Ike Will End Georgia Stay

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower arranged another round of golf today after his vacation headquarters announced he plans to end his vacation-mixed-with-work Monday or Tuesday.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, told newsmen late yesterday Eisenhower expects to return to Washington early next week, either Monday night or Tuesday night.

The President came to Augusta National Golf Club April 18. Through yesterday, Eisenhower had played 18 holes every day since arriving.

The President conferred with Secretary of State Dulles by telephone again yesterday regarding the Jordan government crisis. It was the third day in a row they had talked over that situation.
