MARKET BLOCK MATTER TODAY. - Sev eral inquiries have been made as to why the programme outlined Wednesday as to the programme outlined Wednesday as to action of the Council in regard to the franchise to be granted the Union Market Company was not carried out. The franchise ordinance was introduced at the meeting of the Council, and read a first time, and the City Attorney asked that it be laid over for further and final examination. This was done with the unformationing that a special meeting of the Zerstanding that a special meeting of the Council will be held at 2 P. M. today to read the ordinance a second time, after which it must be published and then at least 20 days must elapse before it can be placed on its final passage. In all 60 days must elapse from the introduction of be placed on its final passage. In all 50 days must elapse from the introduction of the ordinance until its final passage. These provisions are contained in the new charter, and are intended to prevent franchise ordinances from being rushed through the Council. The Mayor and Council and practically everybody are anxious to have the old Pavillon torn down, and it is understood that if the franchise ordinance proves satisfactory and passes a second reading today the company will be put in possession of the Market block at once, and they say that if this is done they will begin tearing down the old Pavillon Saturday.

SLIPPINST PLACE FOR HORSES.—The as-

SLIPPERT PLACE FOR HORSES.—The asphalt pavement on Third street, opposite the Dekum building, slopes considerably toward the gutter, and is rather unsafe footing for horses when wet. On Wednesday one of a pair of magnificent truck horses slipped and fell and sprawled and slid about so much in endeavoring to re-gain his feet that it was feared he would be ruined. Yesterday as a rather lively delivery team was being driven along there the escape pipe of a donkey engine hoisting lumber into the upper stories of the Dekum began to blow off with a great roaring and hissing, which so terrified one of the horses that he wheeled about, throwing himself down, and came very near upsetting the wagon. The poor beast in his efforts to regain his feet and get away from the sound of the engine fell down several times, and must have se-verely brulsed and sprained himself. It oks as if the pavement at this point is more crowning than an asphalt pave-ment ought to be.

DESTRABLE IMMIGRANTS COME-A party of eight, responsible and respectable farmers and timber men from Wisconsin, just the class of people needed in Oregon, arrived in this city yesterday morning consigned to the care of Wallis Nash, who has charge of the Oregon office of William Westerland & Co., land and immigration agents of Chicago. These men are look-ing for farms and timber land and will start up the Valley under the guidance of Mr. Nash this morning. The country around Albany will be inspected first, and then the party will probably go further up the Valley. They are the first drips of a shower of such people who are coming out from Wisconsin. They will be heart-ily welcomed and will be afforded every facility possible for securing the information they desire in regard to this state.

MAT GET A HALF-HOLIDAT.—Postmaster
Bancroft has been asked to give the employes connected with the Postoffice a half-holiday on the occasion of President Roosevelt's visit to this city, in order that they might join in the procession and parade in his honor. Of course, Mr. Bancroft was perfectly willing to grant the men the time asked for, but on looking into the matter be found that he had no authority to do so without permission from the department at Washington. The business of handling mall matter is such an important one to the public that it cannot be interfered with, even for a short time without the proper preliminaries having been gone through. The necessary permission will at once be applied for by Postmaster Bancroft, and will in all probability be granted. BASEBALL

They are somewhat tired of a Winter of inactivity, and will be glad to get on the road again. Residents in the neighborhood where they have been "rooming" are also glad that they are going away, for the elephant has been amusing himself at short intervals by breaking out and raising Cain, and there was always a possibility that the lions might get out and go on a rampage. The reason the menagerie was brought here for Winter tight and the contract is that the climater is the contract of the contract o quarters is that the climate is mild and it does not take so much fuel to warm drinking water for them.

Much was expected from "Our New Mir ister," a play by Denman Thompson and the late George W. Ryer, who also wrote "The Old Homestead," and it came up to all expectations. An excellent company presented it last night at the Marquam Theater, and the attendance was good.
The audience just roared at the funny sayings of Joseph Conyers, who plays Detective Darius Startle, a thief-catcher, who puts Sherlock Holmes to the blush who puts Sherlock Holmes to the blush by his astuteness. "Our New Minister" first saw the light about nine years ago, but its authors concluded to push "The Old Homestsad." and the new play was neglected until Joseph Conyers added color to the dislogue and made alterations which have materially helped to make it a success. Wherever it has gone over this country for the next two years if has been country for the past two years it has been met with the very highest appreciation. This season "Our New Minister" was popular in California, and return dates have been arranged for have been arranged for.

have been arranged for.

Like its famous parent, "Our New Minister" does not call for the display of costly gowns or elaborate reenery, since it tells of home life and the doings of people in the humble walks of life in Hardscrabble, N. H. There are frequent references to Scripture in the lines and a strong religious sentiment is apparent. One of the chief characters portrayed is ple in the humble walks of life in that of Darius Startle, a country detective, dressed in a suit of clothes the worse for wear, with a tuft of hair on his chin like that of a goat, and an arsenal of ancient that of a goat, and an arsenal of ancient weapons peeping from beneath his coattails. Mr. Conyers takes this part, and is a natural-born comedian of the first water. He made the theater ring with laughter, and the crowd had its funniest moment when he emerged from the cellar dressed in the ragged prison suit left by the escaped convict and said, "Daniel in the lion's den wasn't in it with me."

John Terris plays the part of the minis-

John Terris plays the part of the minis John Terris plays the part of the minis-ter, Thaddeus Strong, and his part stands out in boid relief by reason of his manli-ness and sterling honesty. The kernel of the play is furnished by Charles Sted-man, who portrays Lem Ransom, a re-formed convict, who returns to his home-to find that people look askance at a man who has been in prison for theft. Of course, the minister takes Ransom's part and falls in love with the ex-convict's daughter, Nance Ransom (Bithel Brooke Ferguson). The latter gives a fine repre-sentation of a difficult part. John P. Brawn does clever comedy work as "Skee-zicks," and John Barker and Louis Flerce display good ability. Phila May as the minister's sister is a sweet-looking maiden, who actually does not have a lover in the play, and who displays a good soprano voice in singing two songs. "Our New Minister" is as clean, wholesome and sweet as a nut. It will be the attraction at the Marquam this and torow evenings, with a matinee to Matinee business at Edward Shields continuous vaudeville at Cordray's con-tinues to grow. Full houses mark the evening records, and it is expected by the management that ladies and children will soon fill the house in the afternoon. At present the audiences at matinees are large and appreciative. The bill this week has been a particularly good one and the singing features are excellent. Fowler brothers are among the favor-winners, and it can be said that never has a more capable team of balancing acrobats been seen on a local stage. For scientific work of a marvelous character they have not been excelled. Sam Hood continues to please, and a striking feature of the en-tertainment is North, South, and Singing Dog Dixle. The Empire trio is the curtain-raiser, and gives the audience an idea of the value of the show that is to follow. The illustrated songs are pretty entertainers, and the polyscope pictures as a finale are amusement-makers.

Sale for McEwan, Hypnotist.

To lessen rather than to accentuate the mystery which in the popular mind surrounds hypnotism and its practice is the constant aim of McEwen, the Scotch the constant aim of scawed, the scotch hypnotist and magician, who comes to the Marquam Grand next Monday for a week's engagement. In his explanations at the opening of the performance, McEwen does his best to emphasize this fact. He makes no effort to illusionize, and for this very reason and the further fact that his is a most engaging personality, he is invariably on intimate terms with his audience from the start. But despite his unassuming demeanor, McEwen is thoroughly a master of his art, as is quickly made apparent to all who see him work. He has a way of doing some most amusing things with his subjects, who are generally selected from his audiences, and everybody is kept in high good humor as a result. A feature of the McDwen performances here will be the cornst playing of Newton Smith, one of the foremost band musicians of the day, who was formerly with Sousa's band. The advance sale of seats will open this morning at 10 o'clock for the entire

REJOICING AT CONCORD. Mrs. Eddy's Gift to the New Christian

Science Church. CONCORD, N. H., May & Through the generous gift of the Rev. Mary Baker Eddy, the Christian Scientists of Concord, N. H., are to have one of the finest church structures in the Granite State. The plans for this edifice were presented at a largely attended church meeting tonight, and work will begin on the new structure in the near future. The gift of Mrs. Eddy includes a desirable lot of land now occupied by Christian Science Hall, in the heart of the city, at the corner of State and School streets, and is, without doubt, one of the finest locations in Concord for a church building. In addition to the gift of this choice lot Mrs. Eddy presents to the church a cash CONCORD, N. H., May &-Through the

In addition to the gift of this choice lot Mrs. Eddy presents to the church a cash donation of $100,000, making her total present represent the sum of $120,000.

The church will be built of Concord granite, as specified by Mrs. Eddy in her original deed of trust and first announced in the Concord Monitor of March 19, 1898. In response to an inquiry from the editor of that paper, Mrs. Eddy made the following statement: the following statement:

the following statement:
"On January 21, 1888, I gave a deed of trust to three individuals which conveyed to them the sum of $109,000 to be appropriated in building a granite church edifice for the First Church of Christ, Scientists, in this city. Yery truly,
"MARY BAKER EDDY."

In the Fall of 1897 Mrs. Eddy purchased the property opposite the High School adjoining the State Capitol, and after re-modeling the mansion into a hall and reading-rooms, at a total outlay of $25,000. she presented Christian Science Hall and grounds to the local members for their

On February 22, 1898, First Church of Christ, Scientists, was organized, with a membership of 78. The congregation has outgrown its present quarters, and the new church is required to accommodate the increase in membership, which has been remarkable.

The church will be built of the same beautiful Concord granite of which the National Library bullding in Washington is constructed. The architecture will be Gothic, and in proportion and in outlin it will be in keeping with modern ideas of a church building. It is intended that the pews of the church shall seat 1000.

The trustees of the building fund, who will have the oversight of the construction of the new edifice, are: Messrs, Fred M. Ladd, Josiah E. Dwight and J. Wesley Piummer. Mr. Francis R. Allen, of Boston, has been employed as architect.
The present first reader of the church is Rev. Irving C. Tomlinson; second reader. Miss Mary E. Tomlinson.
The meeting tonight sent to the generous donor the following letter of appre-erous donor the following letter of appreciation and gratitude:

"Rev. Mary Baker Eddy, Pleasant View, Concord, N. H.—Beloved Teacher and Reader: The members of the Concord Church are filled with profound joy and deep gratitude that your generous gift of 199,000 is to be used at once to build a beautiful church edifice for your followers in the capital city of your native state. We rejoice that the prosperity of the cause in your home city, where, withthe cause in your home city, where, with out regard to class or creed, you are so highly esteemed, makes necessary the commodious and beautiful church home you have so freely bestowed. We thank you for this renewed evidence of your unselfish love."

Since the congregation has already outgrown the accommodations of Christian Science Hall, building operations will be begun at an early date. The citizens of Concord regard Mrs. Eddy's generosity with favor and are greatly pleased that another splendld building is to be added to the handsome edifices of the capital city.
