JAPAN MAY EXHIBIT

Her Minister Interested in Lewis and Clark Fair.

CHINA WILL FOLLOW IN HER LEAD

John Barrett Arouses Interest of the Leading Oriental Nation in Portland Exposition—Other Nations Will Rival Her.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, April 29.—The Lewis and Clark Fair has a new and influential friend in the Japanese Minister, Korojo Takahira. John Barrett, who toured the Orient for the St. Louis Exposition, had a conversation with the Japanese Minister before leaving for St. Louis today, in which he discussed at length the coming exposition to be held at Portland. The Minister asked many questions with a view to assuring himself that the Exposition had sound financial backing and was regarded with favor by the Government, and the replies of Mr. Barrett were apparently very satisfactory, for, when the interview closed, the Minister remarked that he saw no reason why Japan should not have a large exhibit at Portland in 1906. Minister Takahira was particularly anxious to learn more of Portland's commercial relations with Japan, and to ascertain what opportunity there was for building up a Japanese trade through that port. His advice please him, for Mr. Barrett was able to give him reliable information on a topic of which the Minister knew little. After studying the field and having had experience on behalf of St. Louis, Mr. Barrett says it is essential that Portland, to start with, should secure pledges of a first-class exhibit from one of the most important countries of the Orient. This, he says, will act as an entering wedge. For instance, if Japan's interest is deeply aroused and a fine exhibit is promised, he declares that China, not wishing to be outdone, will fall into line with an equally interesting exhibit and, in turn, Russia will be likely to contribute an exhibit from Eastern Siberia, while Siam, Korea and the smaller countries, observing the enthusiasm of the larger nations, will follow up with exhibits on a large scale. Japan, says Mr. Barrett, is probably the best country to start with and China following next in order. In New York a few days ago Mr. Barrett explained to the new Chinese Minister the purposes of the Lewis and Clark Exposition, of which he had heretofore known little as to details. Minister Cheng was most interested and has asked Mr. Barrett, when they meet again, to give him more details, that he may communicate with his home government.

NO CABINET MEETING.

Hitchcock the Only Member Roosevelt Saw in St. Louis. ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 29.—There is little likelihood of a Cabinet meeting in St. Louis during the stay of President Roosevelt in the city. The only member of his Cabinet that was seen by the President up to the time that he left the house of President Francis for the Sigel memorial meeting was Secretary Hitchcock, and he saw him in a social way only. The President does not know of any Cabinet meeting to be held while he is in St. Louis.

La Follette Refers Freight Question to Wisconsin Lawmakers. MADISON, Wis., April 28.—Governor La Follette today on the freight commission bill. It is an exhaustive treatise on the subject of railroad freight charges, comprising 128 pages, and is intended to refute the statements and arguments that were made by railroad men and agents before the General Assembly committee. The message says: "The Legislature of Illinois or Iowa have given to the people of those states laws which enable them to secure rates lower than the Wisconsin rates for like services and diplomas awarded exhibitors from the United States and Cuba at the Paris Exposition of 1900. Chinese medals from the British government have been given seven male nurses from the Mills Training School, of New York, who saw service on the hospital ship Maine in Chinese waters during the Boxer rebellion. that the child was not hers, and brought action for annulment on the ground of fraud. A jury in New York City gave him the verdict, and the marriage was ordered annulled. The woman appealed, and the judgment was reversed by the Appellate Division. The Court of Appeals again reversed, sustaining the order of annulment. Judge Gray, writing the unanimous opinion of the court, says: "The statutes of this state declare that marriage, so far as its validity in law is concerned, is a civil contract to which the consent of the parties capable of contracting is essential. While the marriage relation in its legal aspect has no peculiar sanctity, as a social institution a due regard for its consequences and for the orderly constitution of society has caused it to be regulated by laws, in its conduct as in its dissolution, the free and full consent which is the essence of all ordinary contracts is made by the statute necessary to its validity. The minds of the parties must meet in one intention. The plaintiff in this case had a right to rely upon the defendant's statement of a fact, the truth of which was known to her and unknown to him, and he was under no obligations to verify a statement to the truth of which she had pledged herself. It was a gross fraud, and upon reason, as upon authority, it afforded a sufficient ground for the annulment of the contract thus obtained."

FRAUD ANNULS MARRIAGE

Misrepresentations by Woman Valid Grounds of Divorce. ALBANY, N. Y., April 28.—An important case, involving the validity of marriages obtained by fraud, has just been decided in the Court of Appeals in the case of Gregory Bilorezo, appellant, vs. Johanna Bilorezo. The parties had been living together without marriage, and after an absence of the man in Philadelphia for some months the woman produced a child, and representing it as her own, born during his absence, she induced him to marry her.
