Completion of Packers' Merger Wil Be Signal for Criminal Charge and for Erection of Opposition Packing-Houses by Cattlemen.

DENVER, April 9.—A meeting of great importance to producers of livestock has been held in Denver, with representative men present from a dozen states west of the Mississippi River in response to a call made by John W. Springer, presi-dent of the National Livestock Associa-tion of the United States, who presented the latest information concerning the packing-house merger scheme.

"It was determined," said Mr. Springer, "to fight the packers all along the line and to prevent, if at all possible, the con-templated merger for $500,000,000. Offers were made to organize a new line of packing-houses under pledge from all the big cattle producers to stand by the new packing-houses if built. "The Federal Government only walts

another move to prosecute criminally the officers of the combine, as proposed, for disobedience of the injunction of the Fed-eral Court at Chicago and all the states stand ready to suppress an unlawful con-spiracy against interstate commerce. "The stock producers have resolved to wage a relentless war for free markets and honest competition among packinghouse plants in each of these markets "It is well known that the recent $15, $90,000 merger of small plants was done to take care of maturing notes the sev-eral packers had given for the small conterns, and which they did not have the seady money to pay when called by the banks of Chicago. This is to be the opening wedge for the $500,000,000 merger."

END OF SEVEN DEVILS CASE Houser People Win Before Supreme

BOISE, Idaho, April 2.—The Supreme Court today decided the famous Seven Devils mining case brought by Granville Stuart against ex-Governor S. T. Hauser, of Montana, and others. The decision is in favor of the defendants, the judgment of the lower court being reaffirmed.

The case involved interests in the Peacock, White Monument and Helena cook.

Ready for Fishing on Rogue.

GRANT'S PASS, Or., April 3.—The fish-ing companies, both individual and corpor-ate, of Rogue River, are making their ate, of Rogue River, are making their annual preparations for the catching of salmon. Greater preparations are being made this year, however, than ever be-fore. Formerly the one company-that of R. D. Hume-had control of the salmon business on the Rogue: but this year the Bogue River Packing & Navigation Company, of which Captain E. H. Burns is manager, will enter the business on a large scale, and expects to get a very large share of the fish. There is a great strife on between these two interests on the Lower Rogue and it promises to wax hotter this season than ever. The two new steamers of Captain Burns will be ready for service in a short time. He ready for service in a short time. He has gained sufficient wharf frontage and ground to allow the landing of his boats and the erection of his packing-houses

Each company is busy mending fishing bach company is busy mending fishing boats, seines and nets. Crews have been secured for the river and the canneries, and all made ready for the beginning of business. It seems to be the general opinion of every one on the Rogue that the whole lower country will be benefited by the entrance and operation of the two communics on the river. companies on the river.

Roosevelt in 1884.

LA CAMAS, Wash., April 8.—(To the Editor.)—In The Oregonian of April 6 appears an inquiry from a reader, asking if Theodore Roosevelt voted against James G. Blaine in 1884. In the answer it is stated that Mr. Roosevelt was so obscure then that his action at that time is unknown. If my reading of history is correct, Theo-dore Roosevelt was a delagate-at-large to the National Republican Convention of 1884, and was a leading supporter of George F. Edmunds, and "strenuously" opposed the nomination of "The Plumed Knight." But after the nomination was made, Mr. Roosevelt refused to become a Mugwump, and gave hie earnest support to the nominee of the Republican party. It may be of interest to note that Will.

CREVASSE OPEN AGAIN. Flood at Hymelia Bursts Bounds and Work Is Abandoned.

NEW ORLEANS, April 8.-Hope of closing the Hymelia crevasse was prac-tically abandoned today. All day a ter-rific current swept around the broken ends of the cribbing and through the great 700foot gap in the levee, undermining the light piling which it had taken 12 days and nights to build.

A delegation from the crevasse commission came to the city early today and made a purchase of piling, which will be sent forward tomorrow. It is considered, however, that rot one chance in a thousand to close the crevasse remains. The Jeves board has practically reached the end of its resources and closers.

FIGHT WITH STRIKERS.

Conunion Bridgemen at Detroit Shoot One and Injure Others.

DETROIT, Mich., April 2.-Michael Sullivan, of Walkerville, Ont., was shot through the neck and a number of other men were slightly injured in a fight which took place at the foot of Joseph Campau avenue here tonight in a collision between strikers and nonunion workmen of the Canadian Bridge Company's works, located in Walkerville, across the river from Detroit. The police arrested four men all of whom were nonunion work. men, all of whom were nonunion work-men of Detroit, who had been filling the strikers' places at Walkerville and were just returning home from their day's work. Staven Laduc, also of Walkerville, was struck on the head with an Iron bar, and he and Suillvan were taken to local hospitals. Neither Sullivan nor Laduc is dangerously injured.

Carpenters Will Fight It Out NEW YORK, April 2.—In spite of the promises made by the Amalgamated Association of Carpenters to start work on every job where the brotherhood has struck against them, there was no change in the situation today. Thomas Mc-Cracken, one of the business agents of the brotherhood, said:

WON WITHOUT BROWNELL

He Had Left the Hall and Returned

Only at Last Moment. EUGENE, Or., April 2.—(Staff correspondence.)—The Hermann people are rejoicing the more heartily because they plucked victory from defeat. They went into the convention full of confidence. Brownell announced that everything would go according to programme, and he and all others expected it to go as planned, and there was consternation when the defeat came. Brownell with drew from the convention, taking the e" with him, and it was not until the Hermann people beheld the impotency of the opposition that they regained courage and took charge of convention once more. The battle which Brownell lost was regained in his absence. He returned with his "programme just as the last vote was being taken.

The anti-Hermann people had things their own way for nearly two hours, but they falled to improve their opportunity by uniting on one of their own number For about eight ballots, when it was in their power to nominate a man, they could not get together. Vawter held out, thinking that if he should stay in the fight Southern Oregon adherents of Hermann would swerve to him. Kelly would not yield, because he was informed that the leaders of Lane County would turn to him after they had left Hermann. would not withdraw, because he had more rotes than either of the two others, and therefore that duty was incumbent on The opposition to Hermann failed just as many people predicted it would do and just as Hermann hoped, because the people against him could not forget their rivalries. For this reason, a nomination from their ranks was not to succeed, even though the fight that made it possible

Will Harmony Prevnil.

Politicians are speculating whether more seeds of dissension in the party have been sown by Hermann's nomination. It is onsidered significant of possible hostility to Hermann that Kelly could not be found when Hermann had won, and that Gatch did not say that he was "satisfied" with the outcome of the contest. All Gatch promised toward "harmony" was that he would be found in the ranks doing his duty, and that he would be no laggard in the coming election. He regretted his defeat and confessed that he could not be sincere in saying he did not regret. Unlike Vawter, he did not say, "We are all Hermann men now."

Before adjourning, the convention voted to continue T. W. Harris as chairman of the Congressional committee and C. B. Winn as secretary, and to retain the present committeemen. The election of Brownell as chairman was a complete surprise to the anti-Hermann people. The cheme was hatched this morning and was so carefully concealed that hardly anything more than stray rumors of it got abroad. The election of Brownell was secured by a combination of Hernann with Clackamas people. The Hermann managers thought they had all coming their way when they put through their scheme so easily. Their opponents were correspondingly depressed. When everybody was surprised, because it was expected that he would get more. He in-Clackamas votes, some of which had been going to Hermann, shifted to Brownell. It Josephine. was then that Brownell left the convention. In the same ballot Harris received one ever, the anti-Hermann people probably have nominated Eddy.

PROCEEDINGS OF CONVENTION. Tongue is Eulogized by Chairman

T. W. Harris. EUGENE, Or., April 9,-(Staff correspondence.)-The convention was called to order at 2:40 P. M. by T. W. Harris, chairman of the District Central Committee. The convention showed a fighting spirit from the first rap of the chairman's gavel. A band of music of the Fourth Regiment of militia strove to calm the savage breast, but it seemed only to excite the heads of the delegates. After the delegates had scraped their feet on the floor and paced up and down restively. Chairman Harris cleared his throat and said: "As chairman of the District Central Committee, I welcome you here today." Dr. Harris spoke touchingly on the memory of the late Mr. Tongue, and went on: "It is a sad chapter in Oregon history that convenes you today. No touched so universally the hearts of the people as did Mr. Tongue. In the midst of arduous duties at Washington, after having distinguished himself at home and our eyes with tears and bowed our hearts In sorrow." Dr. Harris then referred to the honor paid Mr. Tongue's memory as the mortal remains were borne to the grave. "They were followed," said Dr. Harris, "They were followed," said Dr. Harris, of this Congressional district favors and "by the tears, love and benediction of his will earnestly labor for the improvement fellow-citizens. Eddy of Tillamook nominated Huston of Washington for temporary chairman. An uproar ensued about how the vote should be taken. As yet the anti-Browneil-anti-Hermann people did not know about the programme which was being carried out against them. Attorney-General Crawford, of Douglas, calmed the tumult temporarily by pleading for harmony and moving that the delegatio come forward to cast their ballots.

Kuykendail of Lane moved to amend by having the chairmen of the delegations ties. "No, no!" shouted the anti-Her mann people, for they suspected jobbery. However, they thought better of it a few moments later, after being exhorted by Campbell of Clackamas and Kuykenda and resolved to have the ballots cast by the chairmen of the counties. Auterson of Marion, Hewitt of Linn and Love of Douglas acted as tellers.

On the count the ballot started out Huston, but Brownell votes came in when the ballot was nearly half finished. As Brownell's 87th vote was announced, which showed his election, the convention went into tumult. The final result was Brownell, 98; Huston, 80. On motion of Huston the election of Brownell was made ununimous.

Browneil indulged in quite a long speech, in which he lauded to the skies the Republican party of Lincoln, Grant, Garfield, McKinley and Roosevelt. He said he was speaking on the 28th anniversary of the day when the Rebellion was shot to pieces and Grant and Lee sheathed their swords. He drew a moral from that event by saying, as he squinted at the convention: "Let us be friends; let us have no passion here. There's nothing in bitterness; there's nothing in animosity. Let us bury animosity and telegraph to Roosevelt about it, and then Theodore will go out and kill bear and be satisfied," Then Their Eyes Were Opened. On motion of Crawford, Brownell was authorized to appoint a secretary. Taking the "slate" out of his pocket Brownell, addressing the convention, blandly said: "The chair will proceed to appoint according to programme." A DOCTOR MEN DO TRUST

Every Patient Has His Personal Attention

DR. WALKER, 181 First Street, Corner Yamhill, Portland, Or.

Thirty years of his life have been devoted to the cure of men's weaksees and diseases. He has cured many thousands of cases right here in Portland, where he has been located for thirty years. By his system of treatment, mental and physical wiceks are made men of glorious manhood. He never fails in effecting a cure when his instructions are carried, out. His great pride is in the fact that he wins the respect of his patients. He makes friends of them. He never betrays a confidence. That is why he glories in his work. That is one reason for his success. He especially invites those who have been treated by other doctors and have not been cured to come and let him tell you why you were not cured. Let me point out to you by the use of the X-Ray the way by which you may recover your health, strength and vigor of mind

YOUNG MEN who are suffering from the effects of Indiscretions or Exflictions: Nervous and Physical Debility, Varicocele, Losses, Exhausted Vitality, Confusion of Ideas, Dull and Loss of Brilliancy to the Eye, Despondency, Pimples on Face and Loss of Energy, A POSITIVE and PERMANENT cure is ALWAYS GUARANTEED by MY "NEW METHOD CURE." You may be in the first stage, but remember you are fast approaching the last. Do not let false pride and sham modesty deter you from attending to your agonizing aliments. Many a bright and naturally gifted young man, endowed with genius, has permitted his case to run on and on, until remorse racked his intellect, and finally death claimed its victim. Remember that "PROCRASTINATION IS THE THIEF OF Middle-Aged Men Married or Single who are prematurely old as a result of excesses or indiscretions, and are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, deposits of ropy sediment in the urine, and someof ropy sediment in the urine, and some-times small particles of albumen, the col-or first of a thin or milkish hue and again changing to a dark and turbid ap-pearance, causing nervous debility and loss of vitality, remember this is the second stage of LOST capacity. In all such cases a perfect cure that remains cured is guaranteed in every case taken, and of the thousands treated, both by mail and at the office, not one case but was cured. Always inclose ten two-cent stamps, and write the reliable old doctor and pay no attention to circulars and Ht. and pay no attention to circulars and lit tle pamphlets thrown around
