Blow-up 'Quonset Hut—This pneumatic Quonset hut, developed for use in Arctic areas, can be inflated with a simple hand pump in three minutes. The defense department, which released this photograph, says the hut is snow, water and draft proof and has air-tight plexiglass windows; it can support about 500 pounds and can withstand winds of 100 miles an hour. The hose at left is an air duct for ventilation. (AP Wirephoto.)

Wheat Lags, All Other Grains Up

Chicago, Nov. 2 (AP) — All grains except wheat displayed strength on the board of trade today.

Prospects that corn acreage will be cut next year spurred buying in that grain, particularly in the deferred contracts.

Large supplies of wheat in local elevators, coupled with a lack of aggressive buying on the part of the government, acted as a drag on bread cereal futures.

Wheat closed ⅞ lower to ¼ higher, December $2.12½-⅜, corn was ¾ to 1 cent higher, December $1.18¾-⅞, oats were ½-⅞ higher, December 73⅜, rye was ¾ to 1 cent higher, December $1.43¾, soybeans were ¾ to 2 cents higher, November $2.26-$2.26½, and lard was 7 cents lower to 2 cents a hundred pounds higher, November $9.70.

Oppose Craft Lumber Unions

Washington, Nov. 2 (AP)—A northwest lumber company spokesman says creation of craft labor units in the lumber industry would be "disastrous" and confusing.

George Boldt of Tacoma, Wash., counsel for the Weyerhaeuser Timber company, so informed the national labor relations board yesterday in a case involving Weyerhaeuser operations in Washington and Oregon. Some labor representatives supported his contentions.

The case, taken under advisement by the board, involved Weyerhaeuser's Springfield, Ore., and Vail-McDonald, Wash., timber mills, and five unions.

The complicated case included these phases:

The AFL International Teamsters union asked that truck drivers at Vail-McDonald be allowed to decide whether they want a separate bargaining agent.

The CIO International Woodworkers of America asked continuance of one unit including all logging and mill employes, while the AFL International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers asked a workers' vote on whether their bargaining unit should include all maintenance and construction electricians, helpers and apprentices.

And the AFL International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill workers requested that power house employes at Springfield be permitted to vote on whether they should be included in a unit with sawmill workers or in a future pulp mill unit.

Burglary Reported At O'Brien's Market

A burglary at O'Brien's market, 955 Market street, with a loss of between $80 and $100 in cash, was investigated by Salem police Wednesday morning.

A hole had been hacked in a rear door of the estabalishment to permit the lock to be released. Cash was taken from a drawer at the base of the counter near the front of the store as well as from the register.

Also missing were two opened cartons of cigarettes.

One of the bills which had been taken was a "short snorter" with several signatures on it, J. R. O'Brien, proprietor of the establishment, reported to police.

The O'Briens who live nearby the store reported hearing a noise between 10:30 and 11:00 p. m. Tuesday night.

Washington, Nov. 2 (AP)—President Truman today named Edward T. McCormick of Arizona to be a member of the Securities and Exchange commission. McCormick, associate director of SEC's division of corporate finance, was given a recess appointment for a term expiring June 5, 1952.

Nurses to Aid Cappock Fund

Members of District No. 3, Oregon State Nurses association, met last evening at the Salem Woman's club, Miss Selma Hilmer presiding.

The group voted to donate to the Jane Doyle-Grace Phelps educational fund of the state group in memory of Nell Coppock of Salem.

Reports on the recent state convention of nurses in Portland were given by Mrs. Bernice Yeary from the county health department; Miss Esther Palmer of Salem General hospital; Mrs. Fay Lefor of Salem Memorial hospital; Miss Tina Duerksen of the state hospital; Miss Hilmer and Miss Frances Schissler of Salem General hospital.

Feature of the entertainment for the evening was a style show of fur coats from Price's, members of the association acting as models.

Santiam Dyke Ready for Flood

W. F. Weddle, one of the most active sponsors of the cooperative move of the farmers in the Santiam bottoms near the confluence of the north and south forks for installation of a dyking project there was in the city Wednesday and said that the last of the work on the project was being completed that day and he believes the project is in shape to withstand any floods of the coming winter, at least.

The overall cost is estimated at $25,000, borne mostly by the 14 farmers involved and the dyke is expected to protect about 3000 acres of valuable bottom lands from water damage.

The work extends over a stretch of about three and a half miles from Greens bridge to the confluence of the two channels, the main big dyke itself being about two miles long, he said.

Mr. Weddle made a report of County Judge Murphy Wednesday as to completion of the work and the judge said he not only expects to make another inspection of it soon but hopes to take Congressman Walter Norblad along with him to show the value of some government aid. Weddle said there is much more work that can be done both above and below the present project.

Machinists Win Boeing Vote

Seattle, Nov. 2 (AP)—The International Association of Machinists (ind.) claimed victory today over an AFL-Teamster union affiliate for the right to represent some 17,000 Boeing Airplane Co. employes in collective bargaining.

When National Labor Relations Board workers temporarily halted the count of ballots early today, until afternoon, there was no official vote count released.

But Harold Gibson, president of the machinists local, said:

"Our observers report that the count is running two to one in favor of the Aero Mechanics. We believe that the election has been won by the Aero Mechanics."

An observer said the vote was 6500 for the Aero Mechanics, 3400 for Local 451, Aeronautical Workers, Warehousemen and Helpers, affiliated with the Teamsters (AFL) and 300 for no union.

Approximately 17,000 votes were believed cast.

Three thousand challenged ballots and a typographical error complicated the count. Most of the challenged ballots were expected to be cleared.

The "typo" involved printing "AFL" after International Association of Machinists entry on the ballot instead of the proper "Ind" (independent).
