A small cook stove was in the house trailer and beds were arranged along the tin walls and in the main portion of the car.

A milk goat, a police dog and some tiny kittens complete the makeup of the household on wheels.

Shortly after midnight Wednesday, the woman gave birth to a 9½ pound baby boy and had no professional assistance nor any woman attendant. The outfit is camped on the railway property near the oil tanks.

They were told by Sam Lorenzen, truck driver for an oil company, that they must vacate and this caused the man to explain that they would have their fifth child in a few minutes. They were allowed to stay.

The family shows evidence of better surroundings and are being cared for by local and county relief until the man can get work and the mother is able to be moved.

ZOOK OBSERVES SILVER JUBILEE PASTOR SUNDAY

Rev. and Mrs. Zook, known at the Zook Evangelistic team, spent ten years in the general evangelistic field. They have held many notable campaigns in the south and west, along the Pacific coast and are known from the Rio Grande of Texas, to the Canadian line. It is estimated that 10,000 people have taken their stand for Jesus Christ and New Testament christianity in their campaigns.

Some of their outstanding pastorates where many hundreds of people have been converted, were at Bakersfield, Tulare, Porterville, and Fresno, Calif., and Myrtle Creek, and Forest Grove.

Rev. Zook was called to the pastorate of the Silverton Christian church last March.

The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

DRILLING FOR OIL UNDER SUSPENSION

Independence—Drilling for oil in the region adjacent to Buena Vista has been suspended for the present. The drills struck a hard basalt at a depth of 3600 feet across the river from Buena Vista, it being the second attempt by the promoters to reach oil in that vicinity. Many leases were taken upon land in that vicinity by K. D Rodebaugh, and what work has been done was at his instance and expense. The first well was drilled on the Steiwer farm about 12 miles south of Salem. Both drillings were loose from geological surveys made by Charles S. B. Henry, Oregon geologist.

The leases taken upon the lands were in form of options, which were readily given by the farmers in that community.
