Aurora Holds Junior Rodeo

Aurora — A large crowd attended the Junior Rodeo, sponsored by the Aurora Lion's club, to see 55 youngsters from 6 to 17 years of age, compete in 21 contests of horsemanship and similar skills.

Added attractions were the Marks Prairie Silver Spinners, the prize-winning twirling girls, the drill team of the Sherwood 4-H Saddle club under the leadership of Ted Klebe, and a cowcutting exhibition by Bert Yergen.

The title of all-around champion cowboy went to Don Riseling of Oregon City, and reserve championship to Birdie Brooks of Colton. Gary Guernsey of Hubbard was adjudged hard luck cowboy.

Carl Netter, Wayne Jeskey, Benny Harper, Terry Lowrie and Jerry McLaren, all of Aurora, won contest awards.

Livestock donors included Luke and Louis Bushman, Elmer Jeskey, Gene Westberg, Henry White, Fred Saxon, Warren Ingalls and Bill Lowrie.

Arena judges were Omar Walker of Donald and Buck McCormick of Hillsboro; parade judges were J. T. Miller of Aurora and Mrs. C. M. Sanford of Canby.

Three clowns, Hal Fish, Ernie Graham and Buck Gardner of Canby, were special rodeo attractions, who livened the show.

2 New Teachers For Aumsville

Aumsville — Donna Reiniger and Harley Branigar have been appointed to the teaching staff at Aumsville school, assigned to seventh and eighth grades, respectively. Classes open Sept. 8.

Miss Reiniger will teach music, also. She received training at Vanport and Multnomah colleges, Portland, and the Women's college at Mt. Angel. Branigar was graduated from Monmouth college. The two replace Mrs. Cleona Parkes and Lawrence Barham.

The school has added a playshed 90x32 feet. PTA members contributed the labor, and the $1,000 proceeds from the organization's winter minstrel show bought lumber and a steam table for the cafeteria.

Stayton Holds Petunia Show

Stayton — Following a custom established in 1941 when the Stayton Garden club first conducted a petunia contest to further plantings of the town flower in Stayton, the judging of this 11th event took place last week when 130 plantings were viewed, taking the greater part of the day to view.

Bennett Speaks to Woodburn Rotary

Woodburn — Frank Bennett of Salem, president-elect of the Oregon College of Education and for many years superintendent of the Salem schools, was the guest speaker at the Woodburn Rotary club Thursday noon.

He was introduced by Irvin Westenskow, program chairman for the day, and his topic was "Caught in the Bite," bringing out the conditions in which the schools of the nation find themselves in this day and age.

There was a large attendance of members and families at the annual Rotary picnic held last Friday at Settlemier park. The committee in charge included Oscar Blanchard, Lloyd Froom, Kenneth Hagg, Ray Miller and William E. Dunn, Jr.

New Silverton Police Chief —Rell R. (Buck) Main, Salem policeman, has been appointed as new police chief of Silverton to replace Victor Grossnickle whose resignation took effect last Sunday. Main will assume his new post September 1.

Swimmers Get Skill Awards

Woodburn — Thirty-two students qualified for Red Cross certificates in various degrees of swimming skills at the close of the second period of free lessons at the war memorial swimming pool in Woodburn.

Those qualifying were: Beginners, Stephen and Marlene Zelinka, Ian Nelson, John Connell, Juanita Payne, Nancy and Melvin Steffen, and Ronald Roggenback of Woodburn; Peggy Miller, Ann and Dannie Owings, Neal and Dorothy Reiling of Hubbard; Judy Lettermaier, Judy Hassing, Maxine, Jim and Dick Trost and Brenda Hassing of Aurora; Tamara Tweed of Monitor; Frank and Victoria Sowa of Brooks; and Bill Robbins of Milwaukie.

Adult beginners, Mrs. Ione Renn, Clair LaBarr and Lorraine White, all of Woodburn.

Intermediates, Charles Bush and James Reis of Woodburn and Lynn Hull of Portland.

Swimmers, Tommy Miller, Bobby MacMillan and Roger Blomberg, all of Woodburn.

The third and last series of classes is now under way and will continue through August 30. Included are instructions for beginners, intermediates and swimmers and also instructions in diving.

The activities at the pool will close on Labor day, Sept. 1, with a two-hour program including a water show, demonstration in diving, races and a water ballet.

Detroit

Detroit — As the Detroit dam nears completion many families are moving from Camp Mongold to homes at other points.

Among recent ones ot leave are Mr. and Mrs. William Woodcock and family who have moved to Mill City, Mr. and Mrs. John Hunt who have left for their home in Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gets who will be at home in Vancouver, Wash., and Mrs. Ruth Wentzel who has moved from Camp Mongold to the Calzetta motel in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Overholser and family will move from their present home near Mehama to Lowell after returning from their two weeks vacation. Mr. Overholser has been assigned to a position at the Lookout Point dam near Lowell.

Leonard Overholser will attend the University of Oregon at Eugene as a freshman this fall.

Leading in the DDRA fishing derby is Otto Stelbmueller who has caught a 16 and three-eighths inch trout. The contest is limited to fish caught in the North Santiam or its tributaries.

Successful bidder on six trailer houses advertised recently at Camp Mongold was Marion Alderman. The six will be moved to Idahna and another 18 will be advertised for sale in September.

Guests of the R. W. Hellwigs the past weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Quall of Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Overholser were dinner guests at the Hellwigs' home Saturday and Sunday and the group was joined by the Charlie Staytons on Sunday.

All attended the dance honoring the Ray Overholsers at the Hut Saturday evening.

Official visitors at the Detroit ranger station the past weekend included J. R. Bruckart, forest supervisor, Clyde Quam, Robert Appleby, Jack Smith and Lloyd Bransford, all from the Eugene office of the Willamette National Forest.

Inspecting the new station on Wednesday were Frank Walisch and Larry Mays from the regional office in Portland, accompanied by George Ferrare, head of the department of procurement and supplies at the Washington, D. C. headquarters.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Otis White the past week were Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Williams of Newport. Mr. Williams was pastor at the Detroit Community church a few years ago.

Larger Shop at Stayton High

Stayton — Plans for an expanded high school arts and crafts program, to be housed in a 30-foot addition to the shop now under construction, were detailed this week by Merlin Morey, Stayton union high school superintendent.

The new shop teacher, Arthur Corbett, in charge of construction, said the addition increases shop dimensions to 70x34 feet, making possible enlargement of existing instruction facilities and providing for space to teach metal - working, photography and ceramics.

A new high-firing electric kiln is to be installed.

Corbett was graduated from Colorado State Teachers' college and took graduate work in industrial arts at Oregon State college. He owned a crafts shop in Palo Alto, Calif., and is putting craft jewelry-making equipment and photographic equipment at the school's disposal.

Sublimity

Sublimity — Donald, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Overton Bruce, and his cousin, Larry, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bruce, were shaken and bruised when the two boys were thrown from the horse they were riding near the Overton Bruce place.

The horse apparently became frightened.

Miss Elanor Huckestein of San Francisco, Calif., was a house guest of Mrs. Cora Neal Tuesday. They were former schoolmates.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Marks of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wood and daughter, Judy, of Seattle, Wash., were Tuesday evening dinner guests at the E. A. Ditter home. Mr. and Mrs. Marks are uncle and aunt and the Woods are cousins of Mrs. Ditter.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert J. Ditter and Mrs. Dolly Hough, of Salem, returned Monday from California. Ditter, a Sgt. in the Marine Corps Reserve, was at Camp Pendleton for two weeks training. Mrs. Ditter and Mrs. Hough drove down 10 days ago and the trio returned together.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hetschel, who have been living on their farm north of Sublimity the past five years, left today for an unknown destination, hoping a change will benefit his health.

The Bert Bradley family are moving into the Hetschel house while the Berry family is returning to occupy the house vacated by the Bradleys.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Minden and Michael Benedict returned Monday from their trip to Chicago where the men attended the C.O.F. convention.

When the Salem reserve unit returned from Marine Corp, Pendleton, Calif., it was learned that Sgt. D. J. Ditter of Sublimity had received the highest carbine score fired this summer of any of the reservists west of the Mississippi river. He fired 254 points of a possible 275.

Ditter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene O. Ditter of Sublimity.

Aumsville

Aumsville — Clair Gulliford is a patient at Salem Memorial Hospital where he is to undergo major surgery Friday, Aug. 22. Mr. Gulliford entered the hospital Friday of last week.

Mrs. Jane Nicholson has as her house guest her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Barman and their four sons, Randy, Dennis, Douglas and Ronald.

Their home is in Woodhull, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Killinger have returned to their home at Alton, Kan., after spending the past two weeks visiting his family here and also Mrs. Killinger's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Bradley.

Lebanon High Slates Schedule

Lebanon — The local high school principal's office is now open each day and class schedules are being prepared. Hours are from 9 a.m. to noon, and 1 to 5 p.m., DST.

Principal Burleigh Cash urged all students new to this area and not at Lebanon high school last year to register before Thursday, Aug. 28, so their schedules may be made out.

On that Thursday, all 9th and 10th graders will pay their fees and receive their schedules. The same process will be repeated the next day, Friday, Aug. 29 for the 11th and 12th graders.

Regular full time classes will be held when school opens Thursday, Sept. 4, and also on the following Friday.

Silverton Church Specials Announced

Silverton — Church specials include a talk at Calvary Lutheran church, by Miss Mildred Hassellquist, missionary to India and Nepal at 8 p.m. Monday. The Wednesday evening 8 o'clock prayer service will be at the parsonage.

For Trinity and Immanuel Lutheran churches will resume Sunday school classes the first week of September. Trinity Rally day is announced for Sunday, Sept. 14. Pastor Joseph A. Luthro will speak on the topic: "Walk Humbly," at the worship hour the 11th Sunday after Trinity, Aug. 24.

For the members of the senior choir of Trinity, their families and their guests, an after worship picnic will be held at Milk-Rik near Molalla, Sunday.

Trinity League treasurer, Dean Libner, is attending the Luther League Leadership school at Parkland, Wash., where Pastor Luthro is to serve on the instruction staff for the week, Aug. 25-31.

Ladies Aid meets Sept. 3, and Dorcas society, Sept. 5.

Rev. A. W. Nelson will invite his brother-in-law, Rev. R. C. Reinholtzen, to assist with the worship service Sunday, visiting in Silverton from his pastorate at Cloquet, Minn.

Lebanon Ready For Sewer Plant

Lebanon — Construction of a sewage treatment plant will begin as soon as the engineering firm of Cornell, Howland, Hayes and Merryfield of Corvallis, completes its report on specifications, announced the city attorney, Kenneth Wilshire.

The sum of over $170,000 has been raised by Lebanon for this construction, but the city engineer estimates that it will cost $315,000 to complete the project.

The Crown Zellerbach corporation donated the site of the plant which will be located near its paper mill in North Lebanon. The city also has a permanent easement of property leading to the river, donated by Asa Baker.

Bids for the construction of the sewage treatment plant will be called for within 30 days, according to present plans which were disclosed at a meeting of the Lebanon city council this week.

Aurora

Aurora — Many homes in the Aurora area are receiving painting jobs, remodeling and renovation. The new addition adjacent to the Orville Stoner home on highway 99E ½ mile south of Aurora is nearing completion. At the D. Jovan home, new roofs are being added to buildings.

A new city water meter has been installed at the curb near the Evans home.

Work on the Legion building is progressing.

At Canby, fertilizer trials on the Gordon Weygandt filbert orchard were demonstrated at a tour of the Nut Growers Society, Thursday and Friday.

Charles Couche, Wilsonville, showed a walnut orchard in sod which had been pastured for three years. Use of irrigation was shown on an orchard planted to sod and clipped with golf course mowers.

Fred Saxton, president of the Aurora Lions club, has been appointed chairman of zone 2 of district 2 of Oregon Lions clubs. The appointment was made by Dist. Gov. Elmer Bloomquist of Astoria.

Mr. Saxton joined the Aurora club soon after it was formed and it was through his efforts that the present Canby club was instituted.

Sunday Classes Continue

Silverton — Methodist Sunday school classes have remained active during the summer months. the Youth Fellowship evening meetings will be resumed during September, Rev. Douglas Harrel has announced.
