Morning Daily Herald

SPECIAL, 12:30 A. M.

Not to see our stoves and ranges before buying is a mistake. Mistakes are always costly. In heating stoves we have the largest as well as the most carefully selected stock in the city. The stoves we offer were not bought as an experiment but as a certainty. We know what each stove will do, and they were bought for cash, so the price is right. We have specialties in heaters, beside our regular lines of Garland, Argand and Superior stoves and ranges.

OREGON POLITICS.

Democratic Speaking at the Court House — The Outlook in the State.

The campaign in Linn county has not yet begun to assume any activity. Dates have been arranged for republican speaking, as will be seen by the announcement elsewhere in this issue.

R. A. Miller, democratic candidate for congressman, and Rev. A. LeRoy, democratic candidate for superintendent of public instruction, were announced to speak at the court house in this city yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock, but when the hour arrived, there were less than two dozen persons present, and the speakers simply made a little family talk.

Judge J. J. Whitney called the meeting to order and L. H. Montanye was elected chairman.

Mr. Miller began by refering to the Democrate victories in some of the municipal and state elections in the East and tried to convince his hearers that a great democratic tidal wave is going to sweep over this state in June, though he confessed the size of the audience did not aid him much in working up an enthusiasm on the subject. He criticised Congressman Hermann because he did not leave his post of duty at Washington to engage in the campaign in Oregon, and made the remarkable statement that he he believed that if Mr. Hermann had the ability to make a creditable canvass he would be here. He touched the tariff question very gingerly, but still clung to the lamented policy free trade.

He seemed to rely upon some imaginary enthusiasm that is to come to the relief of democrats in June, and said he believed that Governor Pennoyer and every candidate on the democratic state ticket would be elected, including himself.

Rev. A. LeRoy then spoke on matters pertaining to the office of superintendent of public instruction. He is a fine silver-haired gentleman, and speaks very fluently and with pleasing address, but he made a bad break when he accused Superintendent McElroy of plagiarism in making speeches that were patent, ready-printed affairs furnished by some publishing concern, as the people of Oregon, who have heard Mr. McElroy's original ready speeches, on every sort of subjects as they presented themselves, will not trouble themselves over the imputation, but will continue him in the office which he has filled so efficiently and acceptably.

The speakers left last evening for Corvallis.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Governor Pennoyer will speak at Lebanon today. A profitable thing for him to explain to the people of Oregon while he is out stumping the state would be as to whether or not he has yet adopted the eight hour plan in his sawmill as is recommended in his party platform. He should prove his faith by his works.

D. P. Thompson has returned from Astoria, and will leave next week for Eastern Oregon to look after his political fences. Those who are looking for surprises in June are likely to find what they are looking for when the votes are counted in Portland. D. P. Thompson's popularity there will surprise the democrats who console themselves with the belief that Pennoyer can carry Multnomah county; and Mr. Miller will also discover when the votes are counted in Eastern Oregon that the people over there are still raising sheep.

The Colored Jenny Lind.

The Nashville American says of Miss Flora Batson, "the colored Jenny Lind," who is to sing at the Albany opera house Decoration day, Friday evening, May 30: Her voice is rich in the qualities most valuable to a singer. The range is wonderful. It is clear and resonant, exceedingly flexible and pure. Her articulation is perfect, and she sings with a freedom from effort seen rarely, except in the most famous singers. The tones of her voice are powerful and thrilling. It is rather dramatic than emotional. Her renditions last night covered an extraordinary versatility and range. Tickets, floor, 50 cents; gallery, 25 cents; children, 25 cents. Now on sale at Blackman's drug store; reserved seats without extra cost; see advertisement.

Excursion to Corvallis To-Day.

The managers of the new opera house at Corvallis are determined to make a success of the opening which occurs Saturday night May 10. Rice's Evangeline Company composed of 41 people and their own world-renowned orchestra have been engaged for the occasion. Arrangements have been made to run an excursion train from here to-night leaving the S. P. depot at 7 p. m. and returning after the opera about 11:30. The Albany Mechanics Band has been engaged to go with the excursion and a grand time and a big crowd can be expected.

Copper.

The mineral resources of Linn county are fast being investigated, and proving to be immensely rich. Recently a ledge of very rich copper ore was discovered in the foot hills east of Harrisburg and claims have been located upon it, and it will be developed. If it proves to be as rich as reported it will be a veritable bonanza for the county and the locators who found it. Let the good work go on.

A Lively Runaway.

One of I. N. Woodle's delivery teams, driven by Charley Tabler, ran away yesterday, covering about a mile between the business portion of the city and the railroad track in south Albany at a 2:40 gait. The driver was thrown out but he was not badly hurt.

Fountain pens at Will & Stark's.

REPUBLICAN SPEAKING.

When and Where the Prominent Men Will Deliver Speeches During the Campaign.

The republican state central committee has made the following appointments for public speaking in Albany and vicinity:

Hon. B. B. Beekman at Albany on Wednesday evening, May 21, at 7:30.

Hon. Seymour Condon at Albany on Saturday evening, May 24, at 7:30.

Hon. O. P. Thompson, Hon. Phil Metschan, Col. E. W. Nevins and Lydell Baker will speak as follows:

Albany May 27, at 7:30.
Corvallis May 28, at 7:30.
Salem May 29, at 7:30.
Oregon City May 30, at 7:30.
Portland May 31, at 7:30.

Hon. Geo. E. Curry will speak as follows:

Harrisburg May 23, at 7:30.
Halsey May 24, at 7:30.
Brownsville May 26, at 26.
Lebanon May 27, at 7:30.

The public are cordially invited to be present and hear these gentlemen discuss the issues now before the people of Oregon.

OREGON'S SCHOOL POPULATION.

There are 100,000 School Children in the State—An Increase of 14,000.

State School Superintendent McElroy is making arrangements for the meeting of the State Teachers' Association to be held in the state house at Salem, June 30 and July 1, 2 and 3. He expects that between 400 and 500 teachers will be present. The meeting will be addressed by many prominent educators, among them City Superintendent Luckey, of Pittsburg, Pa., the city superintendent of Chicago, Rev. Dr. Henson, of Chicago, and ex-Congressman Horr, of Michigan.

Superintendent McElroy is also making arrangements to attend the meeting of the National Teachers' Association at St. Paul. He thinks that from 100 to 150 Oregon teachers will attend if favorable rates of transportation can be secured. The Oregon headquarters will be at the Hotel Ryan. The superintendent will try to take an advertising car with him.

The superintendent estimates the school population of Oregon at 100,000 an increase of 14,000 during the last year.

TAKING THE CENSUS OF OREGON.

Supervisor John Kelly Estimates Portland's Population at 60,000.

John Kelley, supervisor of the Western district of Oregon, will be in the city in a few days, the lives in Lane county. When he comes arrangements will be made for beginning the big count. J. Henry Brown, auditor of a political history of Oregon, who took the census in Marion county in 1870 and 1880, will probably be one of the enumerators in Portland. He has had conferences with Supervisor Kelly. Speaking about the count Mr. Brown said yesterday:

"We will begin taking the census on the first Monday in June at 6 a. m. It will be taken very carefully, and it is Mr. Kelly's intention to hire only the very best men available. It must be published in the cities within fifteen days and in the country within thirty days. There will be eighteen enumerators in Portland, about three in East Portland and and one or two in Albina. Mr. Kelly thinks the population of Portland will figure up about 60,000.

Mysterious Assault.

On Wednesday evening, April 30, John Edwards of Brownsville, was the victim of a mysterious and murderous assault. About 9 o'clock he went out to the well, accompanied by his wife, to draw a bucket of water. Upon returning to the house Mr. Edwards, who was some distance in advance, was about to enter the door when he received a stunning blow on the forehead which rendered him insensible. He took one step forward and fell to the floor, where he was found a moment later by his wife, who, assisted by some of the neighbors, and restored him to concciousness. Mr. Edwards has no idea who his assailant was or for what purpose he was assaulted as he is not aware that he has an enemy in the world. There being no light in the room Mr. Edwards did not see his assailant.

They May Strike Oil.

Tacoma News.

The drilling for an artesian well by the Tacoma Light & Water Company's sixth addition is still progressing with fairly good results. A depth of 115 feet has already been reached and the drill is going downward at the rate of several feet daily. Nothing definite is known regarding the depth to which it will be necessary to drill before striking water. The experiment is being conducted under the supervision of Engineer Corey, who came out from St. Paul for that purpose. A regular oil well drill is in use, and should the residents of that portion of the city hear a tremendous roar some night, they may conclude that the drill has struck either water, oil or gas.

Mysterious Disappearance.

John Rice, section foreman on the Southern Pacific for the section in which Milwaukie is situated has mysteriously disappeared and has not been seen for several days. His books were found all right and straight at his room, and no reason can be assigned for his disappearance. He was well known and well liked and had a good position. He was known to have about $200 on his person. Rice used to work on the Oregon Pacific.—Statesman.

On a Spree.

Three young men of this city while on a hilarious drunk yesterday got after James V. Tally, a quiet unassuming boy, who is a book agent. They tried to force him to drink with them, but he refused. They then took his canvassing book away from him and destroyed it and made all sorts of threats. One of them had a club, and in brandishing it along one of them had his hand severely cut. They were arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct. One of them paid his fine of $5. The other two were incarcerated in the city jail. They subsequently paid their fines, however, and were released. It is the month is reported their names will be published, which are only withheld this time on account of the respectability of their parents.

Linn County Coal.

About 400 pounds of coal was brought to this city yesterday by Powell & Co. who are opening a coal mine on the Santiam above Lyons. Samples taken out at 21, 40 and 107 feet respectively, in the tunnel showed that they have found a good body of fine coal. It promises to result in a valuable acquisition to the resources of this portion of the state.

PACIFIC COAST WHEAT EXPORTS.

The Advantage That Will Be Derived From the Portland-Japan Line.

The San Francisco Call hopes that the wheat export from the Pacific coast of the United States to Asia will so increase that it will deliver the farmers of that part of the country from their dependence upon the Liverpool wheat market. At present the price of wheat in California, Oregon and Washington is determined by the price in the Liverpool market. California and other West coast wheat comes in competition with the wheat of the Mississippi valley and it is difficult to make much by growing it. It is estimated that the West coast produces on an average 1,000,000 tons of wheat annually available for the European market. If all the wheat should find a sale in the markets of Japan and other Asiatic countries it would make a great difference in the amount sent by this country to Europe. This subject acquires special interest just now from the fact that a steamer will sail in a few days from Portland, Oregon, for Japan, it being the first of a line of such steamers to be established between Portland and Japan. The business of the Portland line will consist largely of the transportation of flour and wheat to Asia, and it is thought that it is a trade which is susceptible of great development."
